GERMAN REVOLUTION IS SPREADING

Armistice Dispatch Was Made Public From Admiral Wilson's Office In Brest And Cabled Here

(By The United Press)

Paris—1:36 P. M.—The German delegates arrived at Marshal Foch's headquarters and it is reported positively that they have asked for armistice. The text of the Allies' conditions were read aloud and then handed to the delegates. The latter asked for the immediate suspension of arms which was refused. The Germans it is stated have seventy-two hours in which to make a reply.

Brest, France—Rear Admiral Wilson of the United States Navy, commander of the American forces in French waters made the following statement for the United Press:

"The statement of the United Press relative to the signing of armistice was made public from my office on a basis of what appeared to be official authoritative information.

"I am in a position to know that the United Press and its representative acted in perfect good faith and that the premature announcement was the result of an error for which in no wise was the United Press responsible."

New York—Yesterday's announcement of the signing of the armistice between Germany and the Allies was made public by Admiral Wilson at Brest and filed with the United Press with the Admiral's approval. This information was received by the United Press in a cablegram from Roy W. Howard shortly before noon. At the same time another message from Roy Howard was delivered stating that Admiral Wilson made the announcement at Brest at four o'clock p. m. French time but later he notified it was not confirmable. This later message filed by Howard did not show in form in which was delivered, whether sent yesterday or how long it was held up.

Howard's cablegram clearly showed that Admiral Wilson acted in good faith stating that he supposed the announcement was official therefore gave his approval to the filing of the message by the United Press in New York.

Paris, Nov. 7th, 10 p. m.—A white flag tonight was spread across the Douve map which heretofore has been showing the daily advance by the movement of flags. Cheering crowds gathered in front of the newspaper offices and automobile lights and street lamps were bodily shown.

Paris, 8:50 a. m.—Parliamentarians headed by Mathias Erzberger were at General Foch's headquarters late last night.

WHOLE GERMAN NAVY IS NOW IN HANDS OF RED FLAGGERS

(By The United Press)

The German revolution has spread into Mecklenburg, Schwerin and East Prussia. The revolution is spreading across practically the whole northern portion of the empire. It is said that the cities of Schwerin, Mecklenburg, Hwehwerin and Teter and one of the principal cities of East Prussia had joined in the revolt. The revolutionists are reported to have seized Sonerburg thirteen miles northeast of Flensburg. The railway between the latter city and Kiel is said to have been destroyed. The newspaper Politiken says, it has no doubt that the majority in the Reichstag will demand the Kaiser's abdication which may be expected today or tomorrow. The whole German navy is now said to be in the hands of red flaggers. The progress of the revolution it is declared is comparatively peaceful.

ELECTION TUESDAY WAS UNUSUAL SAYS DEM. COUNTY CH'M EVERETT

S. J. Everett, the chairman of the Pitt county Democratic executive committee, was asked for an expression this morning on Tuesday's election and what he has to say is interesting indeed and should be read with interest. Mr. Everett says: "When we think of the absorbing interest of the war and the campaign for Liberty Loan and United War Work combined with the epidemic, the election Tuesday was most unusual. It was very quiet and almost entirely one way. There was an excellent vote considering the handicap of no campaigning, that is public speaking, and the delicate situation in discussing local and national issues when we were entirely absorbed in international affairs. The vote was entirely of a volunteer nature, no pressure and no influence was brought to bear, no excitement and no local issues, and so far as any one knew no money was expended in advertising conveyances and little for advertising."

and complained that we had more schools now than the children could attend. In Pactolus township not a single vote was cast against the amendments. It is the square traits of Pitt county Democrats that although they had a bitter contest in the primary when they face the enemy, the Republicans, in the General November Election, there is no dissension and they stand true to their pledge to support the party regardless of their own personal fortune. Wherever we have an active party organization in the townships you will find a proportionately large Democratic vote with the exception of Bethel township where they have an active organization but are faced with the strongest of the Republican organizations in the county in addition to the help of a personal visit from the Republican candidate for Senate who spent some time in that section. The working of the executive committee was made easy by the activity of the nominees of the party with the cooperation of the local machinery. The novel feature of the election was the absentee vote. About four hundred of these votes were cast in this county, three-fourths of which were soldier votes, and all of them except three were Democratic. These three were prepared and filed before leaving home and therefore under local influence. The boys in France are fighting for a world wide democracy and they feel that the administration is its greatest active agency. Only three states in the Union have provided for absent voting, and our state is one of them. Southern Democrats have felt party responsibility, that the South was the source of strength for the party and they have carried their burden across, especially in this true in North Carolina where we have National leaders. While it appears that Congress will be Republican, and it is unfortunate that the President could not have a Congress of his own party during his administration but public sentiment has to be in motion and it is ominous of a National Democratic victory in 1920.

"Oh! Baby" Here Tonight Also On Tomorrow

The attraction at White's Theatre this evening will be "Oh! Baby" and judging by the advance sale of seats a capacity house will greet this popular company. This is their first appearance in Greenville. The press wherever it has shown has not failed to commend it most highly.

The management has been prevailed upon to remain over in Greenville tomorrow and tomorrow night and they have kindly consented. Mr. Marcus, the owner of this high class show promises quite an attractive bill for both matinee tomorrow afternoon and tomorrow night. The company on tomorrow afternoon and tomorrow night will present a double bill, "Pretty Butterfly" and "Charming Widow." The Fashion show will be given especially for the ladies. This stunt will give the ladies of Greenville some conception of dame fashion for the season. Latest designs will be seen on live models. The admission to the matinee tomorrow afternoon will be gentlemen 75 cents, ladies 50 cents and children 25 cents to all parts of the house. Be sure and see "Oh! Baby" tonight and "Pretty Butterfly" tomorrow afternoon and tomorrow night. You will miss something if you don't. See half page announcement elsewhere in this issue.

