Roosevelt Is Pushing Speedy Reorganization Of NRA

PRESIDENT HEARS ALSO PROTEST OF TEXTILE STRIKERS

No Mention of Johnson's Resignation Made in the Conference with Newspaper Group

WILL NOT REPLY TO CHAMBER QUESTIONS

President Turns Query Aside by Joke; Says He Cannot Answer All Questionnaires Put to Him by Various Organizations; More NRA Changes Coming

Washington, Sept. 26 (AP)—President Roosevelt said today upon his return to the White House that he would take up immediately, possibly late today, the question of NRA reorganization and the protest of textile strikers of discrimination by employers.

At his desk in the White House the President talked with newspaper men at his regular press conference following his return from the summer White House at Hyde Park, N. Y. He did not refer to his letter of last night accepting the resignation of Hugh S. Johnson as recovery administrator.

The President emphasized again that the reorganization of NRA would be of an evolutionary nature, and that changes would be made from time to time on the basis of trial and experiment.

Asked about the questionnaire submitted to him by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, the President said he did not have time to answer all questionnaires put to him by various organizations.

He said that in reading the questions of the Chamber of Commerce he was reminded of the lawyer who put the question in the form: "Have you stopped beating your wife?"

Little doubt was left that the Chamber of Commerce would not receive a reply from the President.

Mrs. Bizzell was believed by officials to be insane.

DISCRIMINATION ON UNION IS CHARGED

Organizer There Says He Is Acting on Authority of Francis J. Gorman, Strike Chairman; High Union Official Expected There To Take Charge

Roanoke Rapids, Sept. 26 (AP)—J. Dooley, United Textile Workers organizer here, announced today that a vote would be taken this afternoon on plans for resumption of the strike in the six Roanoke Rapids textile mills.

Dooley said there was no question of the outcome of the vote, and that the strike would be called, effective at midnight Sunday.

The action was taken, he said, following what he termed wholesale discrimination against union members as the mill prepared for resumption of operations following the general textile strike.

Dooley said he was acting under authority of Francis J. Gorman, national vice president of the union, who had advised that local leaders take whatever steps they deemed necessary.

Dooley said he had been advised that either B. B. Lawrence, president of the State Federation of Labor; Paul Christopher, president of the State Textile Council; or C. M. Fox, member of the national strike committee, would come here today to assist in plans for the local strike.

Prospect of Federal Intervention Acts as Leavening in Carolinas Textile Areas

LEADERS URGED TO SUPPRESS TROUBLE

Charlotte, Sept. 26 (AP)—Prospects that governmental agencies would handle charges that mills were discriminating against their erstwhile strikers acted as a leavening agency in the Carolinas textile industry today, but at Roanoke Rapids a new strike appeared imminent.

At strike headquarters here for North Carolina, in which state the principal discrimination charges have been made, local leaders were urged to keep down trouble among disgruntled strikers until government agencies appeared.

Winborne Predicts Big Cut In Power Rate Soon

Raleigh, Sept. 26 (AP)—Stanley Winborne, State utilities commissioner, said today that conferences looking toward reduction of electric light and power rates in communities in North Carolina served by the Carolina Power and Light Company, have progressed to the point that new rate schedules have been proposed and rejected.

