Connor Appointed To Federal Job

R. D. W. CONNOR

Washington, Oct. 10 (AP)—President Roosevelt today appointed Professor R. D. W. Connor, of North Carolina, as archivist of the United States, a new position in the Federal government.

Dr. Connor is principal professor in American history at the University of North Carolina, and formerly was archivist of that State.

His job will be to keep the official records of the government and to make plans, estimates and recommendations for such historical work as collections of sources, materials as seem appropriate for publication at public expense.

"Governor Lehman told me," he said, "that he was ready to grant the request of New Jersey that Hauptmann be sent there from New York city to face trial for the abduction-murder."

"I did not ask a hearing because I preferred to carry the case direct to his court," Fawcett said.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 10 (AP)—Governor Lehman indicated today that he would take no action on New Jersey's application for the extradition.

Constitutionality Railroad Pension Act Up On Ruling

Washington, Oct. 10 (AP)—Constitutionality of the railroad pension act described as the Roosevelt administration's first major experiment in social legislation, came up for review today in the district of Columbia Supreme Court before Chief Justice Alfred A. Wheat.

The act, which compels the railroads to set aside funds to care for retired employees, has been made the subject of a strenuous legal assault by 134 of the nation's carriers, which contend it violates the commerce laws of the Constitution and deprives them of property without due process of law.

Says Prices Are Not Yet Up Enough

Washington, Oct. 10 (AP)—President Roosevelt feels that commodity prices should go a little higher before an attempt is made to stabilize the price level.

The President was described as feeling that considerable progress has been made in the last year and a half in bringing the nation's assets and liabilities to a more even relationship but that the assets column could go still higher.

It was emphasized, however, that prices should be prevented from going to the roof, so to speak, and that when a reasonable level was

Unless Schools Actually Close, There Is Little Chance for Aid, Except To Unemployed Teachers, Helped Just as Any Others Unemployed

Daily Dispatch Bureau, In the Sir Walter Hotel, By J. C. Baskerville.

Raleigh, Oct. 10.—The outlook for obtaining any Federal aid for schools in North Carolina or any money from the FERA with which to increase teachers' salaries was regarded as anything but bright today, following word from Washington yesterday to the effect that Harry L. Hopkins, Federal relief administrator, had announced that no plans whatever have been made with regard to helping the public schools this coming winter.

New Row Now Brewing With Labor Group

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 10 (AP)—Bitter resentment of trade union leaders against the description of their new members as "rubbish" brought forebodings of a tempest today on the floor of the American Federation of Labor Convention here.

Refusing to let go unchallenged the insinuation these new members do not measure up to the calibre of elder members of the A. F. of L., Francis J. Gorman, head of the United Textile Workers, said:

INSULL LEADERS AFRAID TO ENTER STOCK FOR SALE

Letter Written in 1929 Expressed Concern Over Operation of Blue Sky Laws

ADMITTED AS PART OF STATE EVIDENCE

Defense Objection To Entering It Is Overruled By Court; Relates to Corporation Security Company and Called "Heart of the Case"

Chicago, Oct. 10 (AP)—The government has struck at a bit of correspondence of which it calls the "heart of the Insull case."

Offered as evidence about the formation of the Corporation Security Company, of Chicago, the correspondence was a letter in which the writer expressed concern over listing stocks of "the new company" on "any exchange" and referred to "the blue sky laws."

It was admitted in evidence, over the objection of the defense, over the letter, dated August 29, 1929, was addressed to F. J. Shrader, a director of the Corporation Security Company, and former vice president of Halsey Stuart and Company. It bore the initials C. E. S., which were controllable of the investment house, identified by V. Lamont, former as those of Charles E. Stuart, vice president of Halsey, Stuart and Company.

A carbon copy of the letter taken from the files of Corporation Securities, bore the initials "H. L. S.," supposed to be those of Harold L. Stuart, head of the brokerage concern.

It was read to the jury and said, in part:

"In connection with the new company, I told my brother this morning in my opinion I thought we would make a great mistake in listing either the preferred or common stock on any exchange."

State Fair Structure Is Burned

Raleigh, Oct. 10 (AP)—The east wing of the main exhibition building at the State Fair grounds here was in ashes today but the annual fair continued as crowds made merry on the midway and visited the exhibits and other attractions.

An early morning blaze, discovered shortly after midnight, destroyed east wing of the exhibition building housing most of the agricultural forestry and other state exhibits. The fire was confined to the east wing. The origin of the fire has not been determined, and there was no estimate of the damage. Firemen battled the fire until nearly dawn. They were handicapped by lack of water facilities on the ground.

Ten Killed At San Sebastian, Where More Than 500 Arrests Have Been Made Past Few Days; Volunteers Join Government To Put Down the Uprising

Madrid, Spain, Oct. 10 (AP)—Terrorism gripped northern Spain today as government troops concentrated for an attack on revolutionaries in the labor district of Asturias provinces.

San Sebastian reported ten persons killed and undetermined number wounded in a brush between striking workmen and soldiers. The military reported capturing 40 strikers in a single house, where a quantity of arms also was found.

Within the past few days more than 500 arrests have been made in San Sebastian area, and 24 persons faced the death penalty.

