Northampton, Mass., Jan. 6.—(AP)—Calvin Coolidge goes to his long rest tomorrow amid the austere hills of his native Vermont, and the thoughts of a nation he led will follow the simple cortege.

The services will be as simple as the life he led. That is the keynote of the funeral under preparation today for the thirtieth president—struck down yesterday by a heart attack that came swiftly and left him dead with an expression of peace on his face.

While expressions of mourning came from all over the world, plans were laid for a funeral that, despite

INCOME TAXES WILL BE SHOT UP HIGHER

Beer Levy, Continuation of Gasoline Tax and $100,000,000 Slash in Appropriations Under Hoover Budget Agreed Upon at New York Parley

New York, Jan. 6.—(AP)—A Democratic program to balance the national budget now, without necessity of an extra session of the new Congress this spring, has been evolved here at a conference between President-elect Franklin D. Roosevelt and congressional leaders.

It calls for an increase in income taxes; enactment of the proposed levy of 3.2 percent beer; continuation of the gasoline tax and a $100,000,000 slash in appropriations below the Hoover budget.

The new tax plan provides for a boost in the normal income tax rates from four percent on the first $4,000 net income, and eight percent on incomes above that to six percent and 12 percent respectively.

It also proposes a cut in exemptions for married persons from $2,500 to $2,000, and a continuation of the present slash for single persons from $1,500 to $1,000.

Mr. Roosevelt who has banned the sales tax recommended by President Hoover, presided over the conference, which was held last night. In a subsequent talk with newspapermen, he declined to comment, except to say he did not disagree with these suggestions for legislation.

The Democrats said the Hoover estimate for the deficit next year was $492,000,000. They accepted this disputed figure, and based their calculations accordingly.

Raleigh, Jan. 6.—The emphatic declarations made by Governor J. C. B. Ehringhaus in his inaugural address in favor of more drastic governmental economies and favorable impression both upon the members of the General Assembly as well as upon the thousands of people who either heard him personally or listened to his address over the radio, according to the comment heard afterwards.

The frequent applause that punctured his address indicated that it was like music to the ears of the thousands of overburdened taxpayers who listened to it. But while there is no doubt that both the members of the General Assembly as well as of the audience of more than 4,000 people that listened to Governor Ehringhaus' address here yesterday afternoon heartily approved of his declarations in favor of reducing governmental expenses to the

Raleigh, Jan. 6.—O. Max Gardner today is again a private citizen and only an ex-governor, back in his home in Shelby. But while he is no longer here he is not forgotten. There are evidences of his influence to be seen and felt on every hand. Raleigh will not soon forget the man who came into office heralded as one of the most popular governors the State had ever had, who within two years became perhaps the most unpopular governor the State has had, because of his defiance of county and State political machines in 1931 in an effort to relieve the taxpayers of the State, and who has now left office with most

The House increased the membership of the governmental survey committee to five representatives and three senators, increasing House representation by one member, and the measure was sent back to the Senate, which passed it in a very short session this morning.
