MANY ARRESTED IN BRITISH DRIVE TO END INDIA REVOLT

Practically All of Prominent Leaders of Nationalist
Congress Are Jailed

MANY WOMEN AMONG
NUMBER ARRESTED

Congress And Allied Organizations Declared Unlawful Associations In British Ultimate

Bombay, India, Jan. 6. (AP)—First stages of the government's drive against organizations of the Nationalist Congress were completed this morning with the arrest of practically all of the prominent leaders of the congress.
They were taken in by scores. A number of women were included among those arrested.
The women fired the first "gun" as the war of the rank and file of Mahatma Gandhi's millions began their fight for independence. The women established pickets in front of stores throughout the country defying arrest and urging shoppers not to buy British made goods.
The arrests of the leaders was followed by an announcement in the Bombay government gazette that the congress itself and over 90 allied organizations throughout the city and suburbs are declared unlawful associations.

Heart Ailment Fatal To Prominent Figure In North Carolina Politics

DEMISE IS SHOCK TO OFFICIALS OF STATE

's Praised For Work With State Funds; Death Followed Illness of Thirty Minutes of Heart Attack

Goldsboro, Jan. 6. (AP)—Captain Nathan O'Berry, treasurer of North Carolina and prominent in State educational, manufacturing and political circles, died at his home here early today, thirty minutes after being stricken with angina pectoris.
Yesterday he had been in his usual health which was considered excellent for a man of his age. He was 75 years old.
About 12:30 this morning he became ill. He died at 1:05 a. m. He was in excellent spirits a few hours before and his sudden death came as a shock to this community.
Captain O'Berry journeyed every day from Goldsboro to Raleigh to carry on his duties as State Treasurer and made the 82 mile trip and returned in usual fashion yesterday.
Funeral services will be conducted here at 11 a. m. tomorrow morning at the Goldsboro Presbyterian church. The Rev. Peter McIntyre, will officiate.
The death of Captain O'Berry, who spent all of yesterday in his office here, came as a shock to Governor O. Max Gardner and all who heard of it early this morning.
Governor Gardner issued a brief statement in which he declared:
"In my generation, the State has never had a more patriotic or valuable public servant."
It is expected that the Capitol will be closed in his honor, and that all State officials will attend the funeral. To Name Successor.
As was the case with his own appointment, which was made one day after the death of his predecessor, Benjamin R. Lacy, the vacancy will be filled with more haste than is usually the case when a public official dies. This is necessarily true, for when the State Treasurer dies the whole fiscal machinery of the State stops, as all funds are deposited in his name and can be drawn upon only by his signature.
Captain O'Berry brought to his office a ripe experience in business and banking, but the outstanding achievement of his administration is considered the care with which he safeguarded all State funds. Although approximately 150 banks in the State failed during his administration and the State had deposits in scores of the closed institutions, the State did not lose a dollar in any of the failures, all of the deposits being amply secured.
Good Official.
He was most jealous of the State's credit and rejoiced greatly when the State secured the lowest interest rate approximately 2,500,000 at 2 1/2 per cent. Yesterday he spent the last hours at his desk in telephonic communications with New York bankers

ADAMS DENIES HE HAS BEEN DISLOYAL

Resents Statements Made Before House Naval Committee

Washington, Jan. 6. (AP)—Democratic suggestion that Secretary Adams resign because he is not in accord with President Hoover's naval policy, drew a rebuff today from the Navy department head that he was "absolutely loyal."

Representative McClintic of Oklahoma, reminded the House Naval committee that Adams yesterday had approved a bill for construction of $816,250,000 worth of new ships to bring the United States up to the London naval treaty allowance. Then came the resignation mention.

The navy head asked permission to reply. With a quaver in his voice he said he knew of no difference "between what I testified here and the president's attitude."

The bonds are now in default. Grosvenor Jones, head of the Finance Division of the Commerce Department, told the story.
He said approval of the $23,000,000 loan had been given "reluctantly" because of a feeling that Bolivia was over-borrowing.
Jones explained that he conferred with the economic adviser of the State Department over such matters.

Taken on Prohibition

Washington, Jan. 6. (AP)—Eighty-eight percent of the North Carolina Democrats who contributed to Harry's 1928 campaign fund and who responded to Chairman John J. Raskob's questionnaire favored a referendum on prohibition, a recapitulation of the answers here shows.
The chairman did not give the number of replies received from the state.

Washington, Jan. 6. (AP)—The Democratic party found thrust upon it today the clear determination of Chairman Raskob to keep the prohibition issue to the fore in this year's presidential election.
Under a warning that its virtual destruction would be the alternative, the chairman laid down a pressing demand that the party declare at its convention this summer for submitting the entire question to the people for a new decision.

He was equally emphatic in urging that the party itself keep on the fence going neither wet or dry until the voters have had their say. Raskob made public his views last night in a lengthy letter to the national committee head, supplementing this with remarks evoked by questioning reporters who surrounded him as he arrived for the committee meeting on Saturday.

166 CARS STOLEN IN STATE IN DECEMBER

Raleigh, Jan. 6.—A total of 166 automobiles were stolen in North Carolina during December, according to figures released today by the Theft Bureau of the State department of Revenue. Of these 166 cars that were stolen, only 63 were recovered although 34 cars stolen in previous months were recovered, making a total of 97 cars recovered in December. A large number of cars stolen in December were taken out of the state, according to L. S. Harris, chief of the Theft Bureau. From December through February, thefts of cars usually increase in North Carolina, with a majority of the cars being taken out of the state, either south to Florida or north towards New York.
