

Schools To Start Here On Sept. 13

All White and Colored Schools in City and County Are To Open Then

White and colored schools of the city and county will begin their fall terms on Thursday, September 13, according to tentative opening plans announced today by Superintendent E. M. Rollins.

COMMITTEE WILL PLAN CELEBRATION

Meeting Called for Monday Morning To Set Preliminary Program

Plans for the big celebration Henderson is to stage in connection with the opening of its white way and the modern street lighting system on Garnet street will be given tentative form at a meeting of the committee in charge of the undertaking, which is to be held Monday at 11 a. m.

The committee will organize and take preliminary steps toward getting the movement under way. Several dignitaries will be invited to attend, and it is planned to make the occasion one of the biggest the city has had in a couple of decades.

One of the first things to be done is the fixing of a date, and that is expected to be early in September, at a time after the white way has been finished and before the opening of the tobacco market.

The committee consists of M. C. Miles, acting chairman, J. Harry Bryan, D. C. Loughlin, S. S. Stevenson, R. G. S. Davis and Henry A. Dennis.

REV. MR. HALEY AT FIRST M. E. CHURCH

Rev. Carl W. Haley, who is here during the summer assisting Rev. J. L. Joyce in the pastorate of City Road and White Memorial Methodist churches, is announced as the preacher for the morning services at the First Methodist church tomorrow morning at the 11 o'clock hour.

Beef Cannery To Be Had Here If Good Offer Made

Would Be in Connection With Government Drought Relief Purchases; Quick Action Declared Necessary; Would Mean Additional Payrolls Here

Relief administrators here today pointed out that Henderson has an opportunity to obtain one of the large canning establishments the State Relief Administration will shortly establish for the slaughtering and preserving of the beef cattle shipped in from western drought stricken areas.

It was pointed out that the requirements call for a building with a concrete floor about 90 by 200 feet in the dimensions, and that offers of such establishments will be received and forwarded to State headquarters for consideration.

In view of the fact that large shipments of the cattle are expected to be sent into this county for pasturage, the location of one of the canning plants here would be to great advantage.

It was further stated that a number of workers would be given employment, and that the plant would afford a payroll of some proportions. Estimates are that some plant would be in operation through the emergency, and might continue for two or three years. Those who have been active in bringing the cattle into this state say that a packing industry might well result from this nucleus as a started, and local persons interested in obtaining one of the canning establishments for Henderson say it would be a big asset to the community.

One of the requirements is that the property would be furnished to the government rent free, with some provision made locally to reimburse the owner of the property. Those having property to offer that might meet the requirements are asked to confer with Mr. Dorsey at once.

COL. HARRELSON IS KIWANIS SPEAKER

State College Dean Talks on Merger of Three State Institutions

Colonel J. W. Harrelson, dean of administration at N. C. State College, Raleigh, was the chief speaker before the Henderson Kiwanis club at its weekly meeting Friday evening, held at the Dabney high school at Dabney. He told the Kiwanians of the reorganization and merging of the University of North Carolina, N. C. State College and the North Carolina College for Women at Greensboro into one great University of North Carolina.

Colonel Harrelson was for a number of years director of the State Department of Conservation and Development after serving as a member of State College faculty and before returning there. In his talk he pointed out how duplications in the three institutions would make for greater economy and more efficiency in operation and training.

Miss Ailene E. Hughes sang several numbers for the club members, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. I. W. Hughes. The club applauded its appreciation of her offerings.

L. P. Denmark, of State College, accompanied Colonel Harrelson and was a guest of the club, as were Miss Hughes and her mother, Mrs. J. W. Sanders and Mrs. A. H. Flynn, the latter two wives of Kiwanis members. The program was in charge of George Leggett and C. O. Seifert and the attendance was 25 per cent of the club's membership. The supper was served by the P. T. A. of the Dabney high school, and brought praise and appreciation of the members for the fine meal.

BOUND OVER UNDER BREAKING CHARGES

Jack Ford Held for Entering Partin's Shop; Mayor Has Other Cases

Jack Ford, white man, was held for superior court in bond of $350 by Mayor Irvine B. Watkins in police court Friday when probable cause was found in charges of breaking into J. W. Partin's repair shop early Friday. The man is charged with having stolen tools valued at $10.

Paul Williams was charged with assaulting and beating Mary F. Williams and was discharged.

At today's session of the court, P. C. Arrington, Jr., was charged with giving a worthless check for $1 to Leggett's Department Store, but he was called and failed and a capias was issued for his seizure.

