PUBLISHED MONTHLY BY POST 60 OF THE AMERICAN LEGION AND THE AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY

Legion Membership Shows Increase This Year

LARGER NOW THAN IN DECEMBER, 1932

Paid Members for New Year Listed, Showing Classification Also

The present membership of Henderson Post, No. 60, of the American Legion, is larger than it was at this time a year ago, with good prospects for an increase as the months go along, according to announcement today by post officials.

The Legion feels its responsibility is to deserve the confidence and respect of this community. To such an end its active members, meaning those who have paid their dues for the coming year, together with the name of the business they are engaged in, or with whom associated, are listed here. Each month additional names will be added to the list, indicating with whom members of the American Legion Associate, to the end that their responsibility may be judged.

The membership list at this time is as follows:

LEGION POST TO MEET ON MONDAY

Regular Monthly Session of Post Scheduled In Its Own Quarters

The regular monthly meeting of Henderson Post, No. 60, of the American Legion, will be held Monday evening at 8 o'clock in the Legion hall. All members are urged to be present.

C. L. Carter, post commander is to preside at the meeting, and such business as is to claim the attention of the post at this time will be considered and transacted.

Some people apparently still have the impression that all Civil Works projects are relief projects on which anyone who has no work may get work, whether he is an efficient worker or not, Wayne said. But this is not the case.

"Even though 34,000 of those employed on Civil Works projects were taken from what were formerly relief lists, there is no such thing as a relief project any more with the result that these 34,000 workers who were formerly on relief projects are now out on their own. That means they must make good on these jobs or get out and make way for those who will make good. For no one is going to be carried on the payroll of these projects merely because he needs the work and the pay—he must be worth what he is paid."

increase in sales tax collection, which showed an increase of $137,848 over collections in September, when they amounted to $411,755. But the increase in September was partly due to the fact that the quarterly returns from merchants who had collections of less than $10 a month were due then.

"November sales tax collections, however, amounting to $595,391, exceed October collections by $45,688 and do not represent any quarterly collections, with the result that we feel much encouraged," Commissioner Maxwell said. "This would also indicate that retail business is picking up considerably over the State. The November returns are from 12,602, while the October returns were from 17,720 merchants, because of the number of quarterly returns."

While there are more than 26,000 registered retail merchants on the books of the Sales Tax Division, this does not mean that there are almost 12,000 merchants who were delinquent in November, it was pointed out by Director Harry McMullan of the Sales Tax Division. It means instead that there were about 12,000 merchants whose tax collections amounted to less than $10 in November and that they hence did not need to make any returns. The entire 26,000 merchants will not have to make a return until January 1, when all of them will have to report their collections, regardless of whether they are more or less than $10 it was explained.
