

SAYS MEANS TOLD OF KNOWING ABOUT BABY'S KIDNAPING

Witness Relates Conversation With Defendant on Information Prior To The Crime

MEANS LEARNED IT IN N. Y. SPEAKS EASY

But He Declined To Go In On It, Though Later Contacted His Friend and Returned and Planned Ransom From Mrs. Edward McLean, Prosecuting

Washington, June 10.—(AP)—The prosecution completed its case today in the trial of Gaston B. Means on charges of embezzling $104,000 from Mrs. Edward B. McLean in an alleged Lindbergh ransom fraud.

The government ended its testimony after presenting witnesses who testified Means approached Colonel Robert Guggenheim with proposals to recover the baby before Mrs. McLean, alleged wife of the Washington Post publisher, employed him for the same purpose.

Robert F. Fleming, Edgemoor, Md., real estate man, who followed Guggenheim on the stand, corroborated his story of how Means assured them he could recover the baby because of a bizarre connection with the kidnapers.

Fleming quoted Means as telling him that not long before the baby was spirited away Means met a former fellow prisoner in a New York speakeasy. This man, Fleming said, Means told him, informed Means of plans for a kidnaping which "would either cause worldwide notoriety or receive no publicity at all."

The man said the job would mean "fifty grand or maybe 100 grand." Fleming quoted Means, and proposed that Means join in it.

Means declined, but when he later read about the Lindbergh kidnaping, he realized at once that his friend was connected with it, Fleming said, adding that Means told him he then went back to New York, contacted his friend, and found that this theory was correct.

Fayetteville, June 10.—(AP)—County and city police today watched this section for three convicts who killed a Cary prison farm steward Tuesday and escaped in a commandeered automobile, but the fugitives apparently had fled to other parts. No material changes from previous official returns were noted.

Washington Is Worried By Stream Of Bonus Marchers Pouring In Upon The City

By CHARLES P. STEWART

Washington, June 10.—Washington has worried more over the gradual concentration of bonus marchers in the city in the course of the last few weeks than over any similar threat, perhaps, since it faced the danger of capture by the confederates in the early days of the war of secession.

Twice in recent months other small armies of the unemployed have borne down on the capital without causing serious signs of uneasiness.

These two visitations, for one thing, came swiftly. In both cases the demonstrators (the Communists, who arrived first; subsequently Father Cox's following from Pittsburgh) traveled readily in compact bodies, submitted their grievances to congress and were gone by next sunrise.

The number of bonus seekers in town simply has increased gradually,

Detroit Radio Preacher, Father Coughlin, Donates $5,000 to Veterans' Food Fund on Condition That All Inflammatory Propaganda Is Kept Out

Washington, June 10.—(AP)—Police moved today to segregate all communists from the bonus marcher's army, whose treasury was swelled by a contribution of $5,000.

Separation of the communists from more conservative elements in the regular encampment was designated to protect the radicals from possible bodily harm. Last night between 150 and 200 outspoken radicals were driven from the Anacostia flats camp, and were saved from bodily harm only by timely arrival of police.

An offer to contribute $5,000 to the veterans' food fund on the condition that all inflammatory propaganda be kept out of the camp was accepted today by the police. The sum was offered by the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin, Detroit leader of the Radio League of the Little Flower.

SIGNIFICANCE IN COUNTY MEETING

Conventions Tomorrow May Have Bearing on Morrison-Reynolds Fight

RUMORS ARE AFLOAT

Say Reynolds Supporters Busy Everywhere Lining Delegates To Be Favorable To Wet Plank In State Platform

Daily Dispatch Bureau, In the Sir Walter Hotel, BY J. C. BASKERVILLE.

Raleigh, June 10.—The county Democratic conventions, to be held tomorrow in every county in the State to select delegates to the State Democratic Convention here in Raleigh on Thursday, June 16, together with the State convention, may be of a great deal more significance than has been expected and have a large bearing on the outcome of the second primary for the nomination for the United States Senate between Senator Cameron Morrison and Robert R. Reynolds.

These conventions may also have considerable bearing if Lieutenant Governor R. T. Fountain should call for a second primary with J. C. E. Ehringhaus for the nomination for governor, although this is not believed likely.

Want Wet Platform. Reports have been current for several days that those backing Robert Reynolds are planning to demand a "wet" platform at the State Democratic convention.