Sporadic shooting continued all night in Bilbao and along the entire northern coast. In the Oviedo region General Edouard Lopez Ochoa, fresh from successful sorties against revolutionary deaths in Trubia, expected to join other government forces today for a drive against the apparently well-armed robbers. Ochoa's forces were augmented by more than 3,000 volunteers of the Populist and other government parties who have performed valiantly in encounters to date.

GOOD PROGRESS IN PARK ROAD SURVEY

Mountain Highway Neither As Expensive Nor Difficult as Thought

Daily Dispatch Bureau, In the Sir Walter Hotel, By J. C. Baskerville.

Raleigh, Oct. 10.—Excellent progress is being made on the survey of the park-to-park highway route from the Virginia line to Blowing Rock, according to R. Getty Browning, chief locating engineer for the State Highway and Public Works Commission, who has just returned from an inspection trip along the route of the new scenic highway.

The survey party of about 25 men, has already completed reconnaissance surveys over the entire route from the point where the highway will cross the Virginia line into North Carolina all the way to Blowing rock, a distance of about 85 miles. These preliminary surveys are being followed up with more detailed reconnoitering and in some cases engineers are surveying two or three different routes so that these may be studied before the final location of the highway is decided upon.

"I was very much pleased at progress which our surveying party had made along the route of park-to-park highway and indications are that the survey should be completed by the first of the year at the latest," Brown said. "There is always the possibility of bad weather holding things up. But so far the weather has been very good and we are hoping that it will remain favorable."

It is impossible for any one who has not been through the section of Alleghany, Ashe, Wilkes and Watauga counties, through which this portion of the park-to-park highway will pass, to have anything like an adequate idea of the scenic beauty along this route. Browning said. For the most part of the highway route will follow the crest of the mountains.

Trotsky Reported U. S. Bound

Leon Brownstein, known to the world as Leon Trotsky, is reported to be on his way to the United States for a visit. It will not be his first one to this country. He was a waiter in a hotel and movie extra in New York before he went to Russia to become first foreign minister and later commander of the Red Army. Photos show him at the time he was the Red chieftain, smilingly addressing an audience in Denmark after his exile, and as he appeared as a movie extra in 1916.

Plane Wrecked On Mt. Mitchell Found

High Point, Oct. 10 (AP)—Winfred Miller, of the forestry division of the soil erosion service, today told of finding in a laurel thicket near the crest of Mount Mitchell the wreckage of an airplane which he said had apparently fallen several years ago and not since then visited.

The discovery was made while Miller was reconnoitering on his own during a week-end visit with friends in the western part of the State. He said that he made efforts to determine ownership of the plane, but was unsuccessful and will go back in a few days to take a party to the scene where the wreckage was found.

Some bones were found a short distance away, but they were scattered, although he found what he thought might have been the bones of a man's leg. He said that his investigation as to any plane being lost in the vicinity were fruitless.

Leon Henderson Speaks Loudly in Representing Public Interests

Such a payoff, advocated also in Detroit for the defunct First National bank, has been deferred there by the alleged refusal of competitors of Henry Ford to agree. Ford has 25 million tied up in the bank.

KING ALEXANDER'S BODY BEING TAKEN BACK TO HIS HOME

French Foreign Minister Barthou, Assassinated at Same Time, Taken To Paris

YUGO-SLAV KING ON VISIT OF GOOD WILL

Marsilles Scene of Tragedy That Rocks Europe; Two Others Fatally Injured In Shooting During Parade Through Streets; Last Wish for Peace

(Copyright by Associated Press) Marsilles, France, Oct. 10 (AP)—King Alexander of Yugoslavia was started back to his homeland today.

His body was borne through streets which yesterday reverberated successively to cheers, pistol shots, shrieks and weeping.

At 4 p. m., exactly 24 hours after he had set foot in France, on what was intended to be a gala visit of good will, the assassinated king was taken back to the Yugo-Slavian destroyer Gastromich which brought His Majesty here.

Again today there were massed thousands of spectators, but their silent faces mirrored Europe's anxiety over what the assassination of the Yugo-Slav king by a Croatian on French soil may mean.

France had hoped that Alexander's visit would be a long step toward a pact including Italy and sealing the peace of the Balkans for years to come. That was the dream of Louis Barthou, foreign minister of France, but all through the day the dead Barthou had lain in state besides Alexander.

Together they were shot at 4:10 p. m. yesterday by Petrus Kalogren, a

He was told that he now was Peter II, king of Yugo-Slavia, successor to King Alexander I, slain yesterday at Marsilles.

After a hasty breakfast, and after being told his father was dead, Peter was taken to the Yugo-Slav legation, and was preparing to join his mother, Queen Marie in France.

After three hours, during which a steady stream of diplomatic callers visited the legation, Peter seemed somewhat dazed, but with a stiff upper lip he was hurried to a hotel for a reunion with his maternal grandmother, owager Queen Marie of Roumania.

Meanwhile Yugo-Slav officials were busy with plans for removal of the royal party, and at noon the boy king emerged from the legation, and, carefully guarded, motored to Piccadilly to join his grandmother.
