

SOUTH CAROLINA JOINS IN TOBACCO HOLIDAY

Bodies Of Four Men Are Washed Ashore From Pamlico Sound

SET OUT WEDNESDAY ON A FISHING JAUNT FROM SOUTH CREEK

Finding of Bodies First Intimation Expedition Had Met With Disaster There

THEIR FRAIL BOAT VERY LIKELY SANK

No Trace of Craft Is Found; Two Bodies White Men and Two Negroes, All Residents of Near Aurora; Investigation of Tragedy Is Started

Washington, N. C., Sept. 1.—(AP)—The bodies of four men of a party of six who set out on a fishing trip Wednesday washed ashore near South Creek today.

Finding of the bodies was the first indication the expedition had met with disaster. Two of the bodies were those of white men, two of Negroes. A white man and another Negro were missing.

All were occupants of a small fishing boat that set out near South Creek, 25 miles from here.

The body of Lee Cutler, 40, was found last night and parties immediately set out on a search for the other occupants of the boat. This morning the searchers found the bodies of Ed Deal, 45; John Sheppard, 25, Negro; and Jerry Warren, 30, Negro. W. A. Jones, 21, and Ernest Barrow, 30, Negro, were missing. Searchers held no hope for their lives.

All six lived near Aurora, and had left their homes to go fishing in the Pamlico river Wednesday. They were last seen a few hours after departing. The party did not return Wednesday.

JUDGE BIGGS GETS HIGH HONOR OF BAR

Grand Rapids, Mich., Sept. 1.—(AP)—Solicitor General J. Crawford Biggs, of Raleigh, N. C., was nominated for vice-president of the fourth circuit at the closing session of the American Bar Association convention here today.

SLEEPING SICKNESS DEATHS INCREASING

Mysterious Outbreak More Deadly Last Week Than Previous Three

St. Louis, Sept. 1 (AP)—During the last week the mysterious outbreaks of encephalitis, or "sleeping sickness," have taken more lives and affected nearly as many persons as it did in the first three and a half weeks that it gripped this district. Twenty-seven deaths and 185 cases were attributed to the disease during the last seven days.

Capital And Labor Find Peace Under Blue Eagle

(By the Associated Press) The blue eagle with an olive branch in its beak flew higher and thither over the industrial scene today to settle the distinction between capital and labor.

The National Labor Board at Washington announced an agreement to call off a strike of 12,000 union hosiery workers set to begin today in Philadelphia.

At Milwaukee, union officials announced that 2,000 union hosiery workers there would also call off a strike planned for today.

NRA a la Mode

Not content with talking NRA, Miss Mary E. Hughes, national head of the women's divisions of the Blue Eagle organization, introduces the new-familiar insignia into her clothes. She is shown during a conference in Philadelphia wearing the Blue Eagle scarf. Fashion moguls may copy, and soon we shall see the recovery bird on every thing but our morning cereal.

Hitler Is Cheered As If A King

Nurnberg, Germany, Sept. 1.—(AP)—No king opening parliament was ever received more enthusiastically than was Chancellor Adolf Hitler today when amid the shouts of 15,000 selected Nazi followers, flocked there for the fifth party congress he slowly strode through the long convention hall to the rostrum.

These delegates to the biennial congress, the first since the Hitlerites came into power, owe their present authority of Hitler, and here had an opportunity to show their gratitude by shouting, applauding and saluting. The hall was a riot of brown, and it seemed like a gathering of military men, although Hitler's press chief, addressing 1,500 correspondents from all parts of the world, assured them that "the Nazi storm troopers have no military character whatever, and are merely political soldiers who conquered bolshevism."

Capital And Labor Find Peace Under Blue Eagle

Senator Robert F. Wagner, chairman of the labor board, said this bill was the only one in Philadelphia which had refused to accept the board's proposed settlement involving a free election among workers to decide whether they wanted a union or non-union policy.

The NRA was trying to compose a silk strike in Paterson, N. J., where union officials announced yesterday that 90 per cent of the 7,000 workers had left their looms.

They demand collective bargaining agreements, a $36 wage scale and a 30-hour week, two looms and one shift system. A code presented by the Silk Association of America calls for a $13 minimum wage, 40 hours, four looms and two shifts.

FORD DRAWS FIRE FROM JOHNSON

Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, Henry Ford, right, Detroit auto magnate, said to be planning a code of his own which may contain provisions for higher wages and shorter hours, has drawn the fire of General Hugh S. Johnson, left, administrator of the NRA.

Henry Ford for his failure to join with other auto manufacturers in the general code prescribed for the industry. Ford, the individualist, has remained mysteriously aloof and had no representative at the hearings on the automobile code.

