Harvey Bailey, Notorious Criminal, Caught After Dallas Jail Escape

HOLDS UP JAILOR, KIDNAPS ANOTHER LEAVES IN A CAR

Held in $200,000 Kidnaping of Charles F. Urschel, Rich Oklahoma City Oil Man

ALSO WANTED FOR MURDER IN KANSAS

Indicted for Killing Convict and Four Officers; One of Most Dangerous of Nation's Criminals and Handled With Greatest Care by Officers

Ardmore, Okla., Sept. 4 (AP)—Harvey Bailey notorious southwestern desperado, was captured on a main business street here today just four hours after he had kidnaped a jailor at the point of smuggled pistol and escaped from the county jail at Dallas, Texas. Smashing his motor car against a curb in a last desperate effort to gain freedom, Bailey looked up into the gun muzzles of three Ardmore policemen and surrendered quietly. His hostage, Jailor Nick Trest of Dallas, was with him unharmed. Federal officials at Oklahoma City, where Bailey was to have been taken in a few days to stand trial September 18 for the $200,000 kidnaping of Charles F. Urschel oil millionaire hurried to take him into custody. It was expected they might decide to rush him to State's Prison at McAlester for safe keeping. Bailey, leader of the Memorial Day prison break at the Kansas penitentiary at Lansing, also is under federal indictment for the wanton machine gun killing of four officers and Frank Nash Oklahoma train robber, on the Kansas City union station plaza last June 17.

PURCHASE DIVISION PLANS BIG LETTING

State To Get Bids Sept. 14 For Wide Variety of Supplies It Needs

Daily Dispatch Bureau, In the Sir Walter Hotel, 27 J. C. BANKERVILLE, Raleigh, Sept. 4.—One of the largest lettings yet held by the Division of Purchase and Contract, as far as the number of different commodities are concerned, will be held in the offices of the director at 10 a. m., Sept. 14, according to A. S. Brower, director. The articles on the list include almost everything from surgical dressings to molasses barrels. Just how many bids will be submitted is another matter, since with prices changing from day to day on almost everything, many manufacturers and dealers are hesitating to submit bids except for goods now on hand. It is especially difficult now to get indeterminate contracts for a year's supply of certain commodities (Continued on Page Three.)

Labor May Invoke Court For NRA Code Violators

Akron, Ohio, Sept. 4 (AP)—A report to the courts to punish employers violating collective bargaining provisions of industrial codes today was promised by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor. In a Labor Day appeal for support of the Roosevelt recovery program, the federation leader said he was confident that "more than a million new members have joined with us." He described the NRA as opening the door of opportunity for industry and labor. "In all fairness," he said, "industry could not expect to appropriate to itself the benefits of the national recovery act and deny to labor the benefits which were accorded to it. If industry is permitted to organize and control business, labor must also be permitted to organize for mutual helpfulness and protection. And labor is doing that very thing. If an employer discriminates against employees who organize or discharges them because they organize, he is guilty of violation of the codes and is subject, when convicted, to the imposition of penalties provided for in the national recovery act."

BIG PROPERTY LOSS IN FLORIDA STORM

No Casualties Reported However, as Hurricane Hits Fort Pierce

HEAVY CITRUS LOSS

Usual Storm Debris Reported in Area Struck; Trees Block Highway and Impede Traffic at Many Points

Fort Pierce, Fla., Sept. 4.—(AP)—Considerable property damage was caused here by the tropical hurricane which struck last night, but no casualties were reported. The loss to citrus was heavy.

Vero Beach, 16 miles north of here, experienced about the same effects from the storm winds as Fort Pierce. Mayor Alex McWilliams, of Vero Beach, said that, while property damage was considerable, no estimate had been made.

Hurried surveys of the territory revealed the usual storm debris, overturned shacks, garages, and one large packing house at Vero Beach, partially unroofed.

Losses to citrus were estimated (Continued on Page Three.)

Government's Efforts To Create Jobs and Raise Wages Is Keynote of Meetings

AWAIT FIGURES ON EMPLOYMENT TOTAL

Johnson and His Chief Assistants Use Holiday To Expound Recovery Doctrine; Some Codes Not Yet Complete and Are Causing Some Worries

Washington, Sept. 4.—(AP)—NRA's blue eagle took possession today of the country's Labor Day celebration. The government-led efforts to re-employ the idle and increase the wages of the workers was the keynote of mass meetings and gatherings called all over the land, which marked a climax, too, though not the end, of the nationwide campaign for placing the eagle emblem of cooperation in every business house.

