Daily Dispatch Burens, In the Sir Waiter Hotel, RV J C BASKERVILL Raleigh, Oct. 4.—The sales tax division of the State Department of Re venue is getting ready to put the clamps on the merchants who have not been collecting as much sales tax as their business would seem to warrant. For two months now the sales tax division has been taking the word of merchants for it that their sales tax rturns hav been correct. But the division is now going to have the 56 deputy collctors of revnue start examining the books of merchants, beginning this month, it was announced today by Director Harry McMullan. Not only that, but the deputy collectors are going to start in first with those merchants whose returns have en considerably less than other merchants in the same kind of business and with approximately the same turnover. A list of these merchants will be furnished each deputy collector by October 15, if possible, Mc-
