Johnson. This present revenue act

British Cabinet Splits On Armaments Question

London, May 8. (AP)—The British cabinet deferred stating its disarmament policies today after a long committee discussion and reports persisted that a break in the cabinet on the issue is likely.

It was indicated after the disarmament committee's session that no statement can be expected until after the League of Nations Council meeting.

Arthur Henderson, chairman of the disarmament conference, will leave for Paris tomorrow to discuss the threatened collapse of the parity with Louis Bartheau, French foreign minister. It was believed likely that he would ask the French to propose a new basis of arms regulations.

Some newspapers went so far as to describe the situation in the cabinet as a "critical split."

1,600,000 BUSHELS OF GRAIN IN STORAGE

33 Men at Work in Building At Time of Blast, Which Is Yet Unexplained; Originated Apparently in Head Room at Top of the Conveyor

St. Louis, Mo., May 8. (AP)—One man was killed and ten were burned, five of them seriously, in a sudden series of three violent grain dust explosions this morning in the huge Missouri Pacific elevator on the Mississippi river front in South St. Louis.

St. Louis, May 8. (AP)—Ten men were burned, six of them seriously, in a violent grain dust explosion this morning in the Missouri Pacific elevator at the foot of Prim street. The blast shattered all of the windows in the huge structure broke long cracks in the upper portion of the building and caused a fire in 1,600,000 bushels of grain stored there.

The fire burned for half an hour. Thirty-three men were at work in the building at the time of the explosion, which appeared to originate in the head room at the top of the conveyor, which is used to carry grain from the tracks below to the storage chamber of the elevator.

Julius Meyer, vice president of the Continental Export Company, which leases the elevator, a 240-foot tall structure, said he had been unable to determine the cause of the explosion.

Says Recovery Is Impossible Under Sales Tax Levies

High Point, May 8. (AP)—In vigorous denunciation of the principle of sales taxation, John C. Watson, president of the New York Council of Retail Merchants, said here today a continuance of a retail sales tax in any commonwealth would prevent a return to normal economic conditions.

Making the closing address before the two-day convention of the North Carolina Merchants Association, the speaker asserted such a tax would defeat the program of rehabilitation which he described as being conceived in the name of patriotism and humanity.

M. E. Body To Ordain No Women

Jackson, Miss., May 8 (AP)—A proposal to ordain women in the ministry was defeated, lynching and all mob violence was condemned, and efforts to reduce membership in the annual and the general conference were rejected today in the final session of the 22nd quadrennial assembly of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

Ordination of women was voted down by 130 for to 197 against. The action was taken on a motion to adopt a minority report from the committee on itineracy, whose majority members reported non-concurrence in appeals for equal rights.

Women candidates to preach had asked equal rights with men in the ministry and other church offices, regardless of sex.

Find House Where Robles Girl Kept

Little Tucson Child Was There Only Two Days Ago, Officers Report, Declaring Abductors Are Believed Near Capture Down in Old Mexico

Cananea, Sonora, Mexico, May 8.—(AP)—The house in which June Robles may have been held as recently as two days ago has been found, two patrolmen disclosed today.

The statement came as a manhunt such as this ancient mining settlement has not seen since Mexico's dread rurales swept down in pursuit of early day brigands, spread through Cananea and the surrounding territory.

The policemen, Corporal George Ashe and Tom Newell, of the Arizona highway patrol, did not disclose the exact location of the house, but they said they were convinced the six-year-old heiress to the fortune of Bernabe

Robles, Texas cattle baron, was now in the hands of the two men.

They pictured as the abductors as dodging desperately from abode shack to sun-baked arroyo, somewhere inside the district around which a closing ring of steel-banded Mexican Federal soldiery, with bayoneted rifles, is converging. They were confident the kidnapers could not escape.

When they came upon the house, the found evidence the child had been there but two days ago, her kidnapers apparently having fled with her in alarm as the search, originating in Nogales, on the border to the west, touched points near Cananea.

WORKING CHILDREN RETURN TO SCHOOL

Survey Made of Young People Put Out of Industry Under NRA

Daily Dispatch Bureau, In the Sir Walter Hotel, BY J. C. BASKERVILLE.

Raleigh, May 8.—What happens when boys and girls between the ages of 14 and 16, who have been working in mills and factories, are thrown out of work? Do they become problems and clutter up the juvenile courts? Or do they go back to school and get more education?

This could not be determined heretofore, since when children of these ages once started to work, they generally stayed at work, according to Commissioner of Labor A. L. Fletcher. But when the textile code went into effect in August, 1933, it automatically threw out of employment 2,171 children between the ages of 14 and 16 who had previously been certified for work by the State Department of

SMALLER SECURITY REFUSED BY COURT

Turns Deaf Ear To Pleadings of Insull Counsel and Rules With District Attorney; Insull Resigned To Jail Life; Placed in Jail Hospital

Chicago, May 8. (AP)—Samuel Insull, a tragic figure, was placed under $200,000 bond by a Federal judge today, and unable to furnish it, was led away to jail.

Eyes brimming with tears, step lagging, he trudged silently between his guards to be locked up a prisoner in the city where he had risen to greatness among the financial and utilities potentates of the nation.

Shortly after 1 o'clock, five hours from the moment of his arrival by train from the east, Insull was dressed in at the county jail and assigned to the hospital.

Thirteen thousand miles of hurried wandering across Europe, the Mediterranean and the Atlantic had brought him at last to the bar of justice.

Crowds gaped at him in the station. He faced them impassively. At the United States marshal's office he heard the charges read: "Use of the mails fraudulently and violation of the bankruptcy act." He collapsed, his heart overtaxed by the physical and emotional strain.

He was finger-printed, then led before a judge.

United States District Attorney Dwight H. Green demanded $200,000 bond. The government, he said, had

87 Miners In Germany Entombed

Burggingen, Baden, Germany, May 8. (AP)—A flaming shaft of the Burggingen potash mine formed a temporary crypt today for 87 trapped miners, throwing this village into sorrow and suspense.

With the shaft hermetically sealed because of fire and gas hazards the blocked entrance must be regarded as a tombstone for two weeks while the blaze burns itself out.

Search for the bodies cannot begin until it is safe to open the shaft.

To the sealed entrance children and widows of the victims took tearstained floral offerings and prayers.

Three Shot And Property Damaged In Mine Trouble

Birmingham, Ala., May 8. (AP)—Three persons were shot and extensive property damage caused by dynamiting early today and last night in a wave of terrorism and intimidations sweeping Walker and Jefferson county mine fields.

James Austin, 23-year-old Negro miner was wounded seriously last night from ambush as he was en route home after spending a week in the East Thomas plant of the Republic Corporation.

Three explosions and sporadic gunfire swept the Walker county area near Coal Valley last night, and in Jefferson county a charge of dynamite was set off on a rail line used to haul iron ore.

Meanwhile, there has been no progress in settling a strike of 8,000 iron ore workers who stopped work Friday demanding union recognition, a seven-hour day, and pay raises of from $1 to 2.84 per day.