Congress Getting Anxious To Get Out Of Washington And Is Hurrying Its Work

$300,000,000 Relief Bill Will Pass Senate Quickly

President Hoover Has Approved Democratic Measure in Principle; Controversial Proposals Shunted Aside For This One; Its Necessity Recognized

Washington, June 10.—(AP)—For the second time this session, the Senate today attacked the problem of relief for the unemployed as the Democratic $300,000,000 jobless aid bill was taken up for debate.

Early approval of the measure was forecast by Senate leaders, as the program has been approved in principle by President Hoover.

Controversial relief proposals were shoved to the background in order that the emergency relief measure might be speedily considered and passed. The relief bill came up for debate under unanimous consent at the request of Senator Wagner, of New York, chief sponsor. Senators Watson of Indiana and Borah of Idaho, leaders of the two Republican factions, agreed to its consideration.

Wagner, opening debate on the measure before a crowded Senate, said he expected there would be little discussion because of the general agreement now that Federal aid is necessary.

The conference report on the $177,000,000 Agriculture Department appropriation bill was agreed to within three minutes today by the Senate without debate, and without a record vote.

PRESENCE OF VETS BIG INCENTIVE FOR CLOSING UP SHOP

Bonus Expected To Pass House, But Be Blocked In Senate Committee Until Adjournment

CAN'T QUIT BEFORE END OF NEXT WEEK

No Chance For Republicans To Get To Their Convention, But Democrats Hope To Make It To Chicago Before Their Parley Opens Last Week In June

Washington, June 10.—(AP)—Even though all chance of quitting in time for the Republican National Convention has gone, Congress is fighting things for an early adjournment, anxious to get away from Washington.

Though little is said about it, the presence of the veterans' army of bonus seekers in the Capital is a powerful incentive for closing up shop. The nearest to a consensus today was the opinion that the final gavel bang will come at the end of next week, ample time for the Democrats to get to their party gathering in Chicago.

Some hope it will come sooner, but even at the increasing rate of speed shown in the Senate—where the press of legislation now is such an outcome appears unlikely to a majority of members.

The bonus vote in the House is practically certain to take place next Monday. A maze of technicalities will surround the effort to force out the Patman bill authorizing the two billion dollar outlay, as the House leaders have made the proposition as difficult as possible. But the general belief is that the bill will be passed and sent to the Senate. There unquestionably an effort will be made to keep it in committee until after adjournment, despite the terrific pressure which the ragged army is sure to exert on the senators.

SECURITIES WORTH $200,000 MISSING

Disappear In Two Blocks From Offices of Philadelphia Concern

Philadelphia, June 10.—(AP)—Approximately $200,000 in securities that had been delivered but a few minutes before, disappeared today from the administrative offices of the Girard Trust Company, Broad and Chestnut streets, police announced.

The securities had been delivered by the Pennsylvania company for insurance on lives and granting annuities, and Erwin W. Fiero, a clerk, was checking them when a telephone on a nearby desk rang. Answering it, he said, an excited boy asked him to go to the business department quick and get $50,000 in bonds left on a counter there before somebody picked them up.

Hurrying over to the place designated, Fiero failed to find them and when he returned to his desk, the securities he was checking were also gone.

"Every item of his economic training and his international experience cried out against the tariff bill," the editorial reads, "yet Herbert Hoover signed it. Every instinct in Franklin D. Roosevelt's make-up revolts against the New York City revelation, yet for over a year he has temporized before Tammany."

Delegate Contests Heard By G. O. P.

Chicago, June 10.—(AP)—The Republican National Committee today began hearing contests for seats in the national convention brought by rival delegations from six southern states, and involving "ily whitism" and the administration's effort to revise patronage distribution organizations.

At the outset announcement was made of a settlement by mutual agreement of a contest from the ninth district of Tennessee, under which R. R. Church, Negro Republican leader of Memphis, and C. H. King, of Memphis, would be seated as district delegates and George H. Goole, of Memphis, would take King's place as delegate-at large.

A contest from Georgia was the first argued. J. E. Lemon, of Savannah, representing the contestants who are opposing the "ily white" group, headed by John W. Arnold, national committee man, contended the administration-recognized factions had been set up irregularly, and were attempting to "drive out others because of their race."
