Hausner Hops Off At Newark To Fly To Warsaw, Poland

Hopes To Make Non-Stop Flight To Country Where He Was Born, May Halt Along Way

SECOND EFFORT TO MAKE TRIP BY AIR

His Wife and Priest Accompany Him Few Miles on Another Plane; If Conditions Necessitate, Airman May Make Stop in London or in Paris

New York, June 3.—(AP)—Stanislaus Hausner, of Newark, N. J., took off for Warsaw, Poland, from Floyd Bennett field today at 8:46 a. m. EST. He hoped to make the flight non-stop.

It was Hausner's second start on the projected solo flight to the country where he was born. Last Saturday he took off, but was forced back after several hours by unfavorable weather.

He was followed into the air today by another plane in which his pretty young wife rode as a passenger. This plane merely intended to escort Hausner on the first few miles of the journey.

In the second plane was also the Rev. Paul Knaptek, a Newark priest. Hausner's plane is a rebuilt monoplane, which was originally built for a Chicago syndicate which planned an ocean flight but never materialized. Although Hausner's destination was Warsaw, he said before leaving that if conditions necessitated, he might make a stop at London or Paris. He planned to follow a course slightly south of the steamer lanes.

ROOSEVELT PASSES BUCK TO SEABURY

Says It Is Up To Committee Counsel To Accuse New York Mayor

Albany, N. Y., June 3 (AP)—Governor Roosevelt said today that it was the duty of the legislative committee and Samuel Seabury to make charges against Mayor Walker "if they believe they have sufficient cause," without waiting to make formal report to the next legislature.

The governor's statement was an answer to public reports that Seabury, the committee's counsel, intended to hold up formal charges against the Mayor of New York to give time for Governor Roosevelt to act on his own initiative.

The statement by Governor Roosevelt follows.

"The only information before the governor is in the form of very incomplete newspaper stories. It is not even clear from Judge Seabury's statement to Chairman Hofstadter whether he has fully completed the investigation. I ask in each case definitely and with due promptness.

"Get the law straight. This is the duty of the legislative committee and its counsel, if they believe they have sufficient cause, to present evidence to their proper authorities without waiting to make formal reports to next year's legislature. You cannot get away from that obvious public duty."

GARNER RELIEF IS SENT INTO HOUSE

Washington, June 3 (AP)—The House Ways and Means Committee today favorably reported the $2,300,000,000 Garner relief program.

DISPATCH TO GIVE RETURNS

Returns from the county and state primary elections tomorrow will be announced tomorrow night by the Daily Dispatch, as usual. Returns are expected to be slow, due to the large number of candidates and heavy balloting that is likely.

All pollholders are requested to telephone their results to the Dispatch office, Phone 500 or 610, as soon as each ticket has been completed. In this way tabulations can be speeded up and the information given to the public. The public is requested, asked, urged and begged not to come into the office during the evening. Crowds cause confusion and will only slow down the compilation of the returns.

Mystery Man In Kidnaping Found

New York, June 3.—(AP)—Salvatore Spitala, one of the "mystery men" in the Lindbergh kidnaping case, was swept up in a police net flung into Playtime club in Broadway's bright light district early today.

The raid, in which liquor was seized, bore no apparent connection to the Lindbergh case. Police found a gun on Spitala, but he produced a permit signed by Judge William E. Thorpe of Greene county.

MORE VETERANS IN WASHINGTON CITY

Critical Situation Created by Arrival of Men Demanding Bonus

QUARTERED IN FIELDS

Two New Delegations Added Last Night to 1,000 Already in Town; Authorities Have No Facilities for Handling Them

Washington, June 3.—(AP)—A critical situation shaped up today as hundreds more bonus-seekers and veterans poured into the city and had to be quartered in open fields for lack of billeting facilities.

To the 600 who have been quartered in vacant buildings for the last few days and the 1,000 or so reported being cared for individually by social workers and local charities, were added two new delegations last night, with more expected by freight trains and trucks during today.