Recovery officials advanced no claim of realization, however, for their objective of re-employing 5,000,000. They awaited dependable figures. A discord in the day's celebration was Henry Ford's failure to subscribe to the automobile code which becomes effective tomorrow. Also troublesome was the lack of complete agreements between mine labor and Appalachian bituminous coal operators.

Administrator Hugh S. Johnson and his principal assistants used the holiday to expound the doctrine of the recovery movement. Demanding swift decision upon their return was the conflict between employer and employee over labor unionism.

Johnson was considering asking Attorney General Cummings for a formal interpretation of the law, while President Roosevelt was expected to take a hand in the dispute upon his return.

TEACHERS' SALARY TO GET APPROVAL

State Board of Education Expected To Endorse Commission Scale

Daily Dispatch Bureau, In the Sir Walter Hotel, 27 J. C. BANKERVILLE, Raleigh, Sept. 4.—Final approval of the new salary schedule for teachers, as already approved by the State School Commission, is expected this week by the State Board of Education which must pass upon it to make it final. It is also expected that the schedule will be approved virtually as drawn up by the school commission, in spite of the effort made last week by Attorney General Dennis G. Brummitt, to get the board of education, which he is a member, to increase the schedule 10 per cent. The board refused to act upon his motion, deciding to defer any action until Governor J. C. B. Ehringhaus could be present.

Even if the board of education should decide to increase the new salary schedule 10 per cent, as the attorney general wanted it to do, this action would have been nothing more than a gesture and would have not had resulted in the teachers getting any more money, it is pointed out here by those familiar with the facts in the case. The salary schedule worked out by the school commission is purely a temporary schedule based upon the total amount of money available for teachers' salaries, so that the teachers would not get any more money for the simple reason that there isn't any more money to be had, even if the board of education had decided to increase the schedule by 10 per cent. The General Assembly appropriated only $16,000,000 a year for the eight months school term for the next two years, and of that amount only about $12,500,000 is available for salaries.

There is a clause in the appropriations act, however, which says that if the revenue obtained from the revenue act exceeds the estimates, the governor may increase the salaries of State employees—and that means of school teachers—to within 20 per cent of the 1930 level. The new salary schedule (Continued on Page Three.)

TEXAS FEARFUL OF WORST HURRICANE IT HAS EVER HAD

Due To Pass Inland In Vicinity of Corpus Christi Sometime During Late Afternoon

NO CASUALTIES IN FLORIDA REPORTED

Citrus Crop Damaged As Worst Results of East Coast Disturbance, Which Was Expected To Pass Into Gulf of Mexico By Night Near Tampa

(By the Associated Press.) One tropical disturbance tore across south Florida today, leaving in its wake destruction to property, chiefly citrus groves, while another neared the coast of Texas, and was expected to pass inland near and probably north of Corpus Christi late in the day.

Only one report from within the east coast area of the Florida block came early today—that from Fort Pierce. No casualties were reported, but there was considerable loss to property in the surrounding section, and at Vero Beach, about 20 miles north of Fort Pierce.

Sebring was believed to be the center of the storm in Florida early in the day. The storm entered the state last night between West Palm Beach and Melbourne. Communications were wrecked and a wide slice of territory was still isolated.

Nothing has been heard from Stuart and Jupiter, which lie between Fort Pierce and West Palm Beach and were believed to have been close to the center of the hurricane.

Warnings in advance enabled residents throughout the storm area to make preparations for the high winds. Trains, trucks and automobiles brought approximately 3,000 persons to the low-lying Okeechobee area to higher and safer grounds.

Palm Beach, the noted Florida resort, on its first check-up of damage today, found nothing serious, but the famous ocean boulevard was littered with debris due to the pounding of the ocean and the force of the wind.

Diminishing in intensity as it crossed the state, the Florida storm was expected to pass out into the Gulf of Mexico near Tampa early in the afternoon. Northeast storm warnings were ordered up west of Cedar Keys to Mobile, Ala.

Texas was preparing for the worst blow that ever came out of the gulf as the second hurricane moved westward. It had already brought death to more than 100 in Cuba and injuries to many more.

