MARRIAGES PARTIES SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

SOCIETY NEWS

ANHOUNCEMENTS

THE MARSH OCTOBER. Here, the heart of autumn; Here thin water's laughter; Here a scurrying brown hare, Wind loping after. Here a torn and empty nest, Candle-berries, haws Quiet closing in upon Black wings, and caws.

Here an hour that lingers. The while slow fingers take Bramby, scarlet-fruited toll of a brake

Here, the heart of autumn-Who remembers now. June will follow winter on A wild rose bough? Ethel Romig Fuller

Spend Day in Salisbury. Mr and Mrs. Clarence Newman and Miss Vashti Newman spent yesterday in Salisbury Attend Game. Mr and Mrs J. H. Brodie attended the Carolina-State game in Chapel Hill Saturday.

Visitors Here. Mr and Mis. J. I. Miller and Miss Lucie Miller, of Wilson, were visitors the city during the week-end.

Goes To Philadelphia. Miss Edna O'Neil has gore to Philscelphia it was learned today, to spend a few days there.

Week-End Here. S. J. Sullivan, of Fredericksburg. Va. spent the week-end with bel sister, Mrs. George W. Powell, on Week-Lind with Parents

Miss Nancy Chavasse, of Raleigh, spent the week-end in the city with re parents. Mr. and Mrs. S. R.

Guests of Mrs. Powell. Mr and Mrs. B. J. Sullivan, Mrs. Stewart Sullivan and little daughter, Nancy spent the week-end here with at and Mrs. George W. Powell on

Hallowe'en Party

Clark Street Parent-Teacher Associa-tion, was irdeel a success. The festive decorations were gay and attractive, carrying out in every detail the season's idea. Guessing contests were had and sale of candy, pop corn, pea-nits, and toys were had and many other enjoyable games. The costumes them were indeed original.

were exceptionally good and many of

The prizes for the best costume

Johnson. Prize for guessing beans in jan went to R. J. Turner.

wishes to express their thanks to all committees, judges, patrons and friends and especially wish to thank

M. C. Miles, W. C. Cates, C. B. Bas-kett, R. L. VanDyke, J. Maity, Alex

Watkins, H. M. Leckie, W. W. Park-

help in making this party a success last night.

CHAPPEN 25

was wrong. And she had never known what it was to live at the munity. Kay had driven from Cali-extension of her personality. Fourteen miles to Pelham were nothing at all to her She tiked Emilie's cool garden, with its bathing beach, and ito big striped umbreilus and Sepcially the men and street friends of took to drifting in on their way in

"She is like a wopse," said Giusep-round and buzzes round and you can't slap her away, and she makes dates with all the boys and takes their but it was quite true Kay was beto the fuming Manny, who had driven out twice in succession for a swim and a tete-a-tete with his flen cee, only to find Kay in possession, the second time guide and impre-sarie to a group of entirely strange doesn't really like me, and yet she comes, and brings people here with-a little, and smiling in spite of her-

"Well, no, they aren't, not people like her. You innocent, you romantic baby that won't grow up, won't you ever get over your code of pioneer

"Light, stranger." That girl goes where she gits, as a nigger said to me yesterday. She uses you, she ex-ploits you to these people. Can't you

"But that would be dishonest and horrid." protested Emilia. "Sure." said Manny. "How about

"Sure you don't want him, either?"

"I'll send a man tomorrow to put harhad wice on top of the wall, and a board saie," he said.

But also, it was while the map was doing this very thing that Kay and Dick drove coolly through limits. despairingly amused, yet saw with relief that Kay was not personally con-ducting anyons to the calebrity this afternoon. Only Dick. She had come scarcely to mind him, in comparison to Kay. "Well, girlie," Kay said brightly, said Emilia a little cross

anded with heat

Stoddard, does he come too?"

itality? This is no boundless

You don't have to say your head?" Manny

though I was afraid she'd be

"I ask you was she hurt?" said

ed friends of bers. "She said Emilia, frowning

coming a nuisance.

Manny sarcastically.

sobbed, didn't she?"

Emilia might rebuke Giuseppina.

