Disciples Approve Plan For World Disarmament; Resolution To Be Drawn

MISSION SOCIETIES NAME HEADS DURING AFTERNOON SESSION

Mrs. Richard Bagby, of Washington, New Head of Mission Societies.

WORKERS SPEAK Head of Mission Workers and Worker in Paraguay Make Speeches.

The annual state convention of the Disciples of Christ now in session at the Eighth Street Christian church, this city, increased in interest yesterday. For an hour, beginning at 8:30 o'clock, Rev. E. B. Quick, of Atlanta, conducted a conference on various phases of church work, and read addresses on "Mid-Week Services," Rev. J. E. Stuart; "Evangelism," Rev. J. A. Taylor; "Unified Morning Service," Rev. W. C. Foster, and "Music in the Church," Rev. J. M. Perry, were given, each being dismissed from the floor.

The regular session began at 9:30 o'clock with a devotional service conducted by Rev. J. T. Saunders. A symposium on the standard of efficiency of the Bible school was conducted by Rev. E. B. Quick, Southeastern Bible school superintendent. After an able address he introduced speakers who addressed the convention on the following topics: "Cradle, Home and Home Department," Mrs. McAuley, of Norfolk, Va.; "Teacher Training," Mrs. Weeks, of Tarboro; "Departmental Organization and Graded Lessons," Rev. O. E. Fox, of Farmville; "Temperance Instruction," Rev. G. H. Sullivan, of Richmond; "Workers Conference," Rev. Claude C. Jones, Greensboro; "Convention Institute and Schools of Methods," Rev. J. J. Langston, of Dunn.

Rev. C. Manly Morton, a North Carolina but now a missionary to Paraguay, was then introduced and delivered a stirring address, depicting many of the conditions confronting the missionary worker in a South American country. He was followed by Dr. A. B. Abbott, editor of the Christian Evangelist, of St. Louis, who spoke on "World Disarmament." He expressed his strong conviction that eventually the United States will be a member of the league of nations, declaring that the league is by no means dead, as it has already prevented two wars and is active now in preventing others.

The convention voted unanimously, sending to Washington a resolution in favor of world disarmament, and Rev. Richard Bagby, of Washington, an ex-chaplain who served in France, gave a feeling prayer for world peace.

The closing period of the session was devoted to Christian Endeavor work. It was in charge of H. G. Baxton, of Kinston, who spoke earnestly of the benefit of Christian Endeavor. Many fine reports were made from representatives of the various churches of the state.

The afternoon session was devoted to the work of the Women's Missionary societies. Mrs. Richard Bagby of Washington, made a graceful presiding officer and fine address before delivered by Mrs. W. J. Sheburne on "The Woman's Missionary Society and Its Relation to the Local Church"; Miss Etta Lee Camrill on "Value of Circle Work"; Mr. W. T. Moseley, of "Training Our Boys and Girls in Christian Service" and Mrs. Anna Atwater, of St. Louis. A beautiful little mission play was acted by four little girls from Kinston and a "triangle play" was given by a company of young people from the Farmville Christian church, members of the Farmville Triangle club. It was beautiful and impressive and brought a wholesome lesson of service to the audience.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. Richard Bagby; vice president, Mrs. Fred Taylor; second vice president, Mrs. H. D. Granger; recording secretary, Mrs. Perry Case; treasurer, Mrs. J. W. Then-Gvshrd cmfwpp p p Mrs. J. R. Hardy; superintendents, boys' and girls' work, Miss Myrtle Hartney; advisory board members, Mrs. Claude Kiser, Mrs. W. T. Cox, Mrs. McKay and Mrs. Winstead. KIWANIS CLUB IS TO GO TO TARBORO

Members of the Greenville Kiwanis club have received a cordial reception to attend, in a body and accompanied by their wives, the charter presentation exercises of the Tarboro Kiwanis club, which takes place Thursday evening. It is expected that a large percentage of the membership of the local club will accept the invitation and go to Tarboro for the festivities.

high place in the estimation of the workers in North Carolina. She has traveled and lectured and written letters and by her indefatigable labors and devoted Christian character accomplished great things.

