Governor and Council Of State Endorse $400,000 Loan by R. F. C.

Daily Dispatch Bureau, In the Sir Walter Hotel, BY J. C. BASKERVILL.

Raleigh, June 2: - A port terminal at Morehead City with piers, docks and warehouse costing $400,000, is believed assured as the result of the action taken by the Council of State here Friday in adopting a resolution Morehead City Port Commission to the Reconstruction Finance Coropra tion for a loan with which to build the terminal. In this resolution, the governor and Council of State agreed to sponsor legislation in the nexe session of the General Assembly to provide that in case the terminal does not earn income enough to amortize the R. F. C. loan, the State will make up the difference from the ren tal received from the lease of the Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad to the Norfolk Southern. The Council of State was so enthusiastic over the plan that it would have agreed to this now but for the fact that special legislation is necessary to enable it to do so.

Now that the proposal has been endorsed by the governor and the council Representative Luther Hamilton, of Carteret county, who presented the plan to the council, and who is also representing the port commission before the Reconstruction Fi-

TAKEN FROM CATAWBA

Belonged to President of Bank of Catawba; Stolen When Bank Was Robbed Last November Found Near Charlotte

Chicago, June 24.—(AP)—A lock oox bearing the label of the Catawba Bank, Catawba, N. C., containing several thousand dollars worth of valuable, was found in the Catawba river today by a foreman working on the Wilkinson Boulevard bridge over that stream.

A gold watch was engraved with the initials: "C.H.L."

Frank Davis, the foreman, found the box in shallow water about 100 feet from the Gaston county shore line. The river divides Mecklenburg and Gaston counties.* It contained among other things several $1,000 Liberty bonds bank notes, notes now in force, cancelled notes, insurance policies, travelers' checks, the watch and several empty money bags that had been cut open. The box wa slocked and the key still in the lock. he contents were soaked but the box had very little rust in it.

Authorities said the box apparently had been thrown from an automobile crossing the bridge toward Charlotte. The box is about 20 inches long 12 inches wide and four inches deep.

Mystery surrounded the nature of the communication to Mr. Bruce, who declined to discuss the matter with newspaper men.

Americans were continuing their drive over the week-end to obtain Australian adherence. Australia is the only nation lacking among the major producers, including Canada, Argentine and Russia, which already have given the stamp of general approval to the plan.

The week-end found a decidedly more optimistic atmosphere surround ing the conference than existed a few days ago, when the stabilization battle was at its height, and some gold standard countries, including France, apparently were prepared to walk out the parley if America should not

With that question at least temporarily solved, through a Franco-American reapproachment, achieved largely through the diplomacy of former Governor James M. Cox, of Ohio