"I don't understand her," she said

MANNY WAS RIGHT and Strolle

And she had never

The Parent-Teacher Association

To Attend Ball.

Davis street.

Miss Emily Stallings and Willis Stallings of Littleon, are expected in the city tonight to attend the second annual fancy dress ball at the West End Country Club.

Prayer Meeting Bond. The Prayer Meeting Band will meet

'emerrow evening at 7:30 o'clock in the name of Mrs. E. H. Faulkner on South William street, with Rev. L. B. Reals as leader.

Hallowe'en Party Tonight. The annual Hallowe'en party for members of the Junior department of the First Baptist Sunday school will be held tonight in the Junior department from 7 to 9 o'clock, it is an-

M. E. Class To Meet. A meeting of the Women's Wesley

Side class of the First Methodist to be held this evening at ock at the home of the presi-Mrs. T. B. Rose, Jr., on Charles After the business meeting, the will be in the form of a ween party, and all members are attend wearing appro-

Wins Beauty Prize.

Miss Mariion Worley, formerly of Henderson, has been chosen beauty queen in a contest sponsored by the rading merchants of Rocky Mount. About 30 young ladies were presented Miss Worley was given a silver loving cup and the title of "Miss Rocky Mount." She will compete in the Statewide contest to be held in Raleigh in December when "Miss North Carolina" will be chosen,

Mrs. Patterson to Have Bridge Club

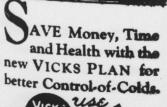

Mrs. A. D. Patterson will be the hosters at the regular weekly meeting of the Bridge Luncheon Club Wadsday morning at 11 o'clock in the Wast End Country Club. Members are equested to call Mrs. Patterson as as possible to make reservations bridge play.

Birth of Son. Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Ball announce the birth of a son, William Amos, Jr. Thursday, October 27, 1932.

GIFT SHOP OPENING

is interesting to note that Mrs. Emma S. Robb, who has been studyag applied art for some time is opening a unique studio in her home. Hand descrated gifts, toys plaques, hand tinted greeting and gift cards, also socked rugs will be on display at on the Oxford road every afternoon, beginning Wednesday, No-

Marian Martin Pattern

STUNNING - YOUTHFUL

PATTERN 9464

Tricky little capalets and close necklines are the details that make new frocks so new. In the model sketched the casualty thed source fur edged caplet (see small sketch if you'd like it without,) straight sleeves and the alimming panel with perky buttons. create a definite swagger that will delight any Mass. Lovely in wool or Pattern 9464 may be ordered only in sizes 12 to 20 and 30 to 40. Size 16 requires 3 yards 54 inch fabric and 1 1-4 yarde 2 inch fur banding. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included with this pattern.

To get a pattern of this model, send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred). Please write very plainly your NAME, AD-DRESS, STYLE NUMBER and SIZE of each pattern ordered.

for a complete collection of the smartest, most practical and easiestto-make styles, consult the MARIAN MARTIN FALL AND WINTER PATTERN CATALOG. Its 32 pages include beautiful models for juniors and kiddies, as well a sthe best of the new season's afternoon, evening, spor: and house frocks, lingerie and pajamas Exquisite items for gift sewing, too. SEND FOR YOUR COPY. PRICE OF CATALOG, FIFTEEN CENTS CATALOG AND PATTERN TO-GETHER. TWENTY-FIVE CENTS.

address all orders to The Daily Dispatch Pattern Department, 232 West 18th Street, New York City.

was greatly appreciated. The amount realized from the party was $45 which

The second annual fancy dress ball

the club at 10 o'clock with Charles L.

Carter as leader, and J. C. Kittrell and Finishing touches were put the de will carry out the Hallowe'en motif

and all is in readiness for the dance

During the intermission hour, sand-

Mrs. Hicks Some Better.

was reported some better today, al-

Mrs. T. T. Hicks general condition

"Oh, let up on Emilia," Dick said, you are. Let's just loaf around and

He threw himself - he still had grace—on the grass in the garden.

