Nation Quietly Watches Passing Of Prohibition Statute

20 STATES PERMIT THE SALE LEGALLY OF HARD LIQUORS

But They Apparently Have Few Citizens Feeling the Worse for Their Celebration

CAROLINAS, YET DRY, HAVE NO HANG-OVER

Death of National Prohibition Means Little or Nothing to Them and Event Passes Virtually Unnoticed; No Public Celebrations or Outbreaks Seen

Washington, Dec. 6 (AP)—A nation that had made Federal prohibition just a repealed constitutional amendment worked hard today to adjust itself to the new order of things and, surprisingly to some, the 20 states whose laws permitted the sale of hard liquor, after Utah late yesterday became the 26th to ratify repeal had had comparatively few citizens feeling the worse today for celebrations. Throughout the country the festivities seemed to lack the fervor some had forecast.

In many cases the supply was scant, in several states regulatory set-ups had not been completed, so the liquor suppliers were few. There were, too, many indications that a number of state officials expected to follow the lead of President Roosevelt, who, in his proclamation of the repeal, said that the future of the policy of the government will be in line with the social and political conditions that have existed in the pre-prohibition era shall not be

Proposals Would Yield Additional $35,000,000 Revenue to Federal Government

LOSSES BY SALES WOULD BE DENIED

Measure Intended To Check Practices Revealed In Senate Bank Committee Investigation; House Ways and Means Committee Gets Proposals

Washington, Dec. 6 (AP)—Thirty additional changes in the revenue act, estimated to yield an additional annual $35,000,000 to the government were proposed today by a House Ways and Means sub-committee. This supplemented the sub-committee report to the full committee yesterday, in which it proposed revisions and additions calculated by members to return another $235,000,000 to the government each year.

One of the most important additions recommended today would deny losses to be taken in the cases of sales or exchanges, or property between members of a family, or between a shareholder in a corporation in which such shareholder owned a majority of the voting stock. While a majority of the changes proposed today were minor, several of them were designed to supplement previous recommendations to close up gaps in the law and prevent wealthy persons from voting income and surtaxes.

Several such instances have been disclosed in the Senate banking committee's investigation.