The evening program was exceptionally fine. After a brief song service led by J. M. Perry, of Robersonville, and a devotional service conducted by Rev. W. O. Winfield, of Bath, the large congregation which taxed the capacity of the building, listened to stirring addresses by two of the outstanding leaders of the church. One was given by Mrs. Anna Atwater, of St. Louis, one of the ablest speakers of the Disciples and vice president of the United Christian Missionary society. She has just concluded an extensive tour, visiting mission stations in South America. Her address was a eloquent presentation of the work of the church is attempting to do throughout the world.

The other speaker of the evening was Rev. C. Manly Morton. He was educated in Atlantic Christian college, at Wilson, and in the College of Missions at Indianapolis. For some years he has been a missionary in Paraguay and is now home on furlough. He is an eloquent speaker and his address was of a high order from any standpoint.

The convention will close this evening, and the program for the final day is as follows: Conference of church activities conducted by Rev. E. B. Quick at 8:30 a. m. with the following topics presented briefly: "Definite Decision for Christ," Rev. W. J. Sheburne, Ayden; "Building and Equipment," Rev. MAYOR CALLS FOR FULL OBSERVANCE OF ARMISTICE DAY

In Proclamation Issued Tuesday, Mayor D. M. Clark Calls For Holiday.

TO CEASE LABORS

Banks, Warehouses, Postoffice and Stores Are to Take Day Off.

The proclamations of President Warren G. Harding and Governor Cameron Morrison, setting aside next Friday, November 11, Armistice day, as a legal holiday in nation and state, was followed yesterday with a similar pronouncement from Mayor D. M. Clark, of Greenville, calling upon the people of this city to fully and completely observe the day.

That it will be a general holiday is now assured. Tobacco warehouses will hold no sales, banks and many places of business will be closed, and the postoffice will observe a holiday, rural carriers not serving their routes while city carriers will make the morning delivery and collection but none during the afternoon. The money order division will transact no business and the general delivery and parcel windows will be open from 11:30 a. m. to 1 p. m. during which time persons wanting their daily newspapers may call at the window. All dispatches of mail will be made as usual that day, it was announced by the postmaster yesterday.

Plans are rapidly being perfected for the observance of Armistice day in city and county and it is now regarded as assured that the occasion will be a momentous one. The proclamation of Mayor Clark, issued yesterday, follows: "Whereas, next Friday, November 11, 1921, marks the third mile post of time since American patriotism, valor and heroism, fighting for the principles and ideals of democracy, brought to a successful termination the greatest conflict the world has ever known:

"And whereas, the self sacrifice and unselfish devotion to a world wide cause, has immortalized the American soldier both at home and abroad.

"And whereas, the whole nation did sacrifice and serve, that the victory might be made possible, and did keep the home fires burning, for the absent ones.

"And whereas, the Anniversary of the day when the last gun was fired on the battle fields of France, has been called Armistice day, which we observe and revere in honor of the gallant victors, and in memory of the noble host who sleep where they fell on the fields of honor and glory.

"Now therefore, I, D. M. Clark, mayor of the town of Greenville, N. C., do hereby proclaim and declare Friday, November 11, 1921 a legal holiday for the town of Greenville, N. C., and commend to our people a day of observance of the day, commensurate, and in keeping with the glory of the occasion. Therefore, let us lay aside the cares and labors of others days, and as worthy and grateful citizens of this great republic, return thanks to the Prince of Peace for the blessings our nation enjoys. And in the spirit of pride and gratitude, let us enter into the festivities of the occasion, to the end that those who sacrificed and served, may know that we love, reverence, respect and appreciate in the spirit of the Fatherhood of God, and the Brotherhood of man.

"Done in the town of Greenville, this 8th day of November, 1921. "D. M. CLARK."

Maybe They Know.

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 8.—Godcher college seniors have just contravened to their own satisfaction, the charge made by speakers at the recent eugenist convention in New York that the American college girl is a slacker—that she is unwilling to marry unless she can have many comforts and luxuries.

A referendum vote taken among the 103 seniors showed that they were of the opinion that a couple could marry safely and live in a city on an income of $48 weekly.

Regulate Grain Sales.