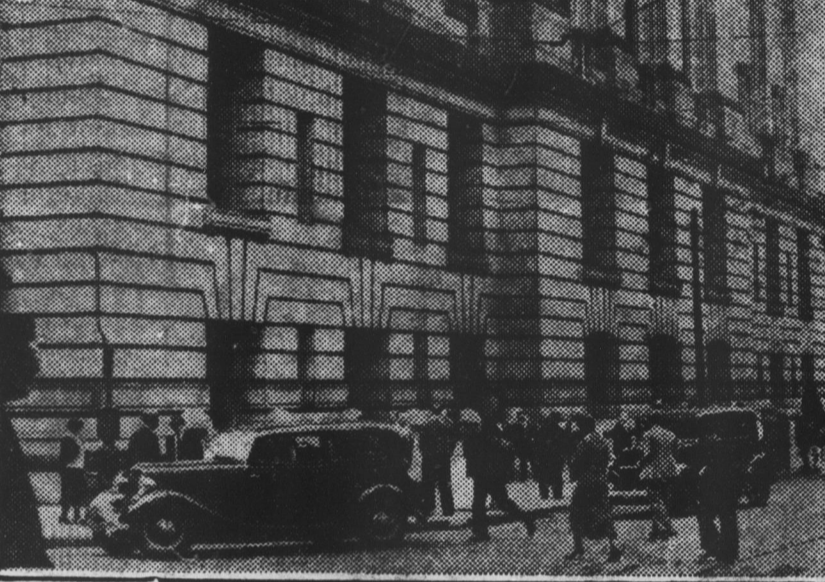

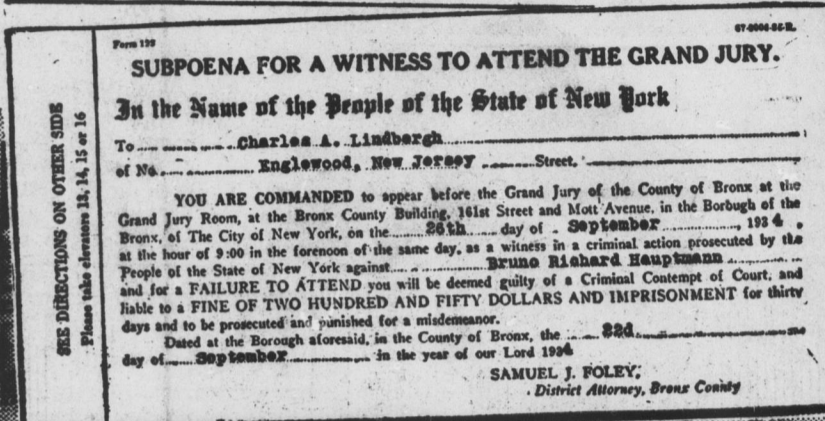

The commissioner expressed the hope that power rates may be effected in the near future to save consumers in North Carolina who are served by the Carolina company as much as $300,000 yearly.

Late yesterday the South Carolina Railroad Commission announced that the Carolina Power and Light Company had reduced rates in South Carolina so as to allow consumers an annual saving of $94,937.

Mr. Winborne said this morning that the South Carolina reduction "put rates there on the same reduced basis they were put on in North Carolina 20 months ago."

Prohibition Revision To Arise Again

New U. S. Ruling on Beer May Throw Whole Issue Back to Legislature

Daily Dispatch Bureau, In the Sir Walter Hotel, By J. C. Baskerville.

Raleigh, Sept. 26—The entire question of revision of the State's prohibition law, as well as of the present law permitting the sale of beer of not more than 3.2 per cent alcohol, is likely to be thrown into the lap of the 1935 General Assembly as a result of the new ruling by the U. S. Bureau of Internal Revenue imposing an additional excise tax of $1,000 each on all dealers who may seek to sell beer of more than 3.2 strength in dry states, according to many observers here.

Basic Farm Crops Show Sharp Gain

Wheat, Corn, Hogs and Cotton 101 Per cent Higher Than in Sept. 1932

Chicago, Sept. 26 (AP)—Market value of wheat, corn, hogs and cotton, the basic farm commodities defined by the agricultural adjustment act, were shown today to be 101 per cent higher than the average, of late September, 1932.

Whereas late in April this year the Chicago market prices of these commodities averaged 37 per cent higher than April 1932, they now average 101 per cent above the corresponding date two years ago.

Early in June this year, these prices averaged only 71.5 per cent higher than the corresponding date in 1932.

Compared with a year ago, the basic farm products now average 35 per cent higher, corn and hogs showing the greater percentage of increase.

To Meet Budget Requests Would Take Ten Millions More New State Revenue

Most Departments and Institutions Asking 50 to 100 Per cent Increase in Their Appropriations During the Coming Biennium; Teachers To Get More

Daily Dispatch Bureau, In the Sir Walter Hotel, By J. C. Baskerville.

Raleigh, Sept. 26—The next General Assembly will have to find at least $10,000,000 in new revenue if it is going to grant the requests which the various State departments and institutions are now presenting to the Advisory Budget Commission in session here this week, and to which the various department and division heads are submitting their budget requests for the 1935-1937 biennium. It is already apparent after three days of these hearings, that most of the departments and institutions are asking that their appropriations be boosted from 50 to 100 per cent and that when all requests are in the amount requested will exceed the amount appropriated by the 1933 General Assembly by at least $10,000,000.

