late Judge Thomas M. Pittman were held Tuesday in Vance Superior Court, which is sitting in the civil term for and March, with Judge Henry A. Grady, sand. His pride in and love of these of Clinton, presiding. A memorial by the bar association was presented, and several addresses by members were made. A number of relatives and citizens joined with the bar in attending the exercises. Judge Pittihan was for many years prior to his death dean of the Henderson bar and prest- health to do the work of a Superior dent of the association.

The report of the committee named by the bar association, which consisted of a memorial to Judge Pittman. was read by J. H. Bridgers, who was a law partner of Judge Pittman's, and who was elected by the bar to succeed him as president. H is now the dean of the bar association.

Following the reading of this mem-orial J. C. Kittrell presented the other speakers. These were J. B. Hicks, law partner of Judge Pittman, who spoke feelingly of his association with the deceased; and J. P. Zoilicoffer, who spoke for the bar association and was followed by Henry T. Powell, representing the younger members of the bar. R. S. McCoin also spoke briefly, and was followed by Coolnel Henry Perry, clerk of Vance Superior (Court for more than 30 years, who was intimately associated with Judge Pittman in many cap-

The services were simple and brief, occupying less than an hour, and were declared impressive and appropriate.

The memorial by the bar association, submitted by a committee consisting of J. H. Bridgers, Irvine B. Watkins and J. C. Kittrell, follows

"A good man, an accomplished scholar, a great lawyer left us on Fébruary 8, when Honorable Thomas M. Pittman. after almost fifty-five years of active service as a lawyer fell upon the final sleep.

"Born November 24, 1857, he was only seven years old at the close of the Civil War, he began life at the time when the economic condition of our State was the poorest.

"His opportunity for education was limited to private schools, and his own efforts. As a mere boy in Charlotte he attracted the attention of a firm of able lawyers, who gave him the opportunity. Before he was twenty-one years of age he passed the examination required by our Subreme Court for admission to the bar. This was only a beginning for study He made himself a master of the principles of what we call the Common Law; that is the law of England as it was, unless changed by Statute, or unsuitable to our form of Government.

"He early acquired and mastered the leading cases, Coke on Littleton, Fearne on Remainders-a full set of English Reports.

This study was reflected throughout his life as a lawyer. It has been given to few men to express them-

"At the beginning of his career he attracted Statewide attention by bringing a suft alleging it was the duty of carriers to have sufficient employees on their trains to protect passengers from insuit or humilitation.

"Coming to Henderson in 1885, he was soon established in a large general practice, without any special interest. His clients came from every walk of lifee and station in life. The poor and unfortunate always relied on him for help in the time of trouble or afflicition. His study and research never ceased. He soon began to collect early North Carolina documents, dealing with the several governments of the Colony, Province or State, whether that of the Lords Pro-
