VANDYKE TRIAL IS RESUMED AFTER INQUIRY

GIANTS BEAT SENATORS, 2-1

New York Needs Only One More Game To Win World Series Title

Griffith Stadium, Washington, D. C., Oct. 6.—Carl Hubbell pitched his second victory in the 1933 World Series here this afternoon, defeating the Washington Senators 2 to 1 in an eleven-inning game that was a thrilling one from the start to the finish.

The Senators threatened in the seventh inning with three men on. Cliff Bolton, pinch hitter, hit into a double play to end the game.

Bill Terry clouted a homer off Mone Weaver in the fourth inning to put the Giants in the lead, which they held until the seventh when Sewell sent out a single to score Kuhl from second.

Bloody Ryan sent out a single in the eleventh to send Travis Jackson across the plate with the winning Giant tally.

Monte Weaver hurled stellar ball for the Senators but was pulled from the game in the tenth in favor of Russell and got the credit for the loss.

A play by play account follows:

FIRST INNING. GIANTS—Moore opens the fourth game of the World Series with a free pass to first. Critz lines to Myer, who doubts Moore off first base. Terry singles through second base. Ott flies out to Bluege. No runs, one hit, no errors.

SECOND INNING. GIANTS—Davis is out, Myer to Kuhl. Jackson strikes out. Mancuso flies out to Goslin in deep right field. No runs, no hits, no errors.

THIRD INNING. GIANTS—Ryan flies out to Mancuso back of third. Hubbell grounds out, Bluege to Kuhl. Moore's grounds out. Cronin to Kuhl.

SENATORS—Bluege flies out to Moore in left field. Sewell flies out to Critz. Weaver grounds out. Critz to

376 Banks Prepare To Open Again

Near 400 Millions In Frozen Deposits Involved; Oxford Is Included

Washington, Oct. 6.—(AP)—A total of $398,735,000 in frozen deposits is involved in the list of 376 banks for which reorganization plans have been approved by the Treasury.

Of this amount, the Treasury estimated today, depositors will receive approximately 50 per cent if the banks carry out the plans agreed upon and are licensed to reopen. When plans are approved, it has been explained here, the situation then is up to the banks, and in some instances they have not been able to meet the conditions imposed.

A total of $31,151,000 in unrestricted deposits is held by the 376 banks. "While frozen deposits of these national banks amount to $398,735,000, this does not mean that such a sum will be released to depositors when and if reorganization plans are acted upon, and individual banks are reorganized," the Treasury said.

"The total represents the amount of deposits carried on the books of these institutions when conservators took charge of them after the bank holiday. It is obvious that the banks would have reopened immediately and they been able to pay 100 percent of their deposits."

North Carolina national banks listed as reorganized with the amounts of frozen deposits and unrestricted deposits are: First National Bank of Greenville, $1,153,000 and $85,000. Winston-Salem, Farmers National Bank and Trust, $1,141,000 and none. Total, $2,194,000 and $85,000.

SAYS RAIL STOCKS SOLD OFF FREELY

Couzens Says $11,000,000 Unloaded During Boom Days of 1929

Washington, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Senator Couzens, Republican, Michigan, charged before Senate investigators today that some "wise guys unloaded" more than $11,000,000 of railroad stocks during the boom in 1929 on investment trusts organized by Dillon, Read and Company.

This flat assertion by the members of the stock market inquiry committee followed disclosure that investments by the trusts in two railroads, both of which later went into receivership, had depreciated to almost nothing.

The stock was acquired by joint accounts between the trust and Dillon, Read and Company in 1929, managed by the latter.

NRA SPLIT HURTS COAL NEGOTIATION

New Complications Injected On Top of Strikes and Bloodshed

JOHNSON IS STUMPED

Recovery Administrator Does Not Know What To Do To Get 60,000 Western Pennsylv. Miners Back

(By the Associated Press.) Differences within the Recovery Administration over provisions of the bituminous coal codes today added new complications to an industrial scene darkened by strife, strikes and bloodshed.

Whereas Hugh S. Johnson, recovery administrator, said he thought owners of steel company (captive) mines agreed to deduct union dues from miners' pay Donald Rieberg, NRA counsel, asserts no such agreement was made.

The development left Johnson at a loss as to what to do to send an additional 60,000 of western Pennsylvania's 75,000 striking soft coal miners back to work.

As the coal strike persisted, more steel workers in the Pittsburgh area joined in a demand for union recognition. The situation was tense after one man was slain and a score of others wounded and beaten in a battle of gunfire, riot clubs and tear gas between pickets and deputy sheriffs at an Ambridge, Pa., steel plant.

Not many hours later, another outbreak of violence occurred in the Fayette county, Pennsylvania, mine

TWO DIE IN CRASH NEAR SMITHFIELD

Man and Girl Dead, Another Girl Hurt; Some Liquor Is Found

Smithfield, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Two persons were dead today and a third seriously injured as the result of the crash of their automobile into a tree near here.

The dead: Rupert R. Durham, 25, of Clayton; the driver; Virginia Crosby, 30, of Raleigh.

Estelle, Smith 19-year-old Raleigh girl, incurred a broken jaw and fractured shoulder.

A receipt found on Durham's body indicated he had bought the automobile an old model light roadster, only yesterday, making an initial payment of $12.50.

