"Well Tempered and Tolerant"; Expresses Appreciation for State's Support of Roosevelt Work

Greensboro, July 6 (AP)—Postmaster General James A. Farley, delivering the principal address at the dedication of Greensboro's new Federal building today, lauded North Carolina as a "pioneer of the Southern States" and paid high tribute to its "outstanding public officials and citizens" and reiterated his firm stand for prohibition repeal.

The chairman of the Democratic national committee had arrived only a few hours earlier by train to be welcomed by hundreds of citizens and dignitaries. This is his first visit to the State as a speaker.

Mr. Farley congratulated Greensboro on its "great record of progress" as a manufacturing center, pointed to the Southern States in the manufacture of cotton, and said, "I want to congratulate and express my appreciation of some of your outstanding public officials and citizens, who aided in the nomination and election of President Roosevelt, and who have given him their support in his efforts to rescue the nation from the blight of the depression we have experienced so severely for the past four years."

Speaking of prohibition, Mr. Farley reiterated that he is "for the repeal of the eighteenth amendment, the President is for repeal, and the national party platform declares for repeal of the amendment. It is my firm belief that repeal will decrease the evils in drinking."

Farley estimated revenue to the government resulting from repeal of the eighteenth amendment would not be less than $800,000,000 annually.

Mr. Farley expressed the hope that North Carolina's campaign for a vote November 7 on a convention to pass or repeal would be "well tempered and tolerant," and that "where you must differ, you will do so in peace and within the bounds of the party."

Investigate
'Murder' of
S. C. Negro

Was Not Lynching,
Governor Blackwood Says, of
Affair Near Clinton

Clinton, S. C., July 4 (AP)—State constables joined local authorities in an investigation today of the slaying of Lawrence Denny, 35-year-old Negro, described by Governor Ibra C. Blackwood as a "murder, not a lynching."

Some 12 hours after he was taken from the small unguarded town by four unknown white men, the Negro's body was found in a church yard seven miles from here.

A rope was around his neck, his face bore wounds which indicated he had been beaten severely and his arms and legs were tied.

Denny had been arrested for striking a white man and resisting arrest on a Fourth of July fight.

After a coroner's jury was empaneled and viewed the body an inquest was postponed until next week as officers sought more evidence.

SCHAUB EXPECTING PROGRAM SUCCESS

Despite Slowness in Cotton
Signing, Director Is Still Optimistic

WORK IS SPEEDING UP

Additional Contact Men Employed in Drive and Those Already Active
Are Becoming More Efficient in Efforts

Raleigh, July 6.—The apparent slowness with which signed contracts are being received from cotton growers should in no way be construed as indicating a lack of interest in the reduction program, according to Dean I. O. Schaub, in charge of the cotton production campaign in this State.

County agents first appointed local committees on the basis of one to each 100 growers. It soon became evident that these committees could only visit and inspect the fields of about five growers a day. Some of the committees have reported that it is impossible to explain the contract, visit the field or fields offered for reduction and secure the definite information needed to make an estimate of the average yield for a large number of growers each day.

In some instances more committees are being secured so as to facilitate the work. As these new men gain experience it is expected that the campaign will speed up.

Growers are becoming aware of the necessity to cooperate with the government to the fullest extent, Dean Schaub added. The present crop is growing rapidly and with the large acreage planted there is ample foundation for the belief that another huge crop will be harvested to add to the cotton surplus already existing. Dr. Schaub said this campaign will determine definitely whether the cotton farmers of the South are willing to cooperate with their government in the attempt to help solve the serious problem of over-production. For the campaign to fall would be a tragedy for the South.

However, contracts are being received more rapidly as the local workers gain experience, and the director says the reduction movement may be a success in spite of present handicaps.

ROOSEVELT THINKS MOST PROGRESS IS IN GOING IT ALONE

Avoidance of Further International Commitments
Considered Best Way
Out For Time

SELF-SUFFICIENCY
FEELING IS SENSED

Washington, July 6.—(AP)—Indications were seen in the capital today that President Roosevelt now believes the United States, for the time being, can make better domestic progress against the depression by avoiding further international commitments.

