

GIRL SCOUT BETTY—Greetings, Boy Scouts!—By Monfort Amory

Returning from school, Betty and Mary met Betty's cousin, Bob, a Boy Scout. The girls learned that the following week was Boy Scouts Birthday Week.

They decided to give Bob and his troop mates a surprise, so they went industriously at the task of baking a birthday cake, both girls having earned their cook's proficiency badge.

They had planned to climb through the window of the Boy Scout troop house, and to leave the cake with a greeting for the boys, but they were caught in the act by the early arrival of Bob and his friends.

Discovering their intention, the boys admitted them to the troop house in courtly fashion, while Betty proudly carried in the birthday cake with twenty-two candles.

Forward Observation Post

Edited by J. M. Caldwell, Box U, Mooreville, N. C., Adjutant American Legion, Department of North Carolina.

ON TO WINSTON SALEM! As this is being written, thousands of North Carolina Legionnaires are making their plans to attend what most interesting and most enthusiastic and undoubtedly will be by far the largest Annual Conference of North Carolina Legion Post officials. We refer to the Conference which is to be held in Winston-Salem, N. C., under the auspices of the Clyde Bolting Post No. 55, on February 28 and Feb. 29th. Just as it was written in olden times that "All roads lead to Rome," so on the morning of February 28th will, as far as thousands of North Carolina Legionnaires are concerned, all roads be leading to Winston-Salem. Thousands of the Carolina comrades of North Carolina's own National Commander will be enroute to Winston-Salem, N. C., to hall their comrade and friend, National Commander Henry L. Stevens, Jr., of Warsaw, N. C., to tell him in person and show the world in general that this old North Carolina Department of the American Legion is backing Henry Stevens to the limit.

A most interesting and instructive program has been planned by Department Commander Henry C. Bourne. The Clyde Bolting Post No. 55 is famed for its hospitality and the Post is receiving the heartiest of cooperation from the entire citizenship in their effort to make this Conference this year the biggest and best in the entire history of the Legion in North Carolina. The people of Winston-Salem always make every Legionnaire feel glad that he came to the Conference or to any other Legion gathering in Winston-Salem. A splendid program of entertainment is being provided for visiting Legionnaires from Manteo to Murphy who came to this great Conference. This day will indeed be a Red Letter Day in the history of the Legion in North Carolina. Thousands of the Legionnaires (including those thousands of Legionnaires who welcomed their Comrade National Commander Stevens back to North Carolina last fall) will be present at this great Conference to welcome Henry Stevens back to the Old North

COW POPULATION IN STATE IS VERY LOW

Milk-for-Health Campaign Brings Out Facts as to Needs of People of North Carolina

Raleigh, Feb. 27.—With on hundred counties in North Carolina being called on to set up as many county-wide Milk-for-Health Campaigns for the definite purpose of increasing the use of milk and dairy products as health foods, the question arises, what about the cow population. With an additional large number of our population drinking milk, will it be able to meet the demand made upon it for more milk?

According to an issue of the Progressive Farmer for March, 1930 there are only about half as many cows in North Carolina as should be if the average American standard of one cow for each five persons is maintained. Only nine counties in the State have more than one cow for each five persons, while the majority of the remaining ninety-one counties are far below the average. The counties having sufficient milk for their population and some to spare are for the most part in the western section of the State. They are: Alleghany, Clay, Ashe, Watauga, Macon, Davie, Jackson, Graham, and Henderson. Alleghany county has one cow for every 2.9 persons while Dare county has only one cow for each 16.4 persons. Counties at the bottom of the list in the number of milk cows per person are Dare, New Hanover, Wilson, Carteret, Lenoir, Martin, Pitt, Edgecombe, Chowan, Brunswick, Robeson, Onslow, Bertie, Beaufort, Craven, Wayne, Scotland, Columbus, Nash, Cumberland, Duplin, Greene, Forsyth, Marnett, Halifax, Hertford, Johnston, Durham, Washington, Sampson, and Wake. The number of cows needed in these counties to reach the American average range from 1,000 in Dare to 11,000 in Wake and 15,000 in Forsyth. The above figures are based on 1928 statistics and while it is admitted that the actual proportion of human to cow population of the various counties may have changed somewhat in the intervening period, it is believed that the proportional rate of increase in the number of cows has been no greater than the rate of increase of inhabitants. In any event, the State's consumption of milk is less than one half pint per person per day, while the average of some other States is one pint per person per day.

MOTORISTS DRIVE CARS SLOWER NOW

Most Have Learned Of High Cost of Speed In Fuel Consumption

Daily Dispatch Bureau. In the New Yorker Hotel. BY J. C. BARKER. Raleigh, Feb. 27.—Motorists for the most part are driving at slower speeds than formerly and are cooperating better in the matter of bright headlights, according to Captain Charles D. Farmer, commander of the State Highway Patrol, who bases his conclusion on reports received from patrolmen generally in all sections of the State.

"The thing that is doing more than anything else to curb high speeds on the road is the fact that the motorists are beginning to realize the high cost of speed," Captain Farmer said. "For recent tests made a number of automobile manufacturers and by gasoline and oil companies has shown the tremendous cost of high speeds on the highways. "Now that these facts are becoming better known, car owners are beginning to count the cost of high speeds especially since they realize the danger to life and property. As a result, I believe we are going to have less fast driving and fewer accidents this year than last."

The inventor of the thermos or vacuum flask was Sir James Dewar, English scientist.
