CHURCH SOCIETIES ANNOUNCEMENTS

Mrs. Margaret Moran Weds Fuller Parham

Mrs. Margaret Pou Moran, daughter of Representative and Mrs. Edward William Pou, of Smithfield, and E. Fuller Parham, of this city, were married in Washington this morning at 11:30 o'clock at the Washington Heights Presbyterian church by Dr. John C. Palmer, pastor of the church. Only members of the bride's immediate family and Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Morgan and Mrs. Morgan's mother, Mrs. Olivia Shumate, of Raleigh, and the groom's father, Asa Parham, and two cousins, A. J. Watkins and S. H. Watkins, of this city, present. Immediately after the ceremony, the bride and groom left for New York, where they will stay for a few days before leaving for a tour of Florida. They will be at home in this city, where Mr. Parham is widely known in social and business life. For the wedding, the bride wore a three-piece tan suit and tan accessories, and a streamline hat. Her corsage was of orchids. The swagger coat with the suit was a tan beige and brown plaid. Her sister, Mrs. Thomas Anthony Wadden, wore a brown coat with Eastern mink stole, and a new off-the-face hat. Her mother, Mrs. Pou, wore a black velvet dress, black hat and gardenias. The bride is widely known in Washington and North Carolina society. She attended St. Mary's School, Raleigh, and is a graduate of Gunston Hall, in Washington. Mr. Parham is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Asa Parham, of this city. He was graduated from the University of North Carolina in 1922. He is a member of the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity, and is vice-president and general manager of the Carolina Bagging Company in this city.

In Raleigh Miss Claudia Hunter is spending the week-end in Raleigh with friends.

Number Children Hear Story Hour

(By the Perry Library) Did the children enjoy story hour yesterday at the library? We would say yes and yes judging from the crowd that literally overflowed the stately capacity of the assembly room. Every chair was filled and the wall space and stage banked with an eager audience. One hundred and forty children were present. "This was the first of the series of giant stories known as "There Were Giants" that the H. Leslie Perry Memorial Library is featuring. Mrs. John Lee Wester took the children to Norse Land journeying through Asgard Land showing every phase of a Giant life ending with a Giant wedding and a sumptuous wedding feast. The children showed their keen appreciation of Mrs. Wester's wonderful talent as a story teller by the apt attention which they gave her and the roaring applause at the end. Another treat awaits the children next Friday at four o'clock.

Billy Southerland Out Billy Southerland, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Southerland, who has been confined to his home on Young street for sometime with pneumonia, is able to be out again.

Demonstration In Waffle Making To Be Had On Monday

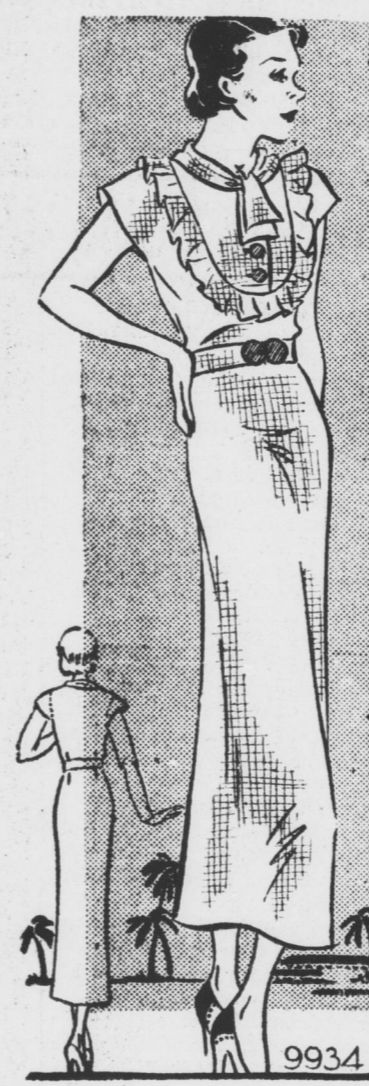

Mrs. Vivian Bushong, home economist of the Carolina Power and Light Company, will give a waffle demonstration in the show room of the company Monday morning at ten o'clock, it was announced today. Mrs. Bushong, who is well known here because of her contacts with Henderson housewives through local cooking schools and demonstrations of various electrical appliances, extends a cordial invitation to home makers of the city to attend her demonstration and lecture Monday morning. Tables will be arranged and hot waffles with maple syrup will be served to visitors.