United Press Gives Out A Statement

(By United Press.)

New York—In view of the British and French official statements showing continued fighting on the Western front the United Press has issued the following statement from its general office here.

Our cablegram received from Paris at noon yesterday was signed by Roy W. Howard president of the United Press and William P. Simms, manager of the Paris Bureau. The reported signing by the Allies and Germany of the armistice was written in plain English and not susceptible to any misconstruction as received at this office. No censor could have any doubt as to its plain meaning. After the receipt of the second message reporting the celebration in Brest we received no further word from Mr. Howard or Mr. Simms although messages were dispatched to them as early as 1 p. m. yesterday. It is absolutely inconceivable that Howard did not file further dispatches. Our only possible conclusion is the remainder of his messages were held up by the censor.

Investigation of the matter is now proceeding and we expect it to be cleared up within a short time.

City Schools Will Re-Open On Next Monday

After having been closed for five weeks on account of the epidemic of Spanish Influenza the Greenville Public Schools will re-open next Monday. The schools had just gotten well organized for what appeared to be the beginning of a most successful session when the closing order came. Everybody recognizes that the long period of closing was a thing entirely beyond the control of any one and that it was the only thing to do in keeping with the welfare of the public health. The strong efforts for a good school year will all be doubled when the session is resumed next Monday and it is likely that when the year ends the unfortunate effects of the long closing period will largely have disappeared.

The strictest sort of caution suggested by the County Board of Health will be observed by all teachers to prevent any new outbreak of the Influenza in the Schools. Whenever any symptoms of sickness are shown by the pupils they will be sent home immediately and the parents will of course appreciate the spirit in which such action is taken and will co-operate to the fullest extent. There are no overcrowded conditions and all the rooms in the school buildings are well ventilated and it is believed that if ordinary precaution is taken both the education and health of the pupils may be thoroughly safe-guarded.

FOR SALE—17 ACRES LAND ADJOINING town of Greenville, T. R. Moore. 11-2-1mp

Should the war end today, the need for welfare work in Europe would be all the more patent. It would require at least eighteen months to get the boys back home, and then again the period of policing Europe may be prolonged for even longer than a year and a half. When activities cease over there the work of the welfare organizations will be largely increased, and the task of caring for the boys when the excitement of war has disappeared will be greater than while they are engaged and keyed up to the point of forgetting their own comforts. Help by contributing to the United War-Work Fund.

Three American Airmen Arrive In London After Escaping From Germany

(By The United Press)

Rome, Nov. 7th, 1:55 p. m.—On the West front the Italian second army has been participating in the offensive since November fourth the war office announces.

Rome—Italian troops have landed at Pola on the Austrian peninsula it is officially announced. King Victor Emmanuel has promoted General Diaz, commander in chief of the Italian armies to a full general and Admiral Direval to admiral of the fleet.

London, 11:30 a. m.—There was sharp fighting yesterday evening in the neighborhood of Ecalibes and Limon Fountain south of Hautmont according to dispatches just received from Field Marshal Haig. These villages were captured together with a number of prisoners. Our advance extended south of Mons Monde canal.

Paris—Our progress was renewed this morning the French war office announces. Our advanced elements reached Liart thirty kilometers north of Rethel. Further on the right we had taken Fresnois this morning before daylight and had penetrated the outskirts of Sedan. Prisoners yesterday number over fifteen hundred and the material captured was considerably increased.

London—Three American aviators have arrived here after having escaped from Germany. They made their way to Holland after a thrilling twenty-four day hike through occupied Belgium. The men tramped at night and slept in the day time except when they were in Brussels.

UNITED WAR WORK CAMPAIGN PLANS STILL BEING PUSHED

County headquarters of the United War Work Campaign in Pitt County is going ahead with the plans for next week's drive with renewed vigor in the light of the peace rumors that are afloat. They claim that there is all the more need now for immediate action to make absolutely sure that the seven organizations working for the comfort and happiness of the boys are not hampered for lack of funds in the testing time that is sure to come when peace is actually declared. Mr. Theodore Patrick, of the state headquarters at Durham, is spending the day in the city. When interviewed on the situation, Mr. Patrick said: "Whether peace comes today or next summer, the work of the seven organizations in the drive for funds will go forward. The outstanding feature of the war work of the army Y. M. C. A. and allied organizations has been the building up of the morale of our troops. The fact that we have the best army that has ever fought under any flag is due in a large measure to the splendid ministry of these organizations which have taught and demonstrated the moral and spiritual values of the war. If peace is at hand there will of necessity be a period of two years and more when our armies will have to do police work in Europe and finish their work of demobilization. This will be a time when men will be subjected to temptations and to influences which are negligible during the war. It will be a time when our men will need more than the ministry of the organizations in the United War Work Campaign.

"We have builded well in these few months which have been given over to preparation and to actual fighting. We must at all hazards preserve the moral and spiritual fruits of our victory. I hope that every man and woman in Pitt County will contribute liberally and sacrificially to this campaign. Let this be a great thanksgiving service for the boys who have been fighting and won the victory for us."

Be Patriotic And Prove It By Doing Your Bit

Are you patriotic?
Are you giving anything for your country? Mind you, giving, not lending?
Are you unselfishly investing where it will not return to you but will pass out and help others.
Are you willing for others to give their lives for you while you enjoy all of your comforts, and sit back counting the income you will have in your comfortable old age?
Are you truly patriotic if you give only what will return to you?
Are you not willing to give completely, generously, and unstintingly of your money so that others, your boys, your friends and the boys of your friends, may have some comforts?

Are you not ready to put this money into the hands that will carry it to the boys?
The United War Work Campaign gives you the opportunity to prove your patriotism.
