Morrison Record, Shown in Leaflet, Proves Effective

Daily Dispatch Bureau, In the Sir Walter Hotel, BY J. C. BASKERVILLE. Raleigh, June 24.—Thousands of Democrats in all sections of the State are being impressed with the soundness of the public record of Senator Cameron Morrison as well as the size of this record, and with the absence of any public record on the part of Robert R. Reynolds, his opponent for the Senatorial nomination July 2, and as a result as deciding to support Morrison, according to Mrs. Lyman Cotton, State manager of the women's division in Morrison's campaign headquarters here.

The one thing that is doing more to focus attention upon Morrison's record as compared with the negative record of Reynolds, according to Mrs. Cotton, is a pamphlet that has just been prepared by her division, of which 50,000 copies have already been mailed out over the State, with 25,000 more to follow as soon as they can be printed and mailed. This pamphlet is entitled "The Deadly Parallel," and bears the name of Cameron Morrison on the left side of the page and Robert R. Reynolds on the right hand side. When opened up, the public record of Morrison is given on the left hand page, listing some 30 public accomplishments of Morrison during his public life. The right hand page, under Reynolds' name, is almost entirely blank with the single exception of the notation, "Served as Solicitor of Suncombe county Judicial District, 1911-1914."

After the reading, Brummitt said: "This is not a trial; no one is a defendant, and no one is prosecuting. This is only an effort to find out the true facts."
