EUROPE IS SOLIDLY LINED UP AGAINST AMERICA ON DEBTS

Cheers Ring Out Everywhere on the Continent for Britain's Decision To Default

UP TO WASHINGTON, IS THE CONSENSUS

General View Is Complicated Issue Is Brought To Head and Hand of United States Is Forced; France Happy To Find Britain As Bedfellow on Debts

(By The Associated Press) The capitals of Europe were lined up solidly against America on the war debts question for the first time today.

"It's up to Washington" was the consensus as cheers rang out almost everywhere except in the United States for Great Britain's decision to default, and the sentiment was general that the complicated issue had been brought to a head and that America's aid was forced.

A conference for a full and final settlement of the issue was England's goal.

France, happy to find Britain a bed fellow in default and a logical leader in moves for settlement, turned to its tasking of borrowing nearly $200,000,000 to pay for a military preparedness program.

Italy, it was indicated, would follow in London's footsteps.

The developments encouraged Germany to hope that its foreign creditors would be more lenient.

Newspaper comment generally said world recovery and international amity would be greatly forwarded if an end to the question should be reached.

The House of Commons and the English public gave enthusiastic endorsement of the government's steps.

France Now Moving For Arms Pact

Barthou's Proposal At Geneva Gives Primacy to French Safety, However

Geneva, June 6 (AP)—Combined that no other delegation would make a concrete move to save the stalled disarmament conference, Louis Barthou, French foreign minister, presented a resolution today in a last-minute effort to effect a compromise.

It was understood, however, that Barthou's plan would give primacy to France's thesis of security. The resolution refers to methods of getting Germany to return to the conference, as well as setting the minimum work of the conference.

One delegate described the resolution as a "small olive branch". Others anticipated the French move would incur considerable opposition.

Nations of the world, many of them bitter, came to a showdown today on whether they would disarm. A compromise plan, calculated to "save the face" of the disarmament conference was the only apparent alternative to the complete collapse of the negotiations.

Peering behind these personal squabbles observers found one hope in all-pervading convention that the world's goal of peace was at stake. As suggested by Arthur Henderson, president of the conference, millions of youths' lives might be the price of failure.

For this reason, it was felt, renewed efforts might find a path across the obstacles.

Whale Washed In Cape Fear River

Wilmington, June 6 (AP)—A 50-foot sperm whale washed ashore on a shoal in the Cape Fear river, about 16 miles south of Wilmington, this morning. It is now high and dry on Church's Shoal, and fishermen who found it are making arrangements to move it to a point of vantage where it may be seen. The whale is estimated to weigh approximately 75 tons.

Never Favored Greater University Merger, Fearing Their Institutions Would Lose Their Identity In Large Measure; Speculation on Successors

Daily Dispatch Bureau in the Sir Walter Hotel, N. Y. C. BASKERVILL.

Raleigh, June 6—Action of the board of trustees of the University of North Carolina in retiring Dr. E. C. Brooks, vice president of State College and Dr. J. I. Foust, vice president of the Women's College, Greensboro, at salaries of $4,000 a year with the title of "vice president emeritus" did not come as much of a surprise when the board met here yesterday.

In fact, it has been known that this action was considered last year, but that it was postponed because the time did not seem to be quite right then. The only element of surprise in the meeting here yesterday was

TRAPPED IN SLEEP TWO LOSE LIVES IN MIDNIGHT FLAMES

Residence of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Carter Damaged in Early Hours of the Morning

DEAD WOMEN SLEPT ON SECOND FLOOR

Draft Created as Window Is Broken by Man and Woman in Flight from Death Turns Upper Story Into Inferno And Makes Women's Escape Impossible Trapped in Sleep, Two Lose Lives in Midnight Flames

Winston-Salem, June 6 (AP)—Trapped in their room as they slept, and overcome by smoke, two women perished this morning when fire badly damaged the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Carter.

The dead are: Misses Ethel Massengill, 23, formerly of Raleigh; and Miss Audrey Ellen Angel, 28, native of North Sydney, Nova Scotia, and resident of this city the past seven years.

Mr. and Mrs. Carter were sleeping on the first floor of the residence and were the first ones out of the structure. Two other occupants of the house, H. G. Moore and Miss Mary Carter Nooe, escaped also.

The fire was discovered about 12:45 a. m. Mr. Moore, who was sleeping on the second floor, was awakened when the curtain to the window of his room caught fire, and gave the alarm. He broke the glass in a window and with Miss Nooe went out on a roof and fence to the ground.

As the glass was broken a draft was created and the flames quickly spread through the upper floor, making it impossible to rescue the two women.

Hobart Brantley, of Spring Hope, the Republican nominee in the November election, will oppose Mr. Cooley.

ONLY THISTLES SURVIVE AS CROPS DIE IN DROUTH

Although scattered rains in sections of the middle west have given promise of relieving the severe drouth that has gripped the vast area, thousands of acres of farm land have been without water so long that the crops have been totally destroyed. This section of land near Pierre, S. D., once a great field of wheat, now is overgrown with thistles, the only plant able to survive.

