AMERICAN SOLDIERS ARE FRENCH IDOLS

Glowing Tribute Paid Yankee Troops By Editor Who Visited Them

Paris, Sept. 28.—Leon Daudet, son of Alphonse Daudet, and editor of the Action Francaise, recently visited some scenes of American activity behind the lines and his enthusiasm is unbounded.

"What cordial frankness they show," he writes of the American soldiers. "To the inhabitants they offer their bread, preserves and cigarettes with a charming gesture which seems to say 'Are we not brothers?' They are full of politeness to every woman, no matter what her age, and of kindness to every child."

"In a station, in the middle of the night, I saw some poor little kiddies, the family of refugees, sleeping on the floor. Two American officers passed. They stopped, looked, shook their heads, then without a word, threw over the youngsters their overcoats which they were carrying on their arms. They themselves sat down near by and waited for two hours in the cold air of the dawn."

"A French aviator, instructor at a flying school for Americans said to me, 'They are remarkable pupils, their docility and modesty are wonderful. They learn rapidly and retain everything, and their gratitude to their teachers is extreme. They burn to avenge the devastation of France.'"

After speaking of the American Red Cross hospital trains with the greatest admiration, Daudet concludes:

"To the French, to the English, still full of valor but exhausted by four years of terrible war, the Americans are bringing their fresh blood. The older fighters, seeing this glorious aid arrive, understanding its valor and vigor, have felt their forces revive. Hope, the certainty of victory, have bounded in a single leap to the marvellous level of the beginning, and by victory, I mean the definite crushing of accursed Germany. I do not know that the world has ever known a sight so grand or one that even resembles it."

FORCE IS ONLY THING TO USE, AIRMAN AVERS

Rene Fonck, French Airman With 60 Planes to His Credit, Has Killed 67 Crews.

(By the Associated Press.)
Paris, Sept. 28.—First Lieutenant Rene Fonck, of the French air service, is officially credited with the destruction of 60 enemy planes, although he has actually forced down 97 since his first flight, August 6, 1916. Fonck used one machine in shooting down fifty of the German airplanes.

"I have had the joy, the murderous joy, of having killed 67 crews," Fonck wrote recently, and I must confess that no nightmares disturb my sleep. The more I kill of these assassins the happier I shall be and the more convinced that I have worked not only for France but for humanity.

"The only thing to use with the Boche is force."

BASEBALL IS POPULAR AMONG MEXICAN PEOPLE

Leagues Organized in Mexico City and Other Big Cities, and Basketball is Played.

(By the Associated Press.)
Mexico City, Sept. 28.—Baseball is taking a strong hold on the popular fancy, especially in the capital, Vera Cruz, Tampico and other of the larger cities of Mexico. The opening of the schedule arranged for a league of eight clubs in Mexico City was made a social event and was attended by leaders of the capital's society. Basketball, especially among students, also is generally played.

SOLDIERS' CLUB HAS REAL YANKEE DESERT

Dublin, Sept. 28.—The "American Soldiers' Club" established here by the American Red Cross is probably the only place on this side of the water where real American doughnuts and ice cream are part of the bill-of-fare.

The club is located in the center of the city, on King street, and is open daily from noon until 10 o'clock at night. American women are constantly in attendance and there is an information bureau, competently staffed.

The club is in charge of a committee headed by the Countess of Granard.

AIRMAN KILLED IN FALL AT COLUMBIA

Planes Were Manoeuvring Over South Carolina Capital City During Loan Parade.

Columbia, S. C., Sept. 28.—One aviator was killed, an observer seriously injured and another slightly injured when one of several airplanes from Emerson field manoeuvring over the city during a Liberty Loan Parade fell two blocks from the main business street, and only a short distance from the State Capitol.

The pilot, Lieutenant Godman, of Oregon, was almost instantly killed. The plane was guided away from the thousands of spectators who lined the streets just in time to prevent a catastrophe.

EXPERT GARDENERS WILL SUPPLY OUR HOSPITALS

New York, Sept. 28.—That the milk and fresh vegetable supplies of American military hospitals in England and France may be increased and improved, the American Red Cross will dispatch a detachment of expert American dairymen and market gardeners to Europe, it is announced.

Lieutenant H. L. Frost, of the Bureau of Hospital Farms and Gardens, who has been located for some time at American Red Cross headquarters in Paris, is on his way to this country to take charge of the mission.

Be on the alert for fire and accident prevention. It will pay in conservation of lives and property and averts disasters that involve loss of places of business and homes and possibly lives of members of families.
