

Tar Heels Call For Grid Drills To Begin September 4

George Barclay Heads 21 Letter Men Called

Strong From Tackle to Tackle; Must Develop Ends and Backs

Chapel Hill, Aug. 11.—Coach Carl Snaveley, who comes to the University of North Carolina this year after having made a splendid record as mentor of the Bucknell Bison, announced today that he would begin early practice on Tuesday September 4, and that he has called 49 members of the Tar Heel squad back by letter going out this week.

Coach Snaveley reported last winter in time to conduct the off-season practice and to ground his squad in the fundamentals of the adapted Warner system, which he will install here during the eight years, 1926-33, that Chuck Collins was coach of the Tar Heels used the Notre Dame attack. Although he had to return to Bucknell to coach baseball, completing his contract at the Pennsylvania institution, Coach Snaveley has since kept in close touch with the individual players through a series of letters discussing the results of winter practice, play of the different positions, summer training, and so on.

The 49 players receiving call to early practice include 21 lettermen, headed by George Barclay, All-Southern and All-American guard, who will captain the 1934 eleven in its bid for gridiron glory. It is interesting to note that both the new coach and captain hail from Pennsylvania and that Barclay is a former star at Kiski famous football plant, where Mr. Snaveley coached in 1922. Coach Snaveley has had little to say about his opinion of prospects. His only comment today was "The schedule is undoubtedly difficult for the team. Our hope is to have a team which, though it may be outclassed in some of its games, will play good football and fight its hardest every minute.

The consensus of opinion among the team's followers here is that Carolina should have a strong line from tackle and that the success of the season will turn on the way the ends and backs come through.

The center and guard positions will show identical the same faces as in 1933. Two big soph, Trimpey and Wrenn, make up for the loss of Bill Collins at tackle. The ends will be new but big. The leading candidates are Moore and Barwick, who won letters as understudies, and Buck and McCann, soph. The problem in the backfield lies in developing a few new men outstanding in all departments of play from the quantity of prospects available.

M. E.'S FORFEIT GAME TO M. P.'S YESTERDAY

The Loss Puts M. E.'s Out of The Running; Lions-M. P.'s to Meet for Flag

The M. E. Baracas forfeited their last chance to be in the City League play-off series yesterday afternoon when they failed to have a full team at League Park to meet the M. P. Baracas. They have no numerical chance of finishing in second place as the result of their loss.

With the dropping out of the M. E.'s the Lion and M. P.'s are left to battle for the top place in the loop and the flag. The Lions are leading the loop with the M. P.'s not far behind in second place. Only one more full week remains to be played in the circuit.

PAHLMAN'S CHARGES READY FOR SUNDAY

Take On Hillsboro Here At League Park 3:30 p. m.; Pleasants To Hurl

Otto Pahlman and his charges, the Henderson Independents, were primed today for their meeting with the Hillsboro Statesmen of the Central State League at League Park tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Don Pleasants, who started the hard hitting Clarksville team here Thursday afternoon will be sent back to the mound again Sunday enroute to the mound against Sunday's opponents by Skipper Otto. When Pleasants "fire ball" is working, he's practically invincible and he has little trouble handling the opposing batters. If he fails, Pahlman has two "dark horse" hurlers in reserve, ready to drop into the breach and save the day.

The visitors are by no means a set-up for they finished the first half of their league race deadlocked with Durham Bulls for first place. The Bulls nosed them out in the play-off. The Bulls from Durham are well known here, having trimmed the locals in an early season encounter in easy fashion.

Large Scale Inflation Is Feared

ment saying that "for the present" the more expansive policies would not be followed on the silver purchases that recently included nationalization of the nation's bullion stocks.

Disclosure of the Treasury's silver plans coincided with the release of figures by the comptroller of the currency showing that the money in circulation per capita had dropped from $42.46 to $41.99 during the month of July. These compare with a per capita circulation of the $44.76 on July 31, 1933, and of $53.21 for October 31, 1920.

Total circulation of silver certificates amounted to $494,732,801, of which $85,752,515 was held by the Federal Reserve Bank.

The total amount of money in circulation July 31 was $5,317,455,610, as compared with $5,373,469,752 on June 30.

The relatively minor circulation position of silver was shown by a per capita figure of $3.15 as compared to $24.05 of Federal Reserve notes, and by $6.99 of national bank notes. Officials have indicated privately more than once that they did not expect the issuance of new silver currency to result in much of a circulation increase, as it was believed they would in many cases merely supplant outstanding Federal Reserve notes.

C., during a recent encampment of the regiment. The unit halls from Henderson. Col Hodge A. Newell, of this city, and Col H. B. McMurdo, of Fort McPherson, Ga., were loud in their praise of the company's work. Other companies at the camp were carried through the barracks in order to give them some idea just how they should be kept. The encampment was said to have been a great success, the local units of the Regiment coming in for much praise at the camp.

BENNETT'S DILEMMA

Premier Bennett of Canada was placed in an embarrassing position by the statement. In the first place he literally is a Troy. He is against all change and considers even the New Deal as something to be abhorred. He sends Communists to prison for incredible terms.

But it was not of himself that Premier Bennett thought when the Stevens' statement came to light. Minister Stevens named personal friends and business associates of the premier as alleged beneficiaries of the system he denounced.

Minister Stevens produced his statement in pamphlet form, mailed it to a selected list of persons and

Few of Those Who Complain Of Stomach Have Serious Ill

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
OF ALL the people who complain of their stomachs and their digestions, very few of them have any organic disease of that organ.

Dr. Clendenning

The only common disease in which there is a structural change in the stomach is ulcer. The only other organic disease of the stomach that is even fairly common is cancer, and cancer of the stomach is comparatively a rare disease—at least, infrequent.

About 10 per cent of the indigestion in the world is due to ulcer, the rest of the dyspepsias are functional. We do not mean at all when we say that an illness is functional, that these people imagine all their distress. We simply mean that in its secretion or in its movements, the stomach does not do its work smoothly, and hence produces symptoms.

badly functioning stomachs, or with low stomachs, are likely to make themselves worse with all kinds of faddy diets—separating the starches from the proteins, going on vegetable diets and buttermilk diets, and especially by trying to promote proper evacuation with diets high in roughage. What most of them need is a smooth, non-irritating diet, such as the following:

- Fruit juices, eggs, bacon, white bread, toast, butter, milk, young carrots, cooked celery, Italian squash, turnips, musles without bran, puffed cereals, cream soups, beef, lamb, whitefish, chicken, oysters, sweetbreads, liver, potato, rice, sweet potato, asparagus tips, beets, creamed spinach.
- Purees of beans, peas, lentils, lima beans or artichoke hearts; noodles, spaghetti, macaroni, sweet corn passed through a colander, tender string beans, peeled tomatoes, raw or cooked; canned or cooked pears and peaches, and bananas, preferably cooked; cottage cheese, simple puddings, custards, ice cream, gelatin, plain cake, stewed fruit, baked apple, stewed prunes.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Six pamphlets by Dr. Clendenning can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin, for each, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clendenning, in care of this paper. The pamphlets are: "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene" and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."