Funds for feeding the men were low, and, with thousands of men striving to get here from all quarters of the country, the local authorities were desperate.

Geo. Washington Foresaw Flights Across Atlantic

Chapel Hill, June 3.—George Washington predicted trans-Atlantic airplane flights in 1784, according to Dr. Archibald Henderson of the University of North Carolina, who brings up the little-known fact of history in an article in the current number of the Duke "Archive."

Washington had just heard of the balloon ascension by de Rozier and Blanchard in France. "I have only newspaper accounts of air balloons to which I do not know what credence to give," Dr. Henderson quotes him. "The tales related of them are marvellous and lead us to expect that our friends at Paris in a little time will come flying through the air, instead of ploughing the ocean to get to America."

Dr. Henderson thinks the words were prophetic. If jocular, of the most recent modern development of aeronautics.

Conference Revenue Bill Balance Federal Budget

To Battle Depression Anew

A world conference to wage war on the depression by the international stabilization of commodity prices is the latest proposal for putting business in both hemispheres back on its feet. The plan, initiated by Winston Churchill, British statesman, and backed by Premier Ramsay MacDonald has been assured of the cooperation of the United States. It was announced following a conference between Secretary of State Stimson and President Hoover. It is expected that currency, foreign exchange, the gold standard, silver and other questions will be dealt with, but the United States has barred debts, reparations and disarmament from discussion.

Major Office Candidates Neck And Neck As Hour Of Primary Comes With Dawn

Daily Dispatch Bureau, In the Sir Walter Hotel, N. Y. C. BASKERVILLE

Raleigh, June 3.—The three candidates for governor—Lieutenant Governor R. T. Fountain, J. C. B. Ehringhaus and A. J. Maxwell—are considered by many as being almost neck and neck, and they clatter down the home stretch of the campaign race track to pass under the wire of the primary tomorrow. The managers and supporters of each of the candidates think his man will lead, and seems confident of victory.

But the majority of those here who have been trying to follow the progress of the campaign impartially frankly admit today that the contest is close—probably closer than in any Democratic primary for years—and that, while there are some definite trends apparent, that the outcome of the primary, both with regard to the contest for governor and for the nomination for the United States Senate, is very uncertain.

Most of the observers continue to maintain that by all indications, Ehringhaus should be high man in the primary tomorrow, since reports from all sections of the State for the past several weeks have indicated steady and consistent gains for him. Reports have also indicated a steady dwindling away from Fountain for several weeks and material gains by Maxwell. However, it is admitted that no one knows the extent of these reported gains, nor how many voters, if any, have deserted Fountain and if so whether they have gone to Ehringhaus or Maxwell. It is also agreed that no one knows as yet how the undecided voters—and there are still thousands who have not yet made up their minds who they are going to vote for tomorrow—are going to vote.

THREE DROWNED IN FLOOD IN OKLAHOMA

Sudden Swish of Water Descends Upon City and Women Lose Lives

Oklahoma City, June 3.—(AP)—Three women were drowned and there were unverified reports of other deaths as a sudden flood swept Oklahoma City early today, trapping scores of sleeping families.

Then, roaring out of their banks by a half foot of rain, the waters of the Canadian river and Lightning Creek surged over a wide area in the southern part of the city.

Water poured through the business district, flooding basements and routing families living in camps for the destitute.

The body of a 14-year-old girl was taken from Lightning Creek at southeast 23rd street. J. M. Meads, former deputy sheriff, reported that the body of a woman about 45 years old was taken from a tree on south 21st street, and that of another woman about 40 was recovered at south 25th street and Santa Fe.

McGraw Resigns

New York, June 3.—(AP)—John J. McGraw today announced his resignation as manager of the New York Giants after 30 years of leadership, because of ill health.

He will be succeeded by Bill Terry, the club's first baseman.