Police found a small quantity of whiskey near Durham's body.

GOVERNOR IS NOT AT ALL SATISFIED

Handling of Tobacco Situation in Washington Displeases Executive; Thinks Tobacco Companies Have Delayed So As To Get Bulk Of Crop Cheaply

Raleigh, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Governor Ehringhaus today telegraphed President Roosevelt again urging that "immediate steps be taken to secure parity prices for tobacco and asserting, "I cannot think that my wire of last Saturday about flue-cured tobacco situation has been delivered to you, for I have no answer yet."

The governor advised the President "if you could know the distress in our tobacco belts and the urgency of immediate and remedial action, I feel sure you would see that it is forthcoming."

Pointing out that nearly one-half of the crop has now been marketed at "prices far below parity," Ehringhaus

Charge Of Attack On Negro Lawyers Shows But Little

Evidence Points to Shots Being Fired, But No One Hurt; Opinion Is That Fair Trial Entirely Possible

After an all-morning investigation into charges of an alleged attack after court adjourned last night on C. J. Gates and M. Hugh Thompson, Durham Negro attorneys for the defense in the VanDyke kidnaping and assault case, Judge R. Hunt Parker this afternoon ordered the trial itself resumed, and taking of testimony was continued when the afternoon session started at 2:30 o'clock.

Ehringhaus Eyes Conditions Here

Raleigh, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Governor Ehringhaus said today he had conferred with Judge R. Hunt Parker and two other officials at Henderson regarding reports that two Negro attorneys were fired on last night as they left the Vance county court house and an investigation is under way.

"I was assured there was no evidence of further trouble," the governor said. "Judge Parker has stopped the case and is investigating the reports. If he finds any evidence that attempts are being made to influence the jury or intimidate persons connected with the case, it will be stopped and moved to another county."

There was no evidence of mob action last night, and added he was keeping in close touch with the situation by telephone.

ASHEVILLE BRIBE CHARGE IS PROBED

Alleged Move To Buy Solicitor Nettles In Filling Station Slaying

Asheville, Oct. 6.—(AP)—A charge an attempt was made to bribe Solicitor Zeb V. Nettles in the prosecution of Gus Langley, convicted here recently in the slaying of Lannie G. Russell, filling station operator, was made today at a hearing called for presentation of evidence looking toward granting Langley a pardon.

The charge was made by Robert R. Williams, attorney for Mrs. Russell, widow of the slain man, who produced a draft signed in blank that the solicitor had received from S. Clifford Weimann, of New York.

Williams also produced a lengthy criminal record showing Weimann had been convicted various times in New York for forgery, illegal practices and other offenses. He also produced a letter from Weimann admitting the latter had been in Raleigh, Wilmington and other cities in connection with the case.

The hearing opened at 10 a. m. before Edwin M. Gill, State pardon commissioner, and the first two hours were occupied in presentation of affidavits.

Solicitor Nettles presented the records in the case and announced he would not attend the hearing unless called for.

KILLS HIS PARTNER OVER DOLLAR LOAN

Anderson S., Oct. 6 (AP)—Eugene Shaw, middle aged Anderson county farmer, was shot to death at Belton today by Howard Coker, 23 a textile operative.

Coker, who was charged with murder and lodged in the county jail here said he killed Shaw in self defense.

He told officers an argument started over a dollar he owed Shaw, and said Shaw pulled out a knife and threatened to "cut my head off unless the money was repaid." Coker fired twice, both bullets taking effect, and Shad died instantly.

WEATHER FOR NORTH CAROLINA

Fair tonight; slightly cooler on the coast; Saturday fair, slowly rising temperature.

The court heard an array of witnesses in the investigation during the forenoon, including the two Negro attorneys, and concluded that a fair and impartial trial could be obtained for the defendants.

Evidence brought out tended to show that there had been actual firing, and several witnesses told of seeing flashes from a pistol, but no one was hit and no one laid hands on either of the two attorneys, though, according to testimony, efforts were made to grab each of them at different times.

Throughout the hearing today the court room, packed to the capacity permitted by the judge, in view of its condition, was quiet and there was no time for the slightest manifestation of race feeling or any indication of mob violence. There has been no evidence of organized violence at any time since the trial began Wednesday with motions by the two Negro attorneys for quashing of the indictments on the ground that Negroes had been denied service on the jury.

A large number of white witnesses at today's investigation were asked by Judge Parker if they thought the defendants could get a fair and impartial trial at the hands of the jury now sitting in the case, and invariably all answered emphatically in the affirmative.

The investigation grew out of reports published in morning newspapers today that a mob had attacked the Durham Negroes, shooting at them and throwing rocks at them as they were getting into the car of O. Everett, of Durham, chief defense counsel, heading toward Durham for a trial at the hands of the jury now sitting in the case, and invariably all answered emphatically in the affirmative.

Beaufort Kelly and Florida Bullock, Negroes, are charged with kidnaping and attacking Miss Mary Lena Vanddyke, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Vanddyke, of this county, after the afternoon of August 23.

When court convened at 9:30 o'clock Judge Parker sent the jury back to the hotel for the morning, and called a conference of the bar in his room to the rear of the judge's bench. When he returned to the court room, the judge made the open statement that in the name of justice and the good name of Vance county and the fair name of the State of North Carolina, he intended to go to the bottom of the affair. What was revealed would
