JAPANESE DELEGATE MAKES SHORT SPEECH

Italian Proposal Is Hailed As First For "Real Disarmament" Offered At Present Conference

Geneva, Switzerland, Feb. 10.—(AP)—Foreign Minister Dino Grandi, of Italy, and Ambassador Tameo Matsudaira, of Japan, presented the last two of the disarmament proposals of the five great powers to the World Conference today.

The young black bearded Italian foreign minister, believed to be the youngest delegate to the conference, brought thunders of applause from the floor as he tolled off in staccato fashion a long list of war implements Italy stands ready to scrap. The list included capital ships, submarines, aircraft carriers, heavy artillery, tanks, bombing aircraft and chemical warfare weapons.

He also proposed a revision of the laws to protect civilian populations. In international quarters afterwards the Italian plan was hailed as the first proposal for "real disarmament." Ambassador Matsudaira chief of the Japanese delegation assured the conference in the shortest speech delivered by the representatives of any great power that "notwithstanding the unfortunate situation in the far east, Japan is as eager as ever to further the cause of disarmament."

STATE DEPARTMENT IN REPLY TO STATEMENT

Declares Financial Position Of Haiti Has Improved Under American Financial Supervision

Washington, Feb. 10.—(AP)—Denunciation by a Haitian citizen of the American government's relations with Haiti brought a defense quickly today from the State Department.

George Legger, a brother of the Haitian foreign minister, told the Senate Finance committee the State Department had forced loans upon Haiti "for purely political purposes" so that it might continue financial supervision of the country.

Shortly afterwards a memorandum came from the State Department saying Haiti was never on such a sound financial basis as today.

It went into considerable detail and concluded:

"When its financial position is compared with that of other governments in the post-war era, the result of its finances under the administration of the American financial advisor is shown to be unique in strength and soundness of its position."

BRITISH NOVELIST CLAIMED BY DEATH

Edgar Wallace, Detective Story Writer, Dies In California

Beverly Hills, Calif., Feb. 10.—(AP)—Edgar Wallace, who became one of the world's most prolific and highest paid writers after starting life as a newsboy in the slums of London, died this morning at 4:45 o'clock. Death was due to double pneumonia. He was 56 years of age. He came to Hollywood from his home in England several months ago to write scenarios for the RKO radio studios.

New York, Feb. 10.—(AP)—A million and a half of Edgar Wallace's books have been sold in the United States, his publishers estimated today.

Rules Frank Grist Has Exceeded His Authority

Daily Dispatch Bureau. In the Sir Walter Hotel. BY J. C. BASKERVILLE. Raleigh, Feb. 10.—The "war" that has been on for about a week between Commissioner of Labor Frank D. Grist and the Industrial Commission, during which Grist has held up the payment of all Industrial Commission vouchers, came to an amicable end as a result of a conference between Grist and Major Matt H. Allen, chairman of the Industrial Commission. But it took a threat of some real war to end the state of siege.

About a week ago, when Grist was mad at Governor O. Max Gardner, the Budget Bureau and Senator Cameron Morrison because of the cuts made in salaries and budgets and attacking the Governor for showing what he said was rank discrimination in the salary reductions, Grist wrote a letter to State Auditor Baxter Durham and ordered him to refuse to pay any more Industrial Commission vouchers unless they had his (Grist's) approval. Auditor Durham held Grist was acting within his rights as Commissioner of Labor and refused to pay any more vouchers for the Industrial Commission.

This was the first time Grist had sought to exercise any authority over

MILK CAMPAIGN IN STATE IS PLANNED

Ten Year Plan Group To Develop Better Program for Agriculture

Daily Dispatch Bureau. In the Sir Walter Hotel. BY J. C. BASKERVILLE.

Raleigh, Feb. 10.—A State-wide campaign will be the first thing undertaken by the agricultural rehabilitation committee of the Ten Year Plan Corporation, which met here a few days ago to study a number of the State's agricultural problems and develop a definite program for the betterment of agriculture in North Carolina. George Watts Hill of Durham, known over the State for his interest in agriculture and farm problems, is chairman of the committee.

Although almost every section of North Carolina is ideally suited to dairying and the raising of livestock, the State is decidedly backward both in the consumption and production of milk and dairy products. The lack of consumption of milk is to a large degree responsible for the lack of milk production in the State, the committee believes. The farmers of the State are not going to become interested in producing more milk and in raising more livestock, however, until they can be assured of a steady demand and dependable market for their milk and other dairy products.

Chicagoan As Circuit Court Judge May Face Stiff Opposition

Washington, Feb. 10.—(AP)—Organized labor threw its full strength yesterday against the confirmation of Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson, of Chicago, as a circuit judge, terming him a "partisan advocate of the policies of employers who seek to destroy labor organizations."

Wilkerson's views toward President Hoover's nominee to fill the vacancy on the seventh circuit were expressed before a senate judiciary subcommittee by Donald R. Richberg, representing the Railway Labor Executives' association and the American Federation of labor.

Citing a number of decisions handed down by Wilkerson from the district bench, Richberg said that the judge "in his blind partisanship and antagonism to labor unions" has "not followed the law as laid down by the Supreme court but has attempted to write new law, has violated existing law to exercise judicial power never conferred upon his court."

There are only two proposals before Congress for dealing with this situation. One is the dolo system, such as is used in England, providing for a monthly payment from the Government to the unemployed—and which tends to increase rather than decrease unemployment. The other is to provide work for the unemployed by an extensive program of public works construction by the Government—principally highway construction. For an analysis of highway construction by the Federal Government shows that the dollars spent in highway work go into more different channels, thus benefiting more different individuals and industries, than money spent on almost any other kind of work.

"If Congress does not adopt the public works and highway construction program, the friends of the dolo plan are going to force its adoption, according to present indications in Washington."

There are several different plans now under consideration in Washington, Chairman Jeffress said, to provide federal funds for highway construction.