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—Regulation of grain exchanges as provided in the Capper-Tincher law going into effect Dec. 4 is attacked in a suit set for argument before Judge K. M. Landis today. The bill questioning the constitutionality of the future trading act was filed by John Hill, Jr., a member of the Chicago Board of Trade, on Oct. 25, and it is the first suit to test the law.

LIMITATION EASY

KIURO SHIDEHARA

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., Nov. 8.—Whatever the problems of the armament conference, an agreement for limitation of naval armament ought to be a "comparatively simple matter," says Ambassador Shidehara of Japan, one of that country's delegates, writing in the current issue of the Harvard Crimson.

The ambassador bases his statement on the conclusion that the war left only three great naval powers each on a different continent and with "none of the real interests of one conflicting vitally with the others."

At the same time the ambassador takes opportunity to outline Japan's case at the arms conference, her relation to China and the far Eastern situation, as well as her place in the world.

STAGE BEING SET FOR ARMS HEARING

Senate Adopts Measure Asking that Parley Be Made Public at Certain Times.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—(By Associated Press)—The final interim of stage-dressing for the armament conference was ushered in today by developments which for the first time concentrated on the great diplomatic drama the alert attention of every attention of official Washington and its distinguished guests.

Even the senate took a hand in the last minute's preparations by adopting with the tact acquiescence of Republican leaders a resolution presented from the Democratic side of the chamber requesting that the doors of the conference room be opened whenever the full body of delegates were in session, and that a record be kept of everything transpiring during the negotiations.

Admiral Baron Kato, head of the Japanese delegation, and naval minister of the Japanese government had made himself the center of attention by a statement asserting that his nation was willing in the interest of a successful conference to go the length of reducing her "eight" naval building program if a satisfactory proposal could be reached.

Meantime Premier Briand of France confining his public statement to a general renewal of the nation's oneness to meet everybody half way in the effort to reduce armaments, paid a round of official calls.

FRED MORRIS OUT OF TAR HEEL LINE-UP; COLLAR BROKEN

CHAPEL HILL, Nov. 8.—One of Carolina's backs, Fred Morris, is out of football for the rest of the season with a broken collar bone. The accident occurred in the last five minutes of the V. M. I. game in Richmond on Saturday. With his arm in a sling, Morris is attending his classes and going about the campus as usual, but henceforth he can figure at football game as a spectator only.

Of course the outcome of the outcome of the V. M. I. game, in which Carolina astonished the big Richmond crowd by the ease with which it gained ground against the "flying cadets," has made the students more confident than ever of success in the two remaining games, the one with Davidson at Winston-Salem next Saturday and the one with Virginia in Chapel Hill Thanksgiving day.

McDonald, Edwards, or Pharr will replace F. Morris in the backfield, if the substitutes at Richmond may be taken as a guide.

Extend Tariff Measure.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—The senate today passed the house bill extending the emergency tariff but amended so as to continue in effect until superceded by the permanent bill instead of expiring February 1. All provisions of the temporary law, passed originally May 27, including the dye embargo, were retained in the measure.

Curran. The vote in 1,319 election districts was Hylan, 349,657; Curran, 152,923, and Panken, Socialist, 42,929. It was also conceded by their opponents that the Democrats had made a clean sweep of the other important municipal offices. All of the anti-Volsteadite newspapers, including the World and Tribune, concede his election.

"Wet" Candidate Wins.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 8.—Frank I. Schwab, Republican, running on a platform declaring for amendment of the Volstead act to permit the sale of beer and light wines, was elected mayor of Buffalo today by a majority of 2,563 over Mayor George F. Buck, also a Republican.

LANE IS BURIED, EAKES IMPROVING

One Victim of Monday's Automobile Crash Here Buried; Other May Recover.

Funeral services over the remains of M. L. Lane, killed in the accident at the Twelfth street crossing shortly after noon Monday, when the car in which he and Peter Eakes were traveling was struck by a shifting A. C. L. freight train, were conducted at Small yesterday afternoon at about the same time as reports were received from Kinston that Peter Eakes, regarded at first as having been fatally injured, was reported to be considerably improved.

