TUESDAY, AUGUST 29, 1916.

The country is now face to face with the practical certainty of a disastrous railroad strike which threatens to cripple every industry on the continent and bring untold inconvenience to everybody. Should the strike continue indefinitely, much suffering is bound to be one of its results. Today it looks as if the strike is sure to come and we all might as well begin governing our actions and making our plans accordingly, without wasting very much valuable time in discussing the merits and demerits of the points at issue between the railroads and their employees. In the event of a prolonged strike disaster will certainly come to many innocent persons, and public sentiment will eventually place the responsibility where it belongs.

Woodrow Wilson has had to deal with more critical situations than any other president who has ever occupied the White House with possibly the single exception of Abraham Lincoln, and he has handled each and all of them with superb skill and great wisdom. But the grave issues which have now arisen between the railroads and their employees may prove too much for him as they would for any other man in his position. If the disastrous strike comes, which now seems more than probable, the fault cannot be laid to President Wilson, for he has done everything in his power to avert it and will continue to do so until the last hour.

There has probably not been a time in the history of the Henderson tobacco market when there was more preparation on the part of local warehousemen, buyers and all concerned for an auspicious opening and a big season from beginning to end as has been the case this time. With what is generally conceded to be at least an average size crop, if not better, and the prospects of good prices on all grades of tobacco, a feeling of optimism pervades the entire community. There is the general belief that prices are going to be much better this year than they were last, and they may be better than in several years past.

Although the war has been in progress more than two years, the nations of Europe have this week been declaring war on one another just as if it were in its beginning. Italy led off by declaring war on Germany. Then Roumania took its long expected tumble by declaring war on Austria-Hungary, and Germany answered by a declaration of war on Roumania. There may have been other declarations of war during the week so far which escaped our notice. These events have again thrown Greece into a state of perturbation, and that country may yet be drawn into the whirlpool.

For a genuine gully washer, trash mover and toad strangler, the downpour of rain which came along late yesterday afternoon has rarely been equalled in Henderson. It was the next thing to a cloud-burst, and for a period of some ten or fifteen minutes the rain descended almost in sheets. Not within the past five years have the streets suffered so much from washing.

Hall Storm at Louisburg.
Louisburg, Aug. 29.—Louisburg and vicinity for a mile or more around was visited Sunday afternoon by a terrific hail, wind, rain and electric storm. Growing crops were almost totally destroyed. The cotton and corn of S. S. Meadows, about a mile from town, was completely riddled, and for hours after the storm there were great drifts of hail stones in places. Two of the giant oaks in the college campus were uprooted. The storm was fast and furious, lasting only about 20 minutes, creating great excitement. The stones were as large as partridge eggs. The storm seems to have been limited in extent to Louisburg and immediate environs.

Miss Aileen Patton, of Greensboro, is visiting Mrs. A. T. Banks.

JUDGE F. D. WINSTON'S DEMOCRACY

Letter from J. H. Matthews, Democratic Nomininee for House in Bertie County.

Windsor, N. C., August 29, 1916.

In order to give your readers some idea of the work and labor that Francis D. Winston has done for the Democratic Party in the last 26 years, I will simply point to his record as a Democrat:

1890—Canvassed Bertie County and his Congressional District for the Democratic Party.

1892—Member Democratic Judicial Committee and canvassed the District.

1894—Member Democratic Congressional District Committee and State Democratic Executive Committee and canvassed the district and other districts. Was member of both these committees many years.

1896—Canvassed the State and was nominated as Democratic District Elector and canvassed both the District and a large part of the State.

1898—State Organizer of White Supremacy Leagues and Democratic Club. Canvassed the State. Organized Democratic Clubs and Leagues in every county in the State. Democrat elected to Legislature in Bertie county.

1900—Elected to Legislature Democrat, in Bertie and organizer of Democratic Clubs. Canvassed the State. President State Organization of Democratic Clubs.

1901—Appointed by Governor Aycock Judge of the Superior Court and served until the end of his term.

1902—Canvassed the State for Democratic ticket by Democratic Party.

1904—Nominated for Lieutenant Governor securing nearly a unanimous nomination. Canvassed the whole State.

1908—Canvassed the State for Democratic Party.

1910—Again canvassed the State. 1912—President Democratic State Convention. Unanimously nominated as Democratic Presidential elector at large and canvassed the State.

1913—Appointed United States Attorney by President Wilson.

1916—Appointed Superior Court Judge by Governor Craig.

He was for fifteen years a member of the State Democratic Committee and assisted in preparation of Democratic "Hand Books." He never accepted a penny for his services and never allowed the party to pay a cent of his expenses and he has always been one of the generous contributors to the Campaign funds. At the instance of the National Democratic Committee he has canvassed repeatedly, at his own expenses, in other States.

This is his record of services as a Democrat to the people of North Carolina.