He was is a mood Smills had not seen so far; the sorced gentality and sood of tunny stories were missing,

Emilia had been sitting near her lit-tie plaster fountain, under a huge had not expected anyone so early and she had on an old white middy blouse and skirt; her yard-long golden braids hung over her shoul-ders for coolness. Dick looked up at her with the old admiration in his

"It's a comfort to look at a gir that would rather look pretty than smart," he said. "I believe you're bet-

Emilia, I love those Sutherland Sis-

"Well, thanks very much."

enapped Kay.
"Now, Kay, you brought me along were buddies, weren't we, Emille?"

tic edged nearer her on the grass, and reached out a lasy based to class

her sik-ciad angle.
"Don't, please," she said, drawing

"Not with me," Kay interrupted, sharp note in her voice. "Here, Dick.

you lay off Emilia. You're not engaged to her that I ever heard of."

"I was," said Dick, putting his hands decorously behind his head and napid decorously bearing in an ead an colling an eye of humorous mock-virtue at Emilia, "But she walked out on me. Threw me."

Emilia had had about all she could stand of them. She rose and said with an edge to her dignity. "You must be thirsty. I'll send out Sep-

She told Giuseppina to go out with ousekeeper put down the tray, saw her turn her broad back and tramp

"Waste good ginger ale on those dopes." Seppina said vindictively, re-turning. "Wait till Mr. Rose comes, that's all I got to say."

"Oh, is he coming out?" Emilia's heart lifted. Manny would get rid of them as she—she telt so hepelessly old-fashioned and incommentant — did not know how to do.

"Sure, he telephoned out a few minutes ago to know if you warm home. Surprising her, said he, but I guess you'd rather know. A lady wants to have time for delling up," Giusoppins beamed at the nearness ice and ginger ale and glass remained inside. But she could bear the bang with which her pass silently back to the house.

her foot under her.
"War's over, eh?" he said.

"she isn't as crazy over parties as practice."

wiches and coffee will beserved.

E. G. Glenn as assistants.

and fix up party."

eyes.

ters braids."

Proves A Success will be used for relief work in the school this winter.—Reported,

The Hallowe'en party given by the Fancy Dress Ball went to Helen Shepherd and Bobby corations today in the ball room, which er, Jr., and J. R. Stevenson. Their though she spent an unrestful night tonight.

students think of Miss Blanche versity.

Meet the most beautiful co-ed at | Waddell of Chicago, also heralded the University of Illinois, at Ur- as the most distinguished woman bana! At least that's what fellow student on the campus of the uni-

B. P. W. Members Here At Raleigh Meeting

HLINOIS MOST BEAUTIFUL CO-ED.

Tonight At Club The Henderson Business and Professional Women's club was well represented at the fourth district con of the West End Country ("lub is to presented tonight in the ball room of fernce held today at the Sir Walter hotel in Raleigh. Miss Elizabeth Fox of Henderson, chairman of the district, presided at the afternoon ses-

Miss Mary R. McElwee responded to the address of welcome from the Raleigh club, and Mrs. R. B. Green presented the matter of stabilizing club membership and led the discussion which followed. In the absence of Miss Neleine Perry, president of the local club, Mrs. Green also re ported on local club projects.

Other matters discussed at the gathering included "The Ten-Year Objectives;" "Program for Finding the Women in Unusual Occupations:

A ROMANCE

ered again. "Lemme tell 'em to beat

Emilia was on the edge of giving mission, when Dick walked into

"Kay's flounced off in a fit, car and

ail. She says all is over between us.

You have me on your hands, pretty.

She spoke quietly over her shoul-

"Seppina, telephone for a taxi."
Seppina bastened off to the tele-

"Now, now, is that kind?" proyou're still holding malice for catchtering, but it isn't worthy of you, pattle." His voice deepened, grew more wooing. "No girl's ever been te man's ever been to you all I was

You loved me like hell or you wouldn't have gone off and buried yourself that way. Why, every time

I'd be vain enough to say, 'Well had with Emilia made her the great woman she is today you haven't lived in vain."

the cheap sentiment, sickened her.

guage enough to get him to go. Yet.