It is further apparent that virtually all departments and institutions are requesting an increase of at least 20 per cent for all employees. This would necessitate an increase of at least $4,000,000 in the appropriation for all departments and institutions, exclusive of school teachers. A 20 per cent increase in the salaries of school teachers, who this year are getting a total of about $13,000,000 in

FINDS THAT VOTERS WANT NEW PARTIES

Some Think There Ought to be Three Instead of Only Two as Now

By CHARLES F. STEWART (Central Press Staff Writer)

Washington, Sept. 26—A political party realignment decidedly is needed, in the judgment of an overwhelming majority of readers who have answered the query I recently put to them:

"Have the old-time Republican and Democratic labels ceased to mean much, except as labels, and would the country's voters do best to sort themselves out again into a couple of new groups, with a real distinction between them?"

I launch this inquiry following announcement of the organization of the American Liberty League, under Joseph Shouse's presidency and the sponsorship of Al Smith, Congressman (and ex-Senator) James W. Wadsworth of New York, Irene du Pont of the munitions du Ponts of Delaware, General Counsel (and former Democratic presidential candidate) John W. Davis of J. P. Morgan & Co., and General Counsel (and former Republican governor of New York) Nathan L. Miller of the U. S. Steel corporation.

This set-up was quite generally re-

DESTROY STALKS AND KILL WEEVIL

Pick Cotton Soon as Possible, Agriculture Experts Advise

Washington, Sept. 26 (AP)—Areas of the cotton country severely infested by the boll weevil were advised by the Department of Agriculture "to pick your cotton as soon as possible and destroy he stalks immediately."

No weevil control measure, said Lee A. Strong, chief of entomology and plant quarantine, is more effective and practical than early fall destruction of cotton stalks.

Each day of delay means the development of many addition weevils, he said.

In Strong's opinion, he opportunities for early fall destruction are better this year than ever, because the drought matured the crop early over large areas, most of he crop has been picked and is usual at this date, and the average to be picked a smaller than for many years and because labor for picking is abundant.

Hauptmann Says New $800 Find Also Given Him for Keeping by Dead Isadore Fisch

ROLLS FOUND BACK OF GARAGE BOARDS

25-Calibre Automatic Pistol Also Found There; Money Rushed to District Attorney's Office and Immediately Placed Before the Grand Jury

New York, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Four rolls of bills amounting to $800 were found today in Bruno Richard Hauptmann's garage and District Attorney Samuel J. Foley said Hauptmann told him that it was part of a bundle of money given to him for safe keeping by the late Isadore Fisch.

"Every one of the bills is a Lindbergh certificate," Foley stated.

MONEY FOUND ON BEAM BEHIND BOARD IN GARAGE

New York, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Police in their search of Bruno Richard Hauptmann's premises, today found more money in Hauptmann's garage and rushed it to the district attorney's office.

The money was not immediately identified.

The money was found by Lieutenant Martin Tobin ten minutes after a police crew of two carpenters and three laborers had begun to dismantle the garage.

Tobin declined for the time being to state the amount of the money found or whether he believed it was a part of the Lindbergh ransom money. It was left in a burlap bag, and was resting on a beam inside the garage.

After announcing the find, Tobin, jumped into an automobile and sped toward the district attorney's office.

Persons who got a glimpse of the bag as it was rushed to the district attorney's office, estimated that the bundle was three feet in length and six inches wide. Later it was reported the money was found in four holes back of a board on the side of the garage, having been rolled to fit the holes.

Back of the board also was found a .25-calibre automatic pistol.

When Lieutenant Tobin arrived at the county building, the money was immediately rushed to the grand jury room.

Hauptmann Indicted By Grand Jury

Col. Lindbergh Tells Jury of His Futile Efforts to Ransom Infant Son

New York, Sept. 26 (AP)—A Bronx Grand Jury today indicted Bruno Richard Hauptmann on the charge of extortion as the alleged receiver of the $50,000 Lindbergh ransom.

The indictment was handed up to Supreme Court Justice Charles E. McLaughlin in the Bronx county building in less than an hour after the grand jury had returned from a luncheon recess.

At the morning session the grand jury had heard from Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh his own story of his futile attempt to ransom his kidnaped son two and a half years ago by the payment of $50,000 through Dr. John F. Condon, the "Jafsie" of the negotiations, to a supposed emissary of the kidnapers at the St. Raymond's cemetery in the Bronx.