JOHN SPRUNT HILL VICTORY AN UPSET

Upset the Old Apple Cart In Grabbing Senatorship Out of Turn

Daily Dispatch Bureau, in the Sir Walter Hotel, N. Y. C. BASKERVILL.

Raleigh, June 6—Political circles here are still chuckling at the manner in which John Sprunt Hill, of Durham, kicked over the old political apple cart, threw tradition to the wind by breaking the old senatorial district agreement as to candidates, ran for and won the nomination to the State Senate in spite of the efforts of several able political strategists to defeat him. For Hill and Owen R. Robertson, of Hillsboro, were nominated to represent the sixteenth senatorial district, composed of Durham, Alamance, Caswell and Orange counties.

According to tradition and an oral agreement, one of the two senators is supposed to alternate between Durham and Orange counties, so that since Durham had a senator two years ago, no candidate from Durham was supposed to have offered for nomination this time.

But Senator Hill was not at all pleased with the manner in which the Senate and the entire 1933 legislature refused to redistrict the State into new senatorial districts. He was also none too pleased with some other Whiteville, N. C., May 6 (AP)—Cecil and Garland Stevens, brothers, were held today for grand jury action following the death of Warren Inman, 44, unemployed father and several children, who was fatally injured in a fight Sunday night.

ELECTION TO OCCUR LATER IN THE DAY

Message Is Sent To Former President Hoover Thanking Him for His Services To The Party and Wishing Him a "Restful Retirement" in Private Life

Chicago, June 6. (AP)—The name of Henry P. Fletcher, of Pennsylvania, and John D. M. Hamilton, of Kansas, were placed in nomination today for chairman of the Republican party's national committee, with Fletcher's election apparently assured.

The selection of Henry P. Fletcher, of Pennsylvania, as chairman of the Republican party was predicted today as harmony ruled at the meeting after two days of controversy.

Fletcher's chief opponent, Walter S. Hallahan, announced his withdrawal and his support of the Pennsylvanian. Faction differences between supporters of former President Herbert Hoover and those demanding new party leadership also seemed to have been settled as the committee paused to send a telegram to the former president, wishing him a restful retirement. The telegram said:

"The Republican National Committee, in meeting assembled, sends you most cordial greetings and reiterates its appreciation of your devotion to our country's best interests and your substantial contribution to the upbuilding and advancement of American ideals of government. We express the earnest hope that you may be spared for many years to enjoy the well-earned gratitude of your countrymen."

The committee, setting out the party's platform for the fall elections, announced a "liberal and progressive attitude, but declared war on government domination."

The party leaders, approving a four-page document drafted by a "policy committee," recognized that the country has been "backward in social legislation," and said such questions "demand attention by the government."

They declared, however, that American institutions are in greater danger than at any time since the foundation of the republic "of being engulfed by the authority of 'an all-powerful central government'."

Tar Heel Youths Ride With Death

At their fingertips, two boys hitch-hiking on their ear of a Pennsylvania railroad electric locomotive were arrested when the train reached Philadelphia last night.

The boys said they were brothers, John and James DeBerry, 17 and 14 respectively, of Whiteville, N. C. Railroad detectives said many projections near where they sat on the locomotive were heavily charged with electricity, and had they touched them death would have been instantaneous.

Raleigh, June 6—"What price toll bridges?" is being considered by the State Highway and Public Workers Commission in session here today. Jefferson to negotiate with the owners of the three privately owned toll bridges or toll causeways in the State are expected to report their findings today.

BILL TO RESTRICT 1934 YIELD FACING CERTAIN ADOPTION

Growers Not Signing Voluntary Reduction Agreements Would Be Given Crop Quotas

MAJORITY VOTE IS ALL THAT'S NEEDED

Penalty Tax for Growers Producing Tobacco In Excess of Their Allotments Is Provided in Measure, Introduced and Sponsored by Judge Kerr

Washington, June 6. (AP)—Side-tracking plans for immediate consideration of the Lozier farm industrial census bill, the House today took up the Kerr tobacco production control measure with a view to action before nightfall.

The tobacco bill, requiring growers either to sign reduction agreements or receive arbitrary quotas set up by the secretary of agriculture, was taken up under a rule with only a majority vote necessary for passage.

Similar to the Bankhead cotton control law, the bill would provide a penalty tax for growers producing tobacco in excess of their quotas.

The measure was introduced by Representative Kerr, Democrat, North Carolina.

Momentous Happenings At Capital

Administration Moves Swiftly Attacking Myriad Problems of Hour

Washington, June 6. (AP)—The capitol fairly vibrated with activity of historical significance today, with Federal control of stock exchanges becoming law, wide tariff adjustment authority for the President on the verge of law, silver arguments reverberating in the Senate and preparations for drought disaster relief on an unprecedented scale.

On top of all that, there was overwhelming Senate committee rejection of the House bill to let veterans cash in now on their war bonus.

It became plain, too, that President Roosevelt still is seeking agreement Lawrence sealway. Both the Canadian government and Senate opponents of the rejected treaty will be consulted.

Noon was his time for signing the stock market bill that also modifies the securities act. At that hour to-