after all she, and Robin, had to know it, cared for this man. That sharp contempt

memory softened her voice from too thing I could explain. It isn't worth while. Would you mind waiting for your taxi in the garden? I have some

"Come now, come now, darling," he said with a note in his voice which whe recognized with a final horror as heing that of real love. "Let's let bygones be bygones. We were just a couple of kids in wartims. God, it was a glorious time, though! Life's been drab ever sines. Till I saw you again. You're wartime to me, darling, wartime and kieses and—"

He caught her suddenly in his armas and began to kiss her. He was stronger than she. She fought siffetly to wrench away. She did not want to bring in Seppine.

most want to bring in Seppina, with her talkativeness, unless she must. "It sickens me to have you touch me," she said sharply. "Let me

At the contempt in her voice he did release her, but he did not give

GO SE CONSTITUTED

the recognized with a final horror a

"I'm not interested in you. I don't

She wondered if she talked his lan

The incredible complacent vanity.

ing me kissing that girl - why.

the living room, taughing still.

hone in the upper hall.

tested Dick.

an in to cheer up our prima donna or communic meeting. Then she low-

enapped Kay.

"Now, Kay, you brought me along yourself," he said, grinning. His hard eye and ear out of your hard cry and ear out of your hard cry and ear out of your hard cry suile that had been one of his chief charms flashed. "Emilia and I were buddies, weren't was Emilia?"

Were samp your and ear out of your hard cry and ear out of your samples of yours, I've said to myself, "That's my own girl up there. I was the great love of her life.' And when you were buddies, weren't was Emilia?"

But deed nearway her one the great love of her life.' And when your voice the deed nearway her one the great love of her life.' And when your wice the deed nearway her one the great love of her life.' And when your voice

Margaret Widdemer

MISS ELIZABETH FOX

The Southeast Economic Councill: and "The Institute of Government. The banquet tonight is to be attended by members from Rocky Mount. Henderson and Raleigh, and many from clubs in other parts of the State. including all the State officers. Short addresses are to be made by several women in unusual occupations, with the principal address by Mrs. Eudora Richardson, of Richmond, Va., na tional field representative.

Those from the Henderson club attending one or both of the sessions today were named as follows: Misses Elizabeth Fox, Carrie Draper, Mary R. McElwee, Bennett Tyler, Annie Haines Collins, Lucy Taylor, Carrie Salmon, Meta Rooker, Maveleine Weems, Lucy Hayes, and Mesdames R. B. Green, W. D. Massee, Cawford Daniel, Silas Powell, W. E. Wilson, Marvin Davis, D. L. Kearney, W. B. Waddill, W. E.

Mission Auxiliary

The Ladies' Missionary Auxiliary of Union Chapel Methodist Protestant Church met with Mrs. T. A. Stone on the Raleigh Road Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock with Mrs. A. E. Woodlef in charge of the program for the even-

Mrs. Woodlief presented the following program: "Time To Be Holy."

Second quarterly report of evenelistic department of China," Miss Question Box, Miss Lessie Woodlief. gelistic department of China," A Chinese conversion, Mrs. C. L.

Following the program, the meeting was turned over to Mrs. Spencer, the president, who presided over a short business session. Eighteen members were present. Reports were given from 'he circles, showing a total of $19.45 raised, with $12 being given by the Young People's circle.

Rev. C. D. Spencer.

Mrs. Stone, assisted by her daugher, Miss Helen Stone, served appleand home made candy.

Club Formed By' Music Students

The pupils of Mrs. J. B. Martin's class in plane met Satunday morning at her home on Granite street and organized a music class. Twelve mem-bers were carolled, and officers for the year elected as follows: President, Alice Harrison; vice-president, Ada Rose Yow; secretary and treasurer Nellie Grey Kittrell.

The main purpose of the club is to study the history of music and the lives of great composers, and to learn to play and appreciate the music of the composers.

Music Lovers Club was the name chosen for the organization, as all of its members love music.

After the business was concluded. Ada Rose Yow gave a musical reading and selections were played by Dorothy McDuffle, Marine Ann Haw-kins, Ann Evans, and Alice Harrison, all of which were greatly enjoyed. A musical game followed, in which An nie Shelton Dunkley won the prize. Light refreshments were served.

