New York, Sept. 25 (AP)—District Attorney Samuel Foley announced today after a three and a half hour grand jury session that the case against Bruno Richard Hauptmann, as receiver of the Lindbergh ransom money, had been "completely broken." Foley said it had been disclosed before the grand jury that two closet panels had been found in the Hauptmann home which bore the address and telephone number of Dr. John S. Condon, the "Jafsie" who paid the $50,000 Lindbergh ransom to a supposed representative of the kidnapers. The two panels, Foley said, were lost and placed in the closet in such a manner that they could be removed. On one, the district attorney disclosed, was the home address of Dr. Condon, and a telephone number which Foley said was Dr. Condon's at the time of the kidnaping.

On the other, according to Foley, were serial numbers, one of which has been found to be the number on one of the ransom bills. Foley said that the boards were proof to him that Hauptmann was in communication with "Jafsie" regarding the negotiations and "Hauptmann is undoubtedly the man who received the $50,000 from Condon."

Foley said the boards constituted a "clever bit of camouflage" and it was recalled that at the time of his arrest last week Hauptmann described himself as a carpenter now out of

Albert S. Osborne, One Witness at Inquiry, Has Found Great Similarity in Writing on Ransom Note and That on Hauptmann's Automobile Applications

New York, Sept. 25 (AP)—The $13,750 in ransom money found in the garage at the home of Bruno Richard Hauptmann, alleged receiver of the $50,000 Lindbergh ransom, and the ransom note and other messages from the kidnapers were taken before the Bronx county grand jury today.

The evidence was presented in District Attorney Samuel J. Foley's effort to obtain an indictment charging extortion against Hauptmann, unemployed German carpenter, illegally in this country. The money and notes were taken into the grand jury room while Albert S. Osborne, handwriting expert, and his son Albert D. Osborne, were before the jury. The two were there about an hour, with the father, who has said the handwriting on the ransom note and that of Hauptmann on applications for automobile licenses were similar, being questioned most of that time.

LINDBERGH STORY GIVEN OPEN ROAD

For More Than Two Years It Has Pushed Everything Else Off Front Page

By LESLIE EICHEL (Central Press Staff Writer) New York, Sept. 25.—This is written as a newspaperman, from a newspaperman's point of view.

The Lindbergh kidnaping story has pushed more stories off the front page than any other story in newspaper history.

In fact, it pushed Franklin D. Roosevelt off the front page when he needed front page publicity most.

In March, 1932, Mr. Roosevelt was ready for the final big push for the nomination. He needed the unostentatious front-page publicity that every man heading for the presidency must have.

Mr. Roosevelt wasn't so well known then as Alfred E. Smith—strange as that may seem now.

You will recall that the Lindbergh story first "broke" on March 1, 1932. Mr. Roosevelt went off the first page for ten days.

Along came convention time—June, 1932. The politicians were all set for having exclusive first page space. Put, lo, another angle of the Lindbergh case broke, the Lindbergh baby was found dead—and Mr. Roosevelt lost first page space that he needed badly.

Election Time

Toward election time, more angles to the Lindbergh story "broke", and to boot, Lindbergh announced he would vote for Mr. Hoover.

Now we come to Sept. 20, 1934. President Roosevelt has returned to Hyde Park from viewing the yacht races off New port.

The greatest strike in American history—the textile strike—is reaching a climax. The President is receiving a report from the special fact-finding commission he appointed, and his secretary of labor. The strike leader intimates that the report contains "startling" findings. The President is to make it public the following day—with intimations that the strike will be settled with a dramatic meeting.

And then—the Lindbergh case "breaks" once more! The man who allegedly took the ransom money is arrested—and the story crowds

Action Soon Expected On Rail Lease

Goldsboro-Morehead Line May Be Taken from Norfolk Southern Road

By J. C. Baskerville, Daily Dispatch Bureau, in the Sir Walter Hotel.

Raleigh, Sept. 25.—Quick action by the State of North Carolina with regard to the disposition of the lease of the State-Owned Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad from Goldsboro to Morehead City, which has been under lease to the Norfolk Southern Railway, was foreshadowed by the conference held here this morning between Governor J. C. B. Ehringhaus and Morris Hawkins receiver for the Norfolk Southern. The conference also indicated that all present obstructions in the path of the immediate construction of the port terminal at Morehead City are about to be removed.

Revenue Department Planning to Crack Down On All Classes Shortly

By J. C. Baskerville, Daily Dispatch Bureau, in the Sir Walter Hotel.

Raleigh, Sept. 25.—Those business and professional men in the State who have not yet paid their license taxes, which were due June 1, had better plunk down their cash for licenses in the very near future if they do not want executions or warrants issued against them, officials of the State Department of Revenue indicated here today. There are some 12,000 delinquents who have not yet purchased their Schedule B license tax certificates, and most of these have already been visited from two to ten times by the deputy collectors of the department but without results.

From now on the deputy collectors have instructions to issue either executions, if the delinquents have sufficient

Gorman Charges Yellow Dog Contracts, Company Unions and Refusal to Reinstatement Workers Unless They Repudiate Union Being Used by Mill Owners

Washington, Sept. 25 (AP)—Francis J. Gorman, chairman of the textile strike committee, said today sentiment for renewal of the strike was strong in southern mill centers because of allegedly widespread discrimination against strikers in re-employment of the workers.

Gorman said he was urging union leaders to be patient until the new textile relations board was appointed and had been given time to act. "We know now with certainty," Gorman said, "that a number of employers, particularly in the cotton industry, are using methods of reprisal against members of the union. In the South the vast vicious type of discrimination is evident. "Yellow wdog contracts, company

Prices High On Old Belt At Opening

North Carolina and Virginia Markets Start Off Right Around 30 Cents

Richmond, Va., Sept. 25. (AP)—The opening of nearly two score warehouses in 11 Virginia cities today found the Old Dominion golden weed selling for an average of 30 cents a pound. Although conservative estimates had indicated a price of about 22 cents, the first few rows at many of the markets sold at prices ranging from 26 to 34 cents.

There was more than a million pounds of tobacco on the Danville market when it opened, and about the same amount on the South Boston market.

Tobacco men said the color of this year's offerings is unusually good, especially so in the cigarette types.

REIDSVILLE AVERAGE IS REPORTED AT $34.21 LEVEL
