Third Story Hour Given At Library

Mrs. Paul Cummings entertained the children attending the third story hour held at the H. Leslie Perry Memorial Library yesterday afternoon at four o'clock. The Thanksgiving holiday kept a large number of the children from attending and the crowd was not up to the hundred mark.

The first story of the afternoon was told by Mrs. Samuel Watkins. She related in a most interesting way the further adventures of Prometheus and how he was unchained from the mountain top. Mrs. Cummings held her audience spell bound for half an hour telling most vividly of the great task of Hercules. She chose for her story one of the loveliest of the Greek myths "Three Golden Apples."
