Roosevelt Is Seen As Logical Candidate For Presidential Nomination

Democrats In North Carolina Seem Almost Unanimously In Favor of New Yorker

NEWTON D. BAKER IS ALSO BEING MENTIONED

Majority of Leaders in State Are of Belief That Alfred E. Smith Will Not Seek Nomination Again

Daily Dispatch Bureau, in the Sir Walter Hotel, BY J. C. BARKERVILL

Raleigh, Jan. 13.—Democrats in North Carolina at the present time seem to be almost unanimous in favor of the nomination of Governor Roosevelt of New York as the Democratic candidate for President in 1932, according to reports being brought in here from almost every part of the State. There are a few, however, who believe that Newton D. Baker of Ohio may become a serious opponent of Roosevelt in the Democratic National Convention and that he is more likely to win the nomination than Roosevelt. But there are not many of these, although some reports are to the effect that Josephus Daniels, editor of the News and Observer and ex-secretary of the Navy in the Wilson Administration, when Baker was Secretary of War, is inclining more to Baker than to Roosevelt. It is known, however, that Daniels is a warm personal friend and great admirer of Roosevelt, who was his assistant secretary of the Navy when he was secretary. It is also being rumored in some quarters that Senator Cameron Morrison is inclined to favor Baker for the nomination rather than Roosevelt although Mrs. Morrison, as a member of the Democratic National Executive Committee signified she would favor Roosevelt. Senator Morrison has not made a public statement on his preference, so far as is known, and his friends believe he would follow the majority of the Democrats in the State. It is also believed that Daniels will ultimately support whichever potential

TAX INCREASE PLAN OF ADMINISTRATION OFFERED TO HOUSE

Secretary of Treasury Appears Before Ways and Means Committee To Explain

BALANCED BUDGET IN 1934 IS PLANNED FOR

Revenue Raising Legislation If Necessary To Cover Current Expenditures Secretary Mellon Says

Washington, Jan. 13.—(AP)—A balanced budget at the end of the fiscal year 1934, is the goal of the administration tax increase program submitted today by Secretary Mellon to the House Ways and Means committee.

Appearing as the principal witness at the opening of hearings before the Democratic controlled group that will formulate broader revenue raising legislation, the veteran cabinet member of three Republican administrations said: "We are in the midst of a grave emergency. It is essential to raise additional revenue not just to cover current expenditures but to maintain unimpaired the credit of the United States government."

"This last objective is of paramount importance to every citizen in the land. It is an indispensable step in our progress toward recovery."

"The losses that will be suffered by every individual and every industry through a continuation of the depression will exceed many times over the amount to be contributed in additional taxes."

"It is not only the patriotic duty of all to insure the financial stability of the government in times such as these but the sacrifice demanded—if we desire to put the justification on a lower plane—is amply warranted by consideration of individual self interest."

Washington, Jan. 13.—(AP)—A charge the Justice Department has let Secretary Mellon "run rough shod" over Federal laws was made before the House Judiciary committee today by Representative Patman, Texas, Democrat, but was stricken out of the record on the suggestion of Chairman Summers.

Patman was testifying on his resolution seeking impeachment of the veteran treasury head for "high crimes and misdemeanors." Representative Michener, Michigan, Republican, asked at one point why he had not taken his charges to the justice department. The Texan replied that since the Department "has let him run rough shod over laws as I believe what reason would I have to expect it would make a criminal prosecution?"

Departmental Heads To Confer With Governor

Daily Dispatch Bureau, in the Sir Walter Hotel, BY J. C. BARKERVILL. Raleigh, Jan. 13. Members of the Advisory Budget Commission are in session here today with Governor O. Max Gardner and Henry Burke, assistant director of the budget, preparatory to the meeting here tomorrow with the Governor and Budget Commission of the heads of all the various State department and institutions, to work out a plan for the curbing of State expenditures, so as to hold them within the revenues in sight.

For according to the Budget Bureau estimates the various departments and institutions—but not the public schools, insofar as they are supported by State funds—must curtail their appropriations 30 per cent or more for the balance of this fiscal year and all of the next fiscal year, in order to avoid a deficit. That means that the State departments and institutions must get along on from $3,500,000 to $4,000,000 a year less than they had expected, when the appropriation act was passed by the 1931 General assembly. The appropriation act originally passed by the 1931 General assembly provided for the expenditure of $39,281,764 a year by the various State agencies, although it enacted a Revenue Act that would yield only $27,013,873 on estimates made a year ago. Present estimates indicate that this Revenue Act will not yield more than $23,500,000 a year at most, and that hence the various State agencies must cut down their expenses to stay within this expected revenue.

This is going to be a difficult thing for the various State departments and institutions to do. In the first place, the original appropriations were cut to what at that time was considered the very bone, during the general assembly, so that another reduction of 30 per cent will work a very great hardship on any institutions, especially those devoted to the care of the unfortunate, such as the insane and mentally sick, whose numbers are increasing, and the prisoners in the case of the State. It will compel many State departments to reduce their staffs and organizations to a mere skeleton organizations with a cessation of almost all field work, so that travel expenses may be virtually eliminated. It will also compel the trimming of all the "trimmings" from the activities of the institutions of higher learning, now a part of the University of North Carolina, and a retention of only the essential educational ac-