Some interpreters of political events claim to have found many signs of a developing spirit of American self-sufficiency.

Among these, they said, were the President's attitude toward the London economic conference, and the United States withdrawal from the international convention for the abolition of imports and exports prohibition restrictions.

Lauds Roosevelt For Quick Moves Upon Farm Loans

University, Va., July 6.—(AP)—President Roosevelt was praised for refusing to delay a decision of the farm loan problems by Dr. A. Wellington Taylor, dean of the graduate school of business administration at New York University, in speaking today before the Institute of Public Affairs round table on the banking and financial situation.

"Regardless of whether we like or dislike certain of President Roosevelt's comprehensive and energetic program for ending the depression, I do not believe there can be any difference of opinion as to his wisdom and efforts to solve the farm mortgage problem," Dean Taylor said.

5 Speakers Promise To Urge Repeal

To Address Open
"Repeal Prohibition"
Meeting At Wrightsville

Charlotte, July 6.—(AP)—Five of the seven speakers invited by John H. Small, Jr., Charlotte attorney, to address an open "repeal prohibition" meeting at Wrightsville Beach Saturday have accepted. Small said here today.

Senator Robert R. Reynolds, Robert Lassiter, of Charlotte, State chairman of the United Repeal Council; Thomas W. Davis, Wilmington attorney; Mrs. May Evans, of High Point, vice-president of the State Young Democrats; and John H. Small, Sr., of Washington, have accepted. Small said.

Mrs. Louis M. Bourne, of Washington, and T. D. Warren, of New Bern, have also been invited to speak.

Small has drafted a resolution favoring a repeal of the eighteenth amendment, which he said he would ask the Young Democrats to adopt.

North Carolina Cotton Quota Is Still Distant

State headed for repeal majority

Caribbean Storm To Strike Texas

Washington, July 6.—(AP)—Falling barometric pressure at Brownsville, Texas, was interpreted by the Weather Bureau this morning as indicating a tropical disturbance moving in from the Caribbean was not more than six hours away from the lower Texas coast.

Apparently in the absence of reports from vessels or other data to the contrary, the season's first Caribbean storm is following the course it set a day or two ago, officials said, and will come inland at the mouth of the Rio Grande river near Brownsville. It was expected to be accompanied by winds of hurricane force near the center and by gales over a wider area.

Daily Increase in Number of Contracts Received Reported by Dean Schaub, However

MUST PICK UP FAST TO ATTAIN SUCCESS

Campaign Slated to Close Saturday Night; Only Small Percent of 90,000 Cotton in State Have Been Asked To Sign, Schaub Says

Raleigh, July 6.—(AP)—North Carolina's quota of 363,000 acres of this year's cotton crop for retirement under the Federal reduction program is "still distant" despite a daily increase in the number of contracts being received, Dean I. O. Schaub, of State College, State director, said today.

A "sharp increase" in returns must be made if the quota is to be reached by Saturday night when the campaign is slated to end, Schaub said.

"Reports indicate that only a small percentage of the State's 90,000 cotton growers have been asked to sign reduction contracts," the N. C. State College Extension Division said.

Many Prohibitionists Will Support It But Bill Vote State Dry

Raleigh, July 6.—A majority of the voters in North Carolina will vote for repeal of the eighteenth amendment, and for a convention to ratify the twenty-first amendment that will repeal the prohibition amendment, if sentiment continues to grow along these lines as it has the past few weeks, according to the belief in political circles here. It is already a foregone conclusion that the State convention of Young Democratic Clubs to be held in Wrightsville Beach on Saturday will go on record as favoring repeal by an overwhelming vote and that most of the Young Democrats will be active in the pre-election campaign. It is not expected however, that the convention will instruct the Young Democrats to take part in the campaign as an organization, since it is agreed by most of the leaders in both parties that the campaign should be carried on along non-partisan lines. But more and more Democrats and Republicans, both young and old, are coming out in open advocacy for repeal.