Northern Coast Of Cuba Is Struck By Hurricane

Moving Northwestward With Moderate Intensity; British Freighter in Distress and Sends Out SOS Calls; Storm Due To Hit Havana This Afternoon

Miami, Fla., Sept. 1 (AP)—Richard W. Gray, government weather observer here, said a tropical disturbance near Havana caused a wind velocity of 50 miles an hour in that city at 1 p. m. today. The barometer there registered 29.45 and Gray said the center of the storm probably would pass Havana about 2 o'clock.

Miami, Fla., Sept. 1.—(AP)—Attended by gales over a considerable area, and winds of hurricane force near the center, a tropical storm today swept along the northern shore of Cuba, putting a British freighter in distress while a second disturbance was reported near Porto Rico.

In a 10 a. m. advisory received by the Weather Bureau from Washington, the new disturbance was located as between central about 170 miles northeast of Porto Rico, moving west or northward. The advisory said it was of "at least moderate intensity."

Meantime, caught in the path of the first storm near Cayo Bahia del Cadiz, about 100 miles east of Havana the freighter Josephine Gray broadcast an SOS, saying it required "immediate assistance."

SALES TAX ON ICE WON'T BE CHARGED

Exempt from Levy If Sold by Manufacturers, Maxwell Ruling Says

Raleigh, Sept. 1.—Ice sold direct to consumers by manufacturers from wagons or trucks owned and operated by them, is not subject to the three per cent general sales tax, according to a ruling just issued by the sales tax division of the Department of Revenue and signed by both Director Harry McMullan and Commissioner of Revenue A. J. Maxwell.

Several days ago the sales tax division issued a ruling that sales made from wagons, even though operated by manufacturers, were retail sales and that hence the sale of ice from ice wagons and trucks would be subject to the sales tax.

The message, intercepted by Tropical Radio here, said the ship's operator was unable to communicate with the bridge because of sea and wind.

In an advisory received by the Weather Bureau here from Washington, the disturbance this morning was located as being central on the Cuban coast 100 miles east of Havana, moving west or slightly north of west at about 17 miles an hour.

Accompanied by shifting gales, over a considerable area, and by winds of hurricane force near the center, the storm will pass near Havana early this afternoon, the advisory said.

The Weather Bureau at Key West reported that Havana had a barometer reading of 29.76 this morning, with wind velocity of 36 miles an hour from the north. The wind direction indicated the center of the storm was east of Havana.

Only slight winds were felt at Miami.

Deny Bail Graveyard Slayings

Elizabeth City, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Wilton Forbes and Winfred McPherson, were denied bail to superior court in a hearing before Judge Walter L. Small here today in the graveyard slaying near Shiloh recently of Earl Barnard.

Hubert Whitehurst, testified at the hearing on August 21 that he and Barnard, with whom he believed, heard a noise during the night and went to protect some liquor he and Barnard had hidden in a cemetery near his home.

Two men appeared shot Barnard and fled. Forbes and McPherson were arrested on complaints of Barnard's brother.

REVENUE OF STATE SHOWS GAIN DURING MONTH JUST ENDED

General Fund Receipts Alone Are $3,045,736, Against $1,977,824 In August, 1933

EXPECT SALES TAX TO REACH $550,000

Beer Tax Revenue $39,930, and Highway Income $1,345,560, Compared With $1,258,504 In August Last Year, Maxwell's Reports Indicate

Daily Dispatch Bureau, In the Star-Walter Hotel, BY J. C. BASKERVILLE.

Raleigh, Sept. 1.—State revenue collections in August for the general fund alone amounted to $3,045,736 as compared with collections in August, 1932, of $1,977,824. This total, of course includes the first month's collection of revenue from the three per cent sales tax, which amounted to $358,579. The Department of Revenue believes that the total collections from the sales tax for the first month of its operation, will amount to fully $550,000 when the tax has been paid on all charge sales as well as on cash sales, and when those companies that have been granted extensions, make their sales tax payments.

The beer tax brought in a total of $39,930 during August, bringing the total revenue from beer for July and August to $78,999.

An appreciable increase in revenue from almost all sources, with the exception of collections from the franchise tax, are shown in the August collections as compared with those in August, 1932. This apparent decrease in revenue from the franchise tax, however, is purely temporary and not real, according to Commissioner of Revenue A. J. Maxwell, who explains that this is reassessment year, causing a delay in getting reports from corporations that pay this tax, thus throwing the payments later than otherwise would be the case.

Collections from the gasoline and motor vehicle taxes are also showing a substantial increase over August of last year, with a total of $1,345,560.

REYNOLDS PLANS TO SPEAK FOR REPEAL

Will Be In Thick of Campaign This Fall When Things Get Hot

Daily Dispatch Bureau, In the Star-Walter Hotel, BY J. C. BASKERVILLE.

Raleigh, Sept. 1.—Senator Robert Reynolds is planning to make at least two radio speeches, probably over a statewide hook-up, advocating repeal of the eighteenth amendment, when the campaign gets under way this fall, it was learned here today. Senator Reynolds has advised several friends here that he will make these speeches unless something very unusual develops in Washington to detain him there.