Edgar Capps, white man, was charged with being drunk and cursing George Frankas, and was fined $1 and costs.

Plummer Hedgepeth, white man, was fined $1 and costs for being drunk.

Prisoner's Leg Crushed As Dirt Caves in on Him

Woodrow Small, 18, Negro youth, suffered a badly crushed leg today when a wall of dirt caved in on him at a bridge project being carried on near Vicksboro by State prisoners. It was believed that a rock in the dirt that caved in must have been pressed against the man's leg. The bone was not broken but was badly crushed, which is a condition much worse.

J. H. Gupton, supervisor of the State Highway Commission prison camp here said the boy was taken to Jubilee hospital here for treatment. While the injury is not considered of a very serious nature, it is such that it will be a long time improving. Small was a prisoner at the camp.

Beddgelert, a village of some 1,200, is the most famed village in Wales.

Cattle Of ERA May Be Sent

Several carloads of Federal Relief Administration cattle shipped in from the drought regions of the west are to be sent to Henderson in the next few weeks for pasturage in this county, it was stated today by relief agents here. E. G. Dorsey is in charge of the placements, and all of the cattle to be received here will be transported to pasture lands in Townsville township in the lowlands south of the Roanoke river, it was said.

No definite date has been fixed for the cattle shipments to reach here, nor is it known just how many head will be sent to this county.

DR. G. CHEATHAM DIES IN NEW YORK

Former Practicing Physician Here Had Suffered With Heart Ailment

Dr. Goode Cheatham, 59, for many years a practicing physician here until recently, died yesterday morning at Endicott, N. Y., where he has been making his home with his son, Dr. Goode Cheatham.

The body is to be taken to Brevard for burial, according to latest advices reaching here, and funeral services and burial will occur there Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Dr. Cheatham lived and practiced at Brevard for many years after his first practice in his community, and before he returned here some 12 years ago to resume his practice here. He went to Brevard for his health, which he completely regained and then returned here.

Dr. Cheatham is survived by his widow and one son, Dr. Goode Cheatham, of Endicott. He was a member of the First Presbyterian church here. Efforts were being made by relatives here to have the body brought here for interment, but definite announcement had not been received early this afternoon as to the final decision.

Dr. Cheatham had been in ill health for more than a year. Three weeks ago he suffered a heart attack, and last Monday was taken to a hospital, where he died Friday at a. m. His wife and son were at his bedside when death came.

The doctor was born and reared in Henderson, the son of the late Dr. W. T. Cheatham, and has many close relatives who reside here.

To Lumberton Market Archer Boyd will leave tomorrow for Lumberton, where he will be on the tobacco market.

Holland has a labor law providing for compulsory arbitration in labor disputes.

258 Share In Payroll Of $1,477

Many Essential Projects Being Carried on Under Federal Financing

Half a dozen or more projects in this city and county combined to make up the 258 individuals sharing in this week's disbursement of a relief payroll of $1,477.86 here it was announced today by D. S. Bryan, accountant in charge of the pay-off.

This is the largest payroll of recent weeks, and includes many jobs that are of an essential nature.

Included are work projects on the waterworks plant, repairs to the Henderson high school, repairs and improvements at Aycock and Dabney high schools and at a colored school at Williamsboro, street operations in the city, the Middleburg community house and rebuilding of the road from Townsville to Bullock.

Indications that the work projects will continue for some weeks to furnish employment for several hundred persons with a weekly payroll well over the $1,000 or $1,200 figure.

CHURCH IS FILLED AT PARHAM RITES

Funeral for Well Known Henderson Lady Held Friday at 5 O'Clock

The First Methodist church was thronged with sorrowing friends and acquaintances joining with the family of the late Mrs. Asa Parham Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock in funeral services for her. Mrs. Parham had been a member of that church for 25 or 30 years, and before her health failed was very active in the work of the church. She died Thursday morning after a lingering illness.

There were numerous floral offerings sent by her friends and friends of the family, these more than covering the grave and much of the cemetery lot.

The services were in charge of Rev. T. G. Vickers, pastor of the First Methodist church of Oxford, and former pastor here, in the absence of the pastor, Rev. D. E. Earnhardt, who is on vacation. Assisting were Rev. A. S. Hale, pastor of the First Baptist church, of which many in the family are members, and Dr. H. A. Ellis, of Wilson, former pastor of the church. The choir sang, "Lead, Kindly Light," at the opening of the service, and at the close sang, "O Love That Will Not Let Me Go," while Tennyson's "Crossing the Bar" was sung by a quartette consisting of Mrs. R. W. Goodrich, Miss Emma Jones, W. B. Harrison and R. J. Jones, with Mrs. E. F. Shaw at the organ.

