Contributed $4,076 of $44,000 Red Cross Poured Into Hurricane Territory There

RED CROSS PLEDGED NO FISHERMEN NETS

805 Families Given Rehabilitation Aid, Including Food for 833 Families and Household Furnishings for 447 and Clothing for 723 Families

Washington, Nov. 27.—(AP)—The American Red Cross reported today it spent $44,000 in giving relief to 3,328 North Carolina families following last September's terrific coastal hurricane.

The formal report was prepared at national headquarters of the Red Cross here by Ernest P. Krick, who returned last Friday from North Carolina after having been in that State directing relief efforts since September 15.

The report showed the bulk of the money spent was contributed by the national organization. Of the $44,000, chapters, individuals and organizations in that State contributed $4,076.44. The remaining $39,923.56 was given by the national organization.

Krick, questioned about reports from North Carolina that fishermen of the State's hard-hit coastal banks had been promised that nets swept away by the storm would be replaced said no such promises were made by the corps of 14 workers he directed.

Krick said some individuals working to obtain donations to aid the storm-stricken may have made such promises. He said the Red Cross efforts were directed at giving those in need food and clothes and aiding in repairing damaged homes.

He recalled that a private campaign was started in New Bern to build up a fund sufficient to aid in replacing some nets, but said it was not successful. Krick said 1,805 families were given rehabilitation aid, which included food, for 833 families, household furnishings for 447 families, clothing for 723 families, building material and repairs for 1,165 homes and medical care for six families.

Some families received all or several items.

Civil Works Payroll To Be One Million Per Week

Will Remove Able-Bodied from Relief Lists, Get Needed Public Works Done and Money from Government Will Not Have To Be Paid Back At All

Raleigh, Nov. 27.—Few people in North Carolina have yet realized just what the new Civil Works Program is going to mean to the State as a whole, in addition to what it is going to mean to the 68,000 unemployed who are to be given jobs on civil works projects, according to observations here. For out of 25 representative business men, merchants and contractors who were asked to give their opinion as to what the civil works program was going to mean to the State, not more than two or three had any definite idea of what it was or what it will mean, according to a State official who made this question test. "When asked what they thought the weekly payroll would be, not a single one of the more than 25 people questioned estimated it at more than $250,000 a week, and most estimates were below that," this State official said. "Many of those questioned actually had no conception of what the civil works program was, although business and industry generally will profit just as much from it as the unemployed who get jobs."

TEXTBOOK GROUPS PROTECT PARENTS

Rules Adopted Point to Curb on Freedom of Publishers' Agents

Raleigh, Nov. 27.—The Elementary Textbook Commission and the High School Textbook Committee, which held their first meeting here Saturday since their organization meeting a week or two ago, adopted rules and regulations which indicate that they are going to look out for the interests of the children and parents and not give so much consideration to the interests of the publishers. These rules indicate that these two new textbook bodies are not going to give the textbook publishers an opportunity to "high pressure" the members of the commission and committee and that they are going to look out for the best interests of the public first.

"The members of both the Elementary Textbook Commission and the High School Textbook Committee are determined that they are going to do

PARDONS OFFERED ALL ARRESTED FOR SUNDAY SLAYINGS

Governor Ralph Thinks Good Example Set for All Other States Through-out Country

SHOULD TO DECREASE FUTURE KIDNAPINGS

Made Good Job of It, He Says; Two Men Who Confessed Kidnaping-Slaying of Merchant's Son Taken From Jail and Hanged As 6,000 Persons Look On

Sacramento, Cal., Nov. 27.—(AP)—Governor James Rolph, Jr., said today the lynchings in San Jose last night of Thomas Thurmond and John M. Holmes, confessed kidnapers and slayers of Brooks Hart, should result in fewer kidnapings throughout the country, and that he would pardon any one arrested for the lynchings.

"That was a fine lesson to the whole nation," Governor Rolph said. "There will be less kidnaping in the country now. They made a good job of it. "If any one is arrested for the good job, "I'll pardon them all. I hope this lesson will serve in every state of the union."

The governor postponed his trip to Boise, Idaho, to attend a governors' conference, not for the purpose of being on hand to call out troops but to prevent it.

THURMOND AND HOLMES LYNCHED SUNDAY NIGHT San Jose, Cal., Nov. 27.—(AP)—Thomas H. Thurmond and John M. Holmes, confessed kidnapers-slayers of Brooke Hart, were lynched here last night by a mob of 100 men who smashed their way into the county jail after a two-hour battle to seize the pair.

A whooping cheering crowd estimated at 6,000 persons looked on. Thurmond, first to confess, was unconscious when dragged to St. James park, 100 yards from the jail, partially stripped and hanged to a tree.

Holmes, a powerful man, fought for his life in vain. Twice he wrenched his hands free and lifted the noose from his head, but the third time it was put there to stay, and, still kicking, he was yanked into the air.

In the glare of torches and lamp-lights, the bodies dangled for half an hour or so, a picture for the thousands who had assembled swiftly after the news of the lynching movement had spread through the city. Then the lifeless forms were cut down and there was no further attempt to interfere with the officers.

Thurmond's body had been slightly burned by blazing newspapers held up by the mob as torches during the hangings.

Pick Jury In Alabama

Negro Case

Dr. Fosdick, Noted New York Preacher, Among Witnesses For the State

Decatur, Ala., Nov. 27.—(AP)—Selection of a jury for the third trial of Heywood Patterson, one of seven Negroes charged with attacking two white women near Scottsboro, Ala., two years ago, today drew a crowded court room.

Patterson was first tried in Jackson county in 1931 and sentenced to death with his co-defendants. The United States Supreme Court set aside the sentences. Patterson was again convicted in Morgan county on April 9, 1933, but Judge James E. Horton, presiding, set aside the sentence.

Dr. Emerson Fosdick, pastor of a New York church to whom Ruby Bates, one of the two alleged victims of the attacks, said she went last spring for advice on her decision to repudiate her first story and deny the attacks, was listed among the State's witnesses called.