We hear much about "Miss Manhattan" and "Young Man of Manhattan," and now somebody introduces "Mr. and Mrs. Manhattan," which we suppose is all right, since birth control, even in New York, doesn't mean that we can't have parents.

Marian Martin Pattern

SLEEVES OR SLEEVELESS IT'S EQUALLY SMART

PATTERN 9934 For sports and street dresses there is nothing so attractive as the scarf neck line. This dress has the additional allure of a ruffle softening the slightly tailored effect of the tie, and adding, certainly, an interest all its own. The dress may be smartly made of one of the irregular new weaves of cotton material, or a plain silk, or of a small check in tan, blue, green or brown. The buttons down the front are worth noticing, too! They are one of the special touches belonging to the new season. Long sleeves are included. Pattern 9934 may be ordered only in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, and 40. Size 16 requires 3 5-8 yards 36 inch fabric.

"Carolina" Opens Monday With Gaynor, Barrymore

The motion picture "Carolina," starring Janet Gaynor and Lionel Barrymore, which had its world premiere in Charlotte recently and plays at the Stevenson theatre here 3 days starting Monday is of particular interest to Carolinians because many of the important scenes were actually photographed in the two Carolinas. The story itself, written by Paul Green of Chapel Hill, is a story of life in the Carolinas. Henry King who directed the film flew his own plane all over North and South Carolina in a thorough search for authentic settings and material. Teeming with emotion and abounding in richness and beauty, "Carolina" is indeed a picture to please any audience in the country. The cast is studded with seven great stars all of whom do more than justice to the film that promises to be one of the outstanding productions to come from Hollywood. The screen play depicts realistically and dramatically the aspirations and the struggle of the south, and a Southern family to regain the glory that once was theirs. The story concerns itself with a poor northern girl who has gone south to grow tobacco on the plantation of a decadent but still dignified family. The young son of the family falls in love with the girl over objections of his mother. The young man, however, is so impressed by the talk of this young girl that he is inspired to new heights of ambitions and new ambition and new vision of glory. The strenuous objections and the hatred that his mother bears toward the girl, finally forces her to leave. When the young man learns of this, threatens also to leave the family. His mother, rather than lose her son, renents, and the girl returns to bring happiness and prosperity to the once run-down plantation. Miss Gaynor and Barrymore give superb portrayals, Robert Young, Henrietta Crosman, Richard Cromwell and Mona Barrie heads the supporting cast, and each and every one of them turns in an unforgettable performance. Others in the cast are Stepin Fetchit, Russell Simpson, Ronnie Cosby, Jackie Cosbey, Almeda Fowler and Aiden Chase.

"DINNER AT EIGHT" HAS COSTLY CAST

Marie Dressler! John Barrymore! Wallace Beery! Jean Harlow! Lionel Barrymore! Lee Tracy! Edmund Lowe! Billy Burke! Madge Evans! Jean Hersholt! Karen Morley! Phillips Holmes! These are the names in the amazing aggregation of stars who appear together in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's sensational picture "Dinner at Eight" which opens Monday, February 26 at the Orpheum Theatre, Oxford as the most remarkable picture filmed in the last decade. The picture is based on the play by George S. Kaufman and Edna Ferber, which ran on Broadway for more than a year. It describes the emotional experiences of a heterogeneous group of people, who are brought together at a dramatic dinner party. Shifting its locus from one angle to another, the camera picks out a retired musical-comedy star, a ship-builder facing bankruptcy, a "wash-up" matinee idol on the verge of suicide, an unscrupulous millionaire and his faithless wife, a Broadway theatrical agent, a philandering young doctor, a Park Avenue hostess, a cook with a toothache. Each of these individuals has his or her own emotional conflict and then they are brought together in one blasting dramatic climax. This million dollar cast, comprising most of the outstanding stars in Hollywood, sets a new record for lavishness in film entertainment. It has never happened before, and in all likelihood it will never happen again.
