Government Drive To Restore Business Several Steps Ahead

Glass-Stegall Bill To Expand Federal Reserve Credit Is Passed In Senate

GOES TO CONFERENCE FOR ADJUSTMENTS

Plans For Issuing Treasury Notes To Help Anti-Hoard. ing Move Are Also Being Drawn Up Today

Washington, Feb. 20.-(AP) - The stensive government drive to restore presperous times to the country was everal important steps ahead today with efforts continuing unabated. The Glass-Stegall bill for the exransion of the Federal Reserve credit facilities was through the Senate, mended before approval to extend emergency provisions for two wars instead of one, and with its new heral rediscounting facilities openel to all banks of the Federal Reserve system with a capitalization of wo million dollars or less. Today it with the House. It will become law sometime next week.

Plans were near perfection in the treasury for the special issue of small denomination bonds coupon which the administartion is depending in part for restoration to circulation of hoarded money especially that held in small amounts. The bonds will go on sale March 5: they will nature in a year. Neither the total amount of the issue nor the interest rates has been determined yet. These bonds are to be an integral part of the drive hoarding by the National organization under Col. Frank Knox, of Chicago.

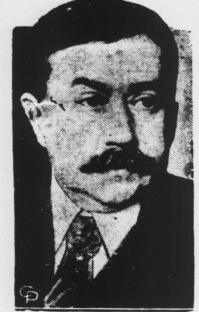

MORE MILK COWS

State Health Board's Drive Reported To Be Showing Results

Raleigh, Feb. 20.-A good milk cow worth more to a tenant farmer and his family than $1,000 worth of Government Bonds, while more cows generally on the farms of the State will bring happiness and prosperity instead of poverty to more than 250, m homes according to Warren H. Pooker, head of the division of Sanitary Engineering and who is in active charge of State-wide Milk-forhealth campaign just being launched by the Board of Health.

For several months, the reports rectived fro mthe dairy and milk in-spectors for the State Board of ficalth in all sections of the State have indicated a steady decrease in the amount of milk being used, both in cities and rural section, Mr. Booker said today. At the same time an inclease has been noted in the number of rellagra cases being reported and in undernourished and malnutrition cases, especially among school chilfren in sections where very little milk

Headlights Ordinance Explained By Jeffress

Daily Dispatch Bureau.
In the Sir Waster Hotel.
The Sir Waster Hotel.
Raleigh, Feb. 20.—"Glaring, blindit sheadlights must be curbed and the cridents and injuries caused by these illegal headlights stopped," said Chairman E. E. Jeffress of the State Highway Commission. "After years of expreimentation with various suggested fer two years or more to get the cooperation of the motorists by stopping them and warning them, we have cached the conclusion that these things are ineffectual and almost a waste of time. We have further reached the conclusion that the most effrecive way to eliminate headlights is 1 use a mechanical device attached to the lens of the headlights that blots out the glare."

Neither the State Highway Comtol are going to compel any one to buy any devices or attachments to prevent glaring or blinding headlights, Chairman Jeffress said. But Highway Commission and the Highway Patrol are goin gto make a determined effort to enforce the law to the limit against blinding and improper headlights. No driver whose it:hts comply with the law will be disfurbed by the patrol and any device that eliminates glare is permissable. But in order to be sure their lights comply with the law and that they will be immune from arrest, drivers will do well to use appliances which have been tested out by the Highway Commission and approved by it, Jeffress said.

"The only thing we are going to do is enforce the law which prohibits glaring and blinding headlights."

Chairman Jeffress said. "Section 49 of mply with the laws and after trying the Motorvehicle laws of 1931 provides that the front headlights of an automobile shall be so adjusted that they will throw a beam of light 'under normal atmospheric conditions and on a level road sufficient to ren der clearly discernable a person 200 feet ahead but shall not project a glaring or dazzling light to persons in front of such headlamps.' This gives the Highway Patrol all the law it needs to arrest the drivers of any cars with glaring and blinding head lights. In order that drivers may be sure they will not be arrested or stop-ped, we are suggesting they use a certain type of appliance that eliminates glare. "It is of course not compulsory for drivers to use these appliances, and they may use any other appliance or method which makes their lights com ply with the law. However, we know that the appliances that have been tested out by the Highway Commis-