The biggest factor in the changing sentiment here in North Carolina with regard to repeal, observers agree, is the realization on the part of most people, even those who in the past have been strongly in favor of this amendment and prohibition that there is not and has not been any such thing as prohibition. Most of these are now willing to admit that the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead act have not stopped the manufacture or drinking of hard liquors that there is probably more drinking among girls and boys of high school age than ever before and that the average bootleg liquor is inferior in quality to that formerly manufactured under government supervision.

Recognition For Russia Is Studied

Washington, July 6 (AP)—The United States is going to make an official study of the problems involved in recognition of Soviet Russia.

Today Lawrence Steinhard, minister to Sweden, starts to Europe for that study. The announcement of his specific mission was made at the White House. Many held that it added force to arguments that America's more friendly relations might bring official recognition to the land of communism.

Just a few days ago the Reconstruction Corporation, quasi-Federal agent, with President Roosevelt's approval, announced loans around $4,000,000 to finance the sale of cotton to Russia.

MONEY AND TARIFF WILL BE EXCLUDED UNDER HULL'S PLAN

Decision Reached After All-Day Battle of Steering Committee for an Agreement

MEANS BIG VICTORY FOR UNITED STATES

Secretary Hull Hero of Session, With Roosevelt Entirely Vindicated In His Demand That Stabilization Be Omitted From Consideration Now

London, July 6.—(AP)—The world economic conference will continue, but monetary and tariff matters will be excluded, the steering committee of the parley decided this evening.

The decision came after a serious battle, and was a victory for Cordell Hull, American secretary of state, who, on instructions from President Roosevelt, had stoutly insisted that the conclave must continue its attempt to solve pressing world problems.

France and other members of the European gold bloc advocated formal conclusion for the major activities of the conference.

The morning session of the steering committee lasted three hours and a half, but was unable to arrive at a decision. The evening session, however, was comparatively brief, ending in triumph for the American position.

In the meantime, a drafting committee, of which Secretary Hull was a member had been at work on a proposed program of future activities for the parley.

The conference, therefore, will continue in session for the discussion of economic questions, except tariffs.

ROOSEVELT MUCH PLEASED AT CONFERENCE DECISION

Washington, July 6.—(AP)—President Roosevelt smiled in deep satisfaction today on receiving the news of the victory of the American delegation for continuance of the London economic conference.

The continuation was one without the yielding of his position against the demands of European gold blocs for immediate currency stabilization.

WOULD MAKE STATES BALANCE UP BUDGET

Washington, July 6.—(AP)—Lewis Douglas, director of the budget, proposed today that states be required to balance their budgets before the Federal government permits them to participate in the $3,300,000,000 public works program.

GUARDSMEN AT MUTINY AT PRISON

Brooksville, Fla., July 6.—(AP)—National Guardsmen hurried to Toole Lake prison camp today in a determined offensive to smash an armed mutiny.

Striking convicts numbering about 30, and described by jailers as "bad actors," were barricaded in the stockade and armed with knives, slugs and bottles. They have defied prison authorities since Tuesday noon.

Civilian authorities predicted "real trouble" in storming the stockade. Sheriff Laws said he thought the convicts may have killed one of their number, possibly for attempting to desert.

The prisoners have smashed a sweet box and ignored demands for a sub-solon.

Commissioner Mayo, in charge of the prison system, said the fight apparently was started by convicts disgruntled because the prison board failed to act favorably on pleas for clemency.

MADE BIG PROFIT UPON STOCK SOLD TO PENNSYLVANIA

Washington, July 6.—(AP)—Frank E. Taplin, Cleveland capitalist, told Senate investigators today much of the stock he sold to Pennroad Corporation in 1929 for $170 a share cost $52.50 several years earlier.

The stock in question was 222,930 shares of Pittsburgh and West Virginia he sold to the Pennroad Corporation, Pennsylvania railroad holding company, and had been accumulated over a period of years.

The Pennroad Corporation paid $38,000,000 for the stock at the rate of $170 when the market price was between $110 and $140.