Friends of the senator who have seen him since his return to Washington after having spent almost the entire month of August in Hot Springs, Ark., say he has been greatly benefited and that he looks and

Contracts Signed For Navy Vessels

Washington, Sept. 1.—(AP)—A contract for a patrol boat to be called the Charleston, and which will be constructed at the Charleston, S. C., navy yards, was signed today by Secretary of the Navy Claude A. Swanson.

The secretary attached his signature to 37 contracts for vessels to be constructed out of the $236,000,000 allotted the navy from the public works fund and from congressional appropriations.

Contracts have already been let and work will start immediately.

ALL SALES SUSPENDED IN BOTH CAROLINAS ON GOVERNORS' PLEA

Closes Warehouses

GOV. J. C. B. EHRLINGHAUS

This State Halts Sale Of Tobacco

Governor Asks Warehousemen and Growers To Desist Until Prices Go Up

Raleigh, Sept. 1.—(AP)—North Carolina's huge tobacco markets, which supply much of the world's smoking needs, go on a voluntary holiday tomorrow by proclamation of Governor J. C. B. Ehringhaus.

Calling upon farmers and warehousemen to refrain from sales of the flue-cured crop until the government acts to raise prices, Governor Ehringhaus issued the proclamation last night.

Although without warning of the action, warehousemen of the New Bright Leaf belt, which opened sales last Tuesday with prices disappointing to growers, indicated their cooperation.

At their request, the governor modified the holiday demand so that sales could continue today to clear floors of millions of pounds placed there yesterday. Markets do not operate on Saturday, thus a full reaction to the action, unprecedented in this State, will not be available until Monday.

Thousands of growers anxiously awaited word from the executive

Suspension Is To Continue Until Growers Are Assured Better Prices For Crop

WAREHOUSEMEN ARE GIVING COOPERATION

Ehringhaus To Lead Delegation To Washington Monday To Ask Secretary Wallace To Take Steps To Raise Prices; Closings Are All Voluntary

(By the Associated Press.)

Tobacco markets of the Carolinas, major source of the world's supply of cigarette type tobacco, will suspend operations with the closing of business today until farmers are assured of better prices for the crop.

Governor Blackwood, of South Carolina, today called on warehousemen of that State to close, assuring success of the North Carolina closing plan advanced by Governor Ehringhaus last night.

Warehousemen of North Carolina had promised support of their chief executive's proposal, but expressed belief the plan could not be carried out unless South Carolina warehouses also closed.

Soon after word of Governor Blackwood's decision, Governor Ehringhaus announced he would lead a delegation of tobacco farmers to Washington

WOMAN GETS LONG TERM IN SLAYINGS

Greenville, S. C., Defendant Pleads Guilty After Verdict Returned

Greenville, S. C., Sept. 1.—(AP)—Mrs. Bessie McAbee, 23, was sentenced to ten years in prison here today following her conviction Wednesday of manslaughter in the fatal shooting of J. L. Hayes last December 16, when she said, he cursed and threatened her.

Immediately after this sentence, she pleaded guilty to manslaughter in the death of Lang Taylor, who was shot to death at the same time, and Judge C. Dewey Oxner sentenced the woman to ten years on that count, stipulating that the sentences are to run concurrently.

She was remanded to jail here pending a decision, court attaches said, as to whether she would be taken to the penitentiary at Columbia, or be confined for the period to the county jail.

Governor Trying To Determine If Growers Want It

Columbia, S. C., Sept. 1.—(AP)—Governor Blackwood today summoned representative citizens of tobacco growing counties to his bedside here to ascertain how solidly sentiment favors a tobacco sales holiday in South Carolina.

Charles H. Gerald, secretary to the governor, said the State executive feels "inclined" to declare a voluntary holiday, but wishes to be assured that it will be generally observed. Gerald issued a call for three representative tobacco planters from each county to confer with him here at 3 p. m. today.

It was planned to send a sub-committee to wait upon the governor with the decision of the conference.

The governor is confined to his bed at the mansion by an attack of laryngitis. What action he takes, his secretary indicated, will depend largely upon sentiment expressed at the conference.

Opinion of a committee of five elected at a mass meeting of growers at Florence this week was divided as to whether tobacco markets should be closed, the secretary pointed out.

R. S. Rogers and F. D. Gatty, both of Dillon, and J. C. Ayres, of Tabor, N. C., urged that the governor suspend sales immediately to push prices upward, while State Senator E. L. Ard of Kingsree, and M. B. Huggins, of Timmonsville, said such action might prove disastrous to the perishable weed crop.

With this situation in mind, Gerald said, the governor does not believe he should act immediately upon a request from Governor J. C. B. Ehringhaus of North Carolina to proclaim a tobacco holiday similar to that which Ehringhaus ordered last night.