Ticket Is Largest Ever Yet Voted On In State's History

32 Names Listed on State Ticket To Be Voted on in Every One of State's 100 Counties

COUNT TO BE SLOW, OFFICIALS BELIEVE

Minimum Predictions Are For Total of 350,000 Votes or 20,000 More Than In Previous Primary Election; Only One Republican Contest Included

BY W. JOYNES McFARLANE, Associated Press Correspondent.

Raleigh, June 3. (AP) North Carolinians tomorrow will ballot on the heaviest State ticket ever placed before Democratic voters, and the largest primary vote ever recorded is anticipated.

There are 32 names listed on the Democratic ballot, which will be voted on in each of the 100 counties, and there are two Republican names on the ticket of that county, as well as one office is being contested. In addition there are contests for Congress in the third, sixth and eleventh districts and for solicitor in the twelfth judicial district.

There will be 14 1-2 voting hours, the polls opening in the various sections of the State at sunrise in each locality, and closing at sunset in the evening.

Due to the extremely heavy ticket being voted on for local offices in practically every county, as well as long State lists, managers of the campaigns of the three gubernatorial candidates said today they anticipated that the count would be very slow as compared with recent years. Minimum predictions are that 350,000 votes will be cast, about 20,000 more than in any previous primary.

LITTLE INTEREST IN SMALLER CONTESTS

Difficult To Get Much Definite Data on Probable Outcome of Vote

THREE MAY BE CLOSE

Lieutenant Governor, Auditor and Commissioner of Labor Affording Some Speculation by Political Observers

Daily Dispatch Bureau, In the Sir Walter Hotel, N. Y. C. BASKERVILLE

Raleigh, June 3.—So little interest has been evidenced in the contests for the Democratic nominations for the less important State offices that it has been difficult to get anything like a definite indication of the trend in many of these. The interest in the campaign for the nominations for governor and United States Senator has almost completely overshadowed the lesser contests.

BEER PROPOSAL IS AGAIN IN SENATE

Washington, June 3 (AP)—A proposal to legalize and tax 2.5 percent beer was advanced in the senate today by Senator Tydings, Democrat, Maryland, and as an amendment to the economy bill.

HOUSE TO SUPPORT ECONOMIES MEETING

Washington, June 3 (AP)—The House Foreign Affairs Committee agreed today to draft a resolution endorsing the world economic conference, suggested by Great Britain, and to lay the resolution before the House.

Unemployed Will Present Voting Problem To Face Both The Major Parties

By CHARLES F. STEWART, Central Press Staff Writer

Washington, June 3.—Are politicians making due allowance for the fact that the unemployed will constitute probably the most numerous single class of voters at the coming election? The question is raised by Secretary Howard Y. Williams of the League for Independent Political Action, as a contributor to the mass of information concerning the plight of working folk throughout the country, which Executive Secretary Benjamin M. Marsh of the People's Lobby has been assembling in the last few weeks at the lobby's modest offices close by the capitol building in Washington.

The volume of material already gathered by Secretary Marsh exceeds the capacity of anything except a large clerical staff (which is beyond the lobby's means) for rapid handling. Secretary Williams' offering stands out noticeably, however, by reason of its exceptional comprehensiveness, summarizing, as it does, the league official's observations during a tour inclusive of 42 cities extending from ocean to ocean.

Not only, says the league investigator, are the unemployed numerous but they are organizing, beginning to supply their own needs in a fashion strongly suggestive of Communist principles, and, short, creating a new social order within what hitherto has been the country's sole social order.

Secretary Williams speaks especially of the formation at Seattle of an unemployed Citizens League, with a membership of 12,000 heads of families. 22 commissaries, several building industries and two members in the

SHORT SELLING IS DENIED BY RASKOB

But Says He Thinks It Perfectly Proper When Properly Done

Washington, June 3 (AP)—John J. Raskob was charged with short selling today and promptly denied the charge, but added that he thought short selling perfectly proper when "properly conducted."

The chairman of the Democratic National Committee questioned before the Senate Banking Committee said he always had more long stock in his regular account than he sold, except his two transactions in which he admitted that he was "technically short."