Scripture lessons were read by Rev. Mr. Vickers and Rev. Mr. Hale, while the prayer was by Dr. Ellis.

Numerous out-of-town people were here for the funeral from Louisburg, Oxford, Raleigh and elsewhere. Following is a list of pallbearers announced for the services:

Active—W. P. Gholson, S. P. Cooper, E. H. Perry, Thomas Horner, J. H. Brodette and S. T. Peace. Honorary—J. H. Bridgers, F. J. Corbitt, Sr., W. A. Hunt, J. B. Owen, K. E. Burton, M. Y. Cooper, D. J. TOBACCO SHOWING BIG IMPROVEMENT

Outlook for Quality Yield Is Now Much Better Than Feared

CROPS ARE MEASURED

Practically No Violations of Contracts; More Farms Under Than Over; Adjustments Are Being Made

As the result of generous rains in the last two weeks, tobacco has staged a remarkable comeback from the state of rapid deterioration which had set in at the time the rains set in. There was not too much precipitation, just enough to do the work necessary to bring to the crop out. Observers of the growing weed say it gives promise now of maturing into a crop of fairly good quality, and much better than had been anticipated two weeks ago.

Curing is under way in nearly all parts of the county now, and will be continued for several weeks before the crop has been harvested. Most of the curing in progress now is of bottom leaves, and reports are that it is curing out a fair quality of the leaf. The quality will improve as the upper leaves on the stalk are pulled and placed in the barns.

Committees that have been engaged in measuring the crop during the past few weeks to determine the degree of cooperation by growers in their contracts signed with the Farm Administration are still actively engaged in that task, which has been found to be a considerable job. It has been found that nearly every grower has done his best to abide by the terms of his rental agreement in reducing his 1934 acreage. A few instances where excess acreage was planted, it appeared to be an error of judgment. It is said that there are more farms with acreage slightly under the allotments than there are with excess plantings.

Growers who have overshot their quotas are showing a spirit of cooperation in the way of making adjustments.

GIRL SCOUTS BACK FROM THEIR CAMP

Girls Home From Balance Rock After Two Weeks of Outdoor Life

Some 65 Girl Scouts who have been encamped at Balance Rock for the past two weeks broke camp today and returned to their homes. Their camp directors departed as the two weeks period of outdoor life for the girls came to an end.

Most of the girls were from Henderson, though there were a few from Oxford, Louisburg and other nearby communities.

The encampment was declared a success in every way. The girls were taught swimming, nature study and other arts during their stay. A Girl Scout Court of Awards was held there Thursday night, attended by many of the parents of the girls in attendance.

Tubercular Clinics End For Season

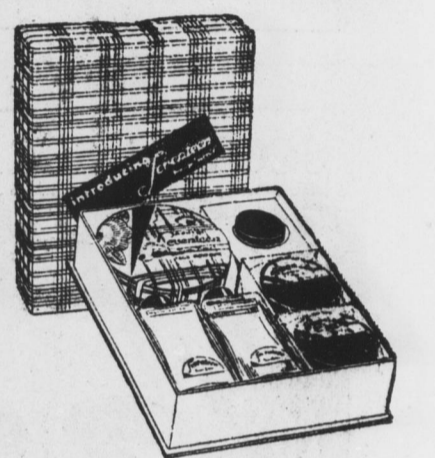

Definite Statistics Not Available, But Number Is Estimated at 116

Two weeks of tuberculosis clinics at the Scott Parker Sanatorium here came to an end at noon today after some 116 persons had been examined. Dr. W. T. Thornton, of the State Tuberculosis Sanatorium, was in charge of the clinic. White patients were examined the first week and part of the second, and colored applicants were taken the latter part of this week.

Dr. Thornton was high in his praise of the sanatorium's equipment, which has recently seen the addition of a new and modern X-ray and fluoroscope outfit.

Definite statistics were not available today as to the reactions of patients to the tests given them, but Dr. Z. P. Mitchell, health officer, who arranged for the clinics, said he hoped to have that data early next week.

There were numerous applicants, and while practically all were taken, it is believed this is perhaps the largest clinic of the kind ever to be conducted in this county.