As Death Took Controls

Although invisible to the eye of the camera, the "Angel of Death" was present when this series of photos, showing the tragedy that snuffed the life of General Francesco De Pinedo, famed Italian air ace, was made at Floyd Bennett Field, New York. At top, De Pinedo is signing an autograph for an admirer, just before he boarded the plane to take off for Baghdad. Next photo shows the plane speeding down the runway, an instant before it swerved into a wire fence and burst into flames. Last photo, firemen throwing water on the blazing wreckage of the plane, where the trapped flier was burned to death. (Central Press)

67 COUNTIES HAVE ORGANIZATION NOW

Cooperation Everywhere In Forming Re-Employment Local Units

Daily Dispatch Bureau, In the Sir Walter Hotel, 27 J. C. BANKERVILLE, Raleigh, Sept. 4.—The work of organizing the counties of the State into reemployment units under the Federal Reemployment Service has progressed more rapidly than was expected, and 67 counties are now organized with one or more reemployment offices open, State Director C. M. Waynick said today. The most recent additions to the organized counties are those in the extreme eastern and western portions of the State. Word was received Saturday that the organization of reemployment committees and offices had just been completed in Cherokee, Clay, Macon, Graham and Swain counties, while in the eastern part of the State Hertford, Bertie, Edgecombe, Nash and Wilson counties were added to the list.

A heavy demand for labor to be used in highway construction is expected soon in the far western counties, Waynick said, as the result of the new $2,300,000 construction program to be undertaken immediately by the Federal government in the Great Smoky Mountains National Park. Waynick has already been notified from Washington that about 250 men will be needed on one small road building project in the park by October 1 and this is expected to be only a beginning. The present plan is that the labor needed in the national park will be drawn in equal amounts from the adjoining counties in North Carolina and Tennessee. Director Waynick believes that these government construction projects in the national park will be able to use a large portion of the unemployed in these far western counties.

The demand for labor in the eastern counties is not expected to be as heavy as in the west, since less construction is in prospect there and because the eastern counties are largely agricultural. Yet Director Waynick has been (Continued on Page Three.)

Tobacco Men Not Satisfied With Proposed Processing Tax and Want Something Done Now To Raise 1933 Prices; Ehringhaus Heads The Delegation

Washington, Sept. 4.—(AP)—Delegations of tobacco growers and warehousemen met today with representatives of the Farm Adjustment Administration to present plans for increasing flue-cured tobacco prices in North and South Carolina and other states.

The delegation included Governor J. C. B. Ehringhaus and other representatives from North Carolina, South Carolina and Virginia.

After a morning session, they assembled in committees to draw plans for presentation to J. B. Hutson, chief of the Farm Administration's tobacco section and Chester C. Davis, director of production.

Tobacco markets are closed now in North and South Carolina because of low prices to growers, and Governor Ehringhaus indicated today that they would not reopen in his state until there was an assurance of better prices.

Governor Ibra C. Blackwood, of South Carolina, was represented by Ashton H. Williams, and Governor John Garland Pollard, of Virginia, by George W. Kolner, State commissioner of agriculture.

Delegation members said they planned to see President Roosevelt if necessary, in an effort to bring action to raise the price of flue-cured tobacco to the growers.

Representative Pou, of North Carolina, told the tobacco men he would arrange a meeting with the President if they desired, and that he was certain (Continued on Page Three.)

ROAD WORK BEGINS WITHIN FEW DAYS

Bids on Projects Approved in Washington and Notices Are Sent

Daily Dispatch Bureau, In the Sir Walter Hotel, 27 J. C. BANKERVILLE, Raleigh, Sept. 4.—Contractors who were low bidders on the various new construction projects on which bids were opened last week, are being notified today that their bids have been approved by the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads in Washington and that they may start construction work as soon as they can get ready. Chairman E. B. Jeffers of the State Highway and Public Works Commission, announced today.

"Some of these contractors should be able to start work within a few days and will undoubtedly get started as soon as possible," Jeffers said. "There are some, however, who will not be able to get their labor recruited (Continued on Page Three.)

Woman's Limbs Found In Field, But Body Missing

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 4.—(AP)—The arms and legs of a woman hacked roughly from the body were found today in bushes in a field on the northwestern outskirts of the city. The limbs were identified by fingerprints as those of Lourier Jobb, whose prints are on file with Federal immigration officers. Search was begun at once for the rest of the body. Dr. Edmund J. Knobloch, coroner, said the limbs were hacked off shortly after death. Miss Jobb was arrested in 1922 for investigation in an immigration case. Police barred 11 persons from the field where the limbs were found, while search was made there for other parts of the body. Detectives expressed the opinion that the slayer had probably hidden the head and other parts of the torso in other parts of the city, and a widespread search of vacant lots and buildings was ordered. The arms had been cut off shoulders and the legs at the knees. The hands showed signs of excellent care, and the nails recently had been manicured.