"Blue Moon" Gives Queer and Unusual

About once in a blue moon some thing queer, something phenomenial something ridiculous or absurd, like the birth of Siamese twins, occurs to arouse widespread interest, and be recalled as folklore years afterwards So many of these outstanding freaks turned up along with the romance and drama in "Once In A Blue Moon" and caused the author to give it that

The play will be presented Thursday and Friday evenings at the Central school auditorium.

The acting all takes place a popular business men's club where anything might happen; where popular people gather to play, from infants just out of arms. On his particular evening when those stirring events which happen but "Once In A Blue Moon" come to pass. There is a masquerade ball in progress. Naturally the tired business man must have his beautiful chorus girls danring the latest steps, singing the latest songs. There are two choruses, once consisting of nine girls and another of 12. Then there is the opening chorus when the club mem bers have gatebred in the evening to while away a few hours. They wise crack and they joke, they sing songs led by their harmonizing quartet.

Following their exit, complications begin to develop, some vastly amusing others dramatic for "Once In A Blue Moon" has its serious moments, its stories to tell. The audience is introduced to the town's ex-beau Brummel fellow who thinks he is get ting along in years still fancies himself a hot shot with women. Kitty Davis, a ravishing beauty, is in town on a visit and Uncle Johnny -Fuller, the aging dandy falls madly in love with her. He's always : it but this he assured his friends is different.

And who could blame him when seeking his sweet Kitty, he runs into little Bo-Peep and is grossly misled into believing that she is the object of his dreams. Her face, Jehovah, save the mask, is covered and her figure is as chic and lithesome as any Betty Co-Eds. And there that blooming for tune telling whispering the wrong information in his ear. The complica tions he runs into are enough to any dashing Romeo envy the celibracy of the ascentic mash. But this bilarious affair Uncle Johnny and his adoring Bo-Peep mingles with a more serious complication, that of the deathless love of the wistful Kitty Dayls and Gant.-Reporteg.

M. P. BARACA CLASS WILL HAVE SUPPER

The Methodist Protestant Baracs class will have a supper tomorrow might for its members at 7 o'clock at IN LOVING MEMORY OF JOHN WILLIARD NEWMAN.

One year ago today as the twilight was fading into evening, our boy looked up into my face as he was nearing the end of his journey here, and said, "Mother, I am riding, it is such a sweet ride, won't you ride with me?' In a few minutes the ride had ended here, and we feel it landed him safely home over there. Williard, our hearts are breaking, for we still miss

"Here let us wait in patience Wait 'till the night is o'er Wait 'til we see the morning With you on the Golden Shore. October 31, 1932, 7:15 o'clock.

Banded With Ermine

This street frock which Sheila Terry is wearing is black banded with ermine. It has the wellliked bell sleeves and cape collar, both of which are embellished with the fur.

which time officers for the new year will be elected. The members of the Baraca baseball team will also be guests at the supper. The secretary urges all members possible to attend this important meeting.

It was not in Hebrew or in Latin but in Greek, that Christianity was

Loses $30,000

While Helene Costello, screen actress, was in a beauty parlor in Los Angeles, three robbers invaded her luxurious Hollywood home and walked off with jewels valued at more than $30,000. The gunmen bound and gagged a Filipino servant before the robbery. Miss Costello recently obtained a divorce from Loweil Sherman, film actor.

Announcement

We are pleased to announce that we have secured

Mrs. Helen Arnold

Who will be in charge of our Beauty Salon. Mrs. Arnold is a thoroughly experienced and capable beauty operator, which assures our patrons of the very best service.

Mrs. Arnold invites all of her friends to come to see her in her new location.

CITY BARBER SHOP BEAUTY SALON

Phone 140-W. J. Parham, Prop.

Has Regular Meet

Scripture reading. Prayer, Rev. C. L. Spencer. Theme: "Studies in the Portrait of and contests had, carrying out the Jallowe'en ide a.

The meeting closed with prayer for he work and workers in China by A social hour followed with games