POOR SHOWING BY INSURANCE FIRMS IN STATE HEARING

Evidence Tends To Justify Reduction Rather Than
Increase In Compensation Rates

LARGE ERRORS IN FIGURES ADMITTED

Some Larger Premium Payers Not Credited With Payments at All; Dorsett Says
More Evidence Will Be Offered As Hearing Continues

Raleigh, Oct. 6.—Those who carry compensation insurance should be given a reduction in premium rates rather than an increase, according to most of those who listened to the first day of the hearing in which the insurance companies are seeking permission to increase their rates from 12 to 18 per cent. According to most observers, the insurance companies, through the North Carolina Workmen's Compensation Insurance Rating Bureau, not only failed to make a case but made admissions tending to indicate that the rates should be lower than they actually are.

State Behind Huge Sums In Gas Tax Collections From Numerous Concerns

Raleigh, Oct. 6.—The revelation a week or so ago that Dave Pope, former chairman of the Wake county board of county commissioners owed the State of North Carolina $15,000 in gasoline taxes collected by his filling stations, has been causing a good many people to ask how it was possible for a gasoline dealer to get so far behind in the payment of his taxes. But the State Department of Revenue points to the law in answering the question, as well as to precedent in explaining the Pope case.

IS THIS FIRST U. S. OWNED ROAD?

Uncle Sam is rubbing his eyes, wondering whether he has fallen heir (unwittingly) to the Wheeling & Lake Erie railroad, prosperous coal carrier (in good times). The Reconstruction Finance Corporation took as collateral security, for a contingent $5,600,000 loan to the Nickel Plate railroad, 52 per cent holdings of the Nickel Plate in Wheeling & Lake Erie.

Due to the failure of the Nickel Plate to put through a refunding plan with noteholders by Oct. 1, the R. F. C. technically became the controlling factor in the Wheeling & Lake Erie. The notes on which the Nickel Plate defaulted, $20,000,000, were issued in 1929 to gain control of the Wheeling & Lake Erie in a spectacular fight, in which stock skyrocketed.
