

WAYNICK TO MAKE HOME IN RALEIGH

Daily Dispatch Bureau. In the Sir Walter Hotel. By J. C. BASKERVILLE. Raleigh, Aug. 2.—(AP)—Capus M. Waynick, director of the re-employment work in North Carolina, has cast his residence in Raleigh for the campaign and this week-end Mrs. Waynick comes down to join him in the housekeeping.

The "house" is awaiting Washington, and containing some of his belongings before giving out any appearance for this present. There is a great interest in them as well as in the many thousands whose employment will pass through his office.

Mr. Waynick, who was a member of the 1933 Senate and of the 1931 House had the experience of two long parliaments and they equipped him finely for the work that he undertakes. Raleigh gets one grand thrill from the coming of the two Waynicks. The first was a member of the two legislatures, the second of the "Sir Walter Cabinet," a third house composed of wives of the legislators.

NO MOVE TO RAISE STATE WAGE LEVEL

In the Sir Walter Hotel. Daily Dispatch Bureau. BY J. C. BASKERVILLE.

Raleigh, Aug. 2.—Budget Bureau members who were here Monday to pass on some salaries not previously determined by bureau act, say the State did not reach the issue of lifting the recently reduced salaries partially back.

The 38 per cent cut under the 1931 level has gone into effect, but the basis on which this heavy slash was made has changed. The costs of living have risen in the same ratio and the new low levels embarrass more now than they ever have done. The budget bureau may restore 18 per cent of these cuts, but it is said by the budget bureau that there is no present outlook that such upbringing will be ordered. Nor is there any desire to get a special session of the General Assembly to do this work.