Services at Small were conducted by Rev. W. P. Shamhart, pastor of the Eighth Street Christian church, this city, who was accompanied to the place of burial by W. T. Phelps. The deceased is survived by a wife and four children in addition to his parents and a sister.

It is regarded as in the nature of a miracle that Eakes escaped fatal injuries, as it appeared that he received more of the effects of the crushing blow of the freight car against the automobile than Lane, although the latter met instant death. For some few hours after the accident Eakes was regarded as being in dying convulsions, but he rallied and stood the ordeal of being removed to the Patrott hospital at Kinston where, late yesterday, he was reported to be doing nicely with considerably improved chances of recovery.

SELLS AYDEN LOT AND OBEYS ORDER

Dr. J. W. Taylor, Greensboro, Sells Property to Pay Wife $200 Monthly.

The sensational case originating in Greensboro several months ago when Dr. J. W. Taylor, prominent optometrist, was charged with immoral conduct and an assault on his wife, Kizzie Lee Taylor, and their 20-year-old daughter, resulting in his being sentenced to serve terms aggregating two years on Guilford county roads and being ordered to pay $200 monthly to his wife and $500 to her attorney, was reflected in Pitt county yesterday when a deed was filed at the office of Register Gaskins.

Under the terms of the court order, signed by Judge James L. Webb, the optometrist, rather well known in this part of the state, was forced to sell certain real estate he owned, consisting of two lots in the city of Greensboro and one in Ayden, to pay $200 monthly and the $500 attorneys fees. The deed filed in Greenville yesterday transferred title to a lot 15 by 140 feet, or half interest in a 30 by 140 foot lot, from Dr. Taylor to Thomas C. Hoyle, Greensboro attorney, who is trustee named by the court to receive and sell the property and carry out the decision of Judge Webb.

Dr. Taylor was convicted in Greensboro municipal court of assaulting his wife and daughter when the remonstrated over his alleged immoral conduct in the Taylor home with the wife of another man and his office clerk. Later formal charges of immoral relations between Dr. Taylor and the clerk, a Miss Saunders, was made and both were convicted of this charge. The case created a marked sensation in Greensboro and aroused interest throughout the state.

One or two charges are yet pending in the higher court against the optometrist.

PRARIE DOG AND INDIAN UNEARTH ANCIENT HALLS

Zuni, N. M., Nov. 8.—To a prairie dog and a Zuni Indian belongs the credit for discovery of two ancient kivas or ceremonial chambers of prehistoric Indian life in Western New Mexico. Valuable relics were recovered which it is believed may throw additional light on earliest civilization in this country. The find was made while Frank W. Hodge, an archeologist of New York, and a Zuni Indian were making excavations at the old abandoned village of Hawiku in Southwestern McKinley county. The Indian noticed human bones in the loose dirt around the freshly dug habitat of a prairie dog. Pursuing the dog's underground course with a shovel he came to the remains of the skeleton an dthen a fine piece of prehistoric masonry which led him into the kivas.

NEGRO JAILED ON UNUSUAL CHARGE

Demanding Service in Eating Establishments for Whites; May Be Unbalanced

D. M. Moore, Elizabeth City negro, is a prisoner in the city jail as a result of his visiting eating establishments here yesterday and demanding that he be served with food. The first place visited was the Kitlow cafeteria where, upon showing the credentials of a disabled soldier, he was told that he would be served in the kitchen. This was not satisfactory to the negro, who demanded that food be served him in the dining room for white people and, upon continued refusal, he is said to have asked for names, promising that proprietors and employes would hear more from him.

A short while later, according to Chief Lester Jones, the negro went into the Greenville cafe and demanded service. The commotion resulted in the negro's arrest under a tentative charge of disorderly conduct. Whether this will hold, or a charge of trespass can be sustained, was regarded as doubtful last night.

The negro came to the city with papers usually given disabled ex-service men to aid them in claims for adjusted compensation. Whether he is or his mental balance could not be determined last night, although some few believed he was.

The women employes at the cafeteria were on duty when the negro demanded service, but they steadfastly refused to supply him with food in any part of the establishment other than the kitchen, and there because of the papers he bore attesting to his former service in the army.
