PEACE TERMS IS SURPRISE TO VIENNA; RENNER MINISTRY MAY FALL BELIEF

SENATE THINKS PINT EVERY TEN DAYS IS NOT ENOUGH FOR TAPERING OFF IN HOSPITALS

(By The Associated Press)

Washington.—With Senator Simmons taking the negative, the senate debated yesterday whether a pint of liquor every 10 days is sufficient to taper off on when a fellow is under treatment after a spree. The North Carolina senator, of course, did not speak from personal experience. Nevertheless he asserted that he was advised by a constituent who conducts a whiskey cure sanatorium that a patient cannot be sobered on so small an allowance. The senate finally amended the pending prohibition enforcement bill by striking out the pint limitation. Senator Knute Nelson of Minnesota, chairman of the judiciary committee, said he believed a pint every 10 days was a sufficient allowance. Senator Simmons contended that a man could not be cured of the liquor habit unless he could get more than a pint for "tapering off" purposes in sanitariums treating alcoholism. Senator Simmons said he had received a protest from the superintendent of an established whiskey cure institution in North Carolina pointing out that the proposed portion of a "pint every 10 days" would not do.

London. (Correspondence of The Associated Press)—Twenty passengers and a small cargo are to be carried on the first airship from Barrow in Furlness to Rio de Janeiro some time this fall, according to an announcement here. Owners of the aerial leviathan intend if the initial voyage is successful, to maintain a regular four day service between the two points. Sir Woodman Burbidge, is reported to have booked three berths for the flight—for himself, his wife and a friend. The price of these tickets was $5,000 each. The airship is known as the R 80. It has a gas bag capacity of 1,250,000 cubic feet, more than half the size of the famous R 34. She is considered the most perfectly constructed streamline type of airship and has a speed of sixty miles per hour. She is 535 feet in length. Passengers' living quarters are situated on top of the hull and consist of cabins of sleep berths, a roof garden and a shelter deck. There is an observation car below the hull which is connected with the living quarters by means of a passenger lift through the middle of the craft.

ADMISSION TO ITALIAN SHOE STORE NOW DIFFICULT TASK

Florence, Italy (Correspondence of The Associated Press)—If Dante Alighieri lived in Florence today he might be inspired to write another "Inferno" with shoe stores as the prime cause of evil. Nothing has been so evident during these post-war days as the need of Italians for footwear. The recent public demonstrations backed by the Camera del Lavoro, or "chamber of labor," bear stocks of goods of all descriptions in the hands of profiteers in many cities were commandeered and ordered sold at reduced prices, precipitated unusual commotions of trade but the wildest scramble were in the shoe stores. Here the demand for shoes produced scenes of the wildest disorder. In Rome, Milan, Focile, Bologna and Naples the search for shoes continued many days. The struggles in each city were so great that few law abiding persons tried to procure shoes. There appeared to be no pretext for fitting anyone. Shoes were handed out in boyes and the buyers took them seemingly not caring whether they fitted or not just so they were on the basis of a fifty per cent reduction in price. It was a common sight to see a man loaded up with shoes for his entire family. To obtain admission to a shoe store was fully as difficult as buying a ticket for a world series baseball game. For hours, the shoe hunters would wait in long lines guarded by soldiers and before they were finally admitted into the storerooms. Shoe merchants fixed two hours in the morning and two hours in the afternoon for the opening of their stores but the long line was waiting for shoes several hours before the scheduled time arrived.

ACCOUNT OF GERMANY'S NEW NAVY GIVEN IN PERIODICAL

With the American Forces in Germany (Correspondence of The Associated Press)—An account of Germany's new "navy" is given in Mtschiffs, a German naval periodical, a recent issue of which has reached American headquarters, describes the Iron torpedo flotillas both of which have been organized since the armistice. The Iron flotilla consists of twelve torpedo boats, which have been engaged in maintaining order on the western coast of Germany, says the paper. Some of the vessels have been used on several occasions for policing the port of Hamburg, such as guarding allied food shipments to the Czechoslovaks and similar work; during periods of disorder. The flotilla has its headquarters at Wilhelmshaven. A landing corps of about 380 men is distributed among the twelve boats, such of which has a platoon of thirty commanded by a naval lieutenant. The clothing and arms of members of this landing corps are the same as in the infantry. The Haff flotilla is supposed to be doing similar duty on the Baltic coast near the Russian boundary, with headquarters in Koenigsberg. The flotilla has been handicapped recently by delay in obtaining needed equipment to put the vessels in commission. The boats are armed with machine guns and in some cases with 3.7 centimeter guns as well. The flotilla was organized for operation in connection with the East Prussian Freiwilliche corps and was, until a few weeks ago, subject

To Erect Monument to Inventor of the Sewing Machine

Lyons, France (Correspondence of The Associated Press)—A monument is to be erected here soon in honor of Bartholomew Thimonnier, whom the French claim was the inventor of the sewing machine.

Thimonnier, a tailor's assistant, constructed his first working model in 1820, and was thrashed by his fellow workmen who complained that his "devilish invention" would take the bread out of their mouths. Destitute and forgotten, Thimonnier died in 1867, when 64 years old. No one had ever given him any aid or encouragement. The device of Thimonnier was said to have been quite different from that of Elias Howe, the American inventor, whose sewing machine was patented in 1846 and who is regarded in America as the originator of the first practical apparatus for mechanical stitching. Howe's machine met with similar opposition. Its chief feature was that of having the thread pass through near the point instead of the top of the needle.
