at 109 Young Street

HENRY A. DENNIS, Pres. and Editor. M. L. FINCH, Sec-Treas and Bus Mgr. TELEPHONES Editorial Office 500 Society Editor 610 Business Office 610

The Henderson Daily Dispatch is a member of the Associated Press, Southern Newspaper Publishers Association and the North Carolina Press Association.

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to use for republication all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper, and also the local news published herein. All rightsof publication of special dispatches herein are also reserved.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES Payable Strictly in Advance One Year $5.00 Six Months 2.50 Three Months 1.50 One Week (by Carrier Only)15

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS Look at the printed label on your paper. The date thereon shows when the subscription expires. Forward your money in ample time for renewal Notice date on label carefully and if not correct, please notify us at once. Subscribers desiring the address on their paper changed, please state in their communication both the OLD and NEW address.

National Advertising Representatives BRYANT, GRIFFITH AND BRUNSON, INC. 9 East 41st Street, New York 230 N. Michigan Ave., Chicago 201 Dovenshire Street, Boston General Motors Bldg., Detroit

Walton Building, Altanta Entered at the post office in Henderson, N. C., as second class mail matter

THEY SHALL NOT BE WEARY They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run, and not be weary; and they shall walk, and not faint.-Isaih 40:31.

TODAY

TODAY'S ANNIVERSARIES

1643-Robert Cavalier, Sieur de La Salle, French explorer of America. born. Died in Texas, March 19, 1687. 1754—Abraham Baldwin, Georgia statesman and U. S. Senator, who helped in the framing of the Constitution, born at North Guilford, Conn. Died in Washington, D. C., March 4, 1819-George Eliot (Marian Evans) fained English novelist, born. Died Dec. 22, 1880.

1829-Shelby M. Cullom, lawyer, governor, Illinois U. S. Senator for many years, born in Wayne Co., Ky. Died in Washington, D. C., Jan. 28.

1914 1857-George Gissing, English nove list, born. Died Dec. 28, 1903.

1879 William O. McGeehan, New York City writer on sports, journalist, born in San Francisco. Died at Brunswick, Ga., Nov. 29, 1933.

1887-Charles E. Mack, originator of the famous comedy team, born at White Cloud, Kansas. Killed in auto accident, near Mesa, Ariz., Jan. 11,

TODAY IN HISTORY

1774 Lord Clive, creator of Bri tain's empire in India, committed sui-

1867-Jefferson Davis, former President of the Confederacy, returned to Richmond, after two years of impris-

1837-William M. Tweed, most notorious of all American political "bosses," sentenced in New York to 12 years' imprisonment. 1916-Died-Jack London, novelist, in California, aged 40.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAYS

John N. Garner of Texas, vice-president of the United States, born in Red River Co., Texas, 65 years ago. Heber J. Grant, president of the Church of the Latter Day Saints, Salt Lake City, born there, 78 years ago. Thomas Beer of New York, author.

born at Council Bluffs, Iowa, 45 years Cyrus E. Dallin of Arlington, Mass. sculptor, born at Springville, Utah, 73

TODAY'S HOROSCOPE Perhaps the best definition of the day's character of this degree is that it is clever; possibly cunning would be a better description in some persons. There are great powers of persuasion, and if the trait of the day does not become obtrusive, positions of trust, bearing success, will almost certainly follow faithful application to the duties.

ANSWERS TO TEN QUESTIONS

See Back Page

- 2. Approvimately 208.7 feet on each 3. The two extreme points in the or-
- bit of a planet. 4. Umlaut. 5. Charles V, in instructions to his generals when the English invaded
- France in 1373.
- 6. A naval officer appointed by the president of the United States.
- 7. Hartshorn. 8. Edgewood, Maryland.

ter line.

- 9. Rasputin.
- 10. The sides of a ship above the wa-

HENDERSON DAILY DISPATCH Cotton Control Benefits Are Outlined to Growers

Sentiment At Mass Meeting in Court House Appears Overwhelmingly In Favor of Continued Regulation; Referendum Due In Few Weeks

of the Bankhead cotton control act in the price since control came into during the season now drawing to a being. He drew a line of difference close were outlined to white and col- between the plight of the grower beored cotton farmers of Vance county fore and after. at a meeting held in the court house to its capacity, and the farmers heard farm agent of State College, and also a talk by J. W. Sanders, Vance coundirected all sign-up campaigns in the

Mr. Sanders said that so far as he was able to determine the growers at the meeting were overwhelmingly there were no other addresses the in favor of continuation of the control act through another year, and peared to be very much pleased with would vote in favor of it when the Secretary of Agriculture Wallace. Mr. McCrary recalled the low price others at the meeting.

Benefits derived from the operation | of cotton before control was made

Mr. Sanders took the case of one here today. The court room was filled grower in Vance county and showed how in 1934 he has made twice as an address by O. F. McCrary, district much money on two acres as he made on four acres under the old system, and, in addition, he has had the use ty agent, who presided, and who has of the extra two acres this year for other crop purposes. The price received for the 1934 yield, half of that before, was almost to the dolla? dou-

There were no other addresses than these two. The farmers present apthe results of their 1934 cotton cropreferendum is held in the next few ping, and came together in a cheerweeks on a date to be named by ful mood. It was estimated there were between 440 and 500 growers and

Public Should Be Alarmed At Amebic Infection Spread

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D. of the ameba which is found in them LAST YEAR we were shocked to hear of the many cases of amebic often cause amebic dysentery. This dysentery which developed in Chi- is because it is a sleeping or vegetacago in visitors to the World's Fair. tive form, in which several animals

ently, it will be a tough coat.

alarmed, because

Dr. Clendening

at San Quentin prison, where be- are allowed to spread the disease tween 5 and 10 per cent of all of during their hours of employment. these people, who represent a cross section of the population of the United States, were found to be ameba

In districts where the disease be-comes endemic, or, in other words, stamped with a three-cent stamp. show up in considerable numbers, the this paper. The pamphlets are: incidence is even higher. True, these "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reintestines, are not sick, not in an of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene" active stage of the disease. The form and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

This year, appar- form together in a colony with a different story. I have not heard taken advantage of this fact to say of any cases de- that the infestation of ameba in the veloping in this general population is not dangerous. Way in Chicago ways potentially dangerous to their But we should associates; that no one can tell when not be so much the encysted form is going to become active and set up ulceration of the intestine, especially of an inamebic infection has been found dividual who has not created any immunity to it. The carriers often to be widespread have created some form of immunity in the United or protective device and do not fre-States, and any quently become infected, but they community might may give it to another individual. possibly succeed who immediately develops the disease to the unenviable in its most mailgnant form. Such an reputation which Chicago acquired.

Studies in the United States since of the Chicago epidemie.

1916 indicate that between 5 and 10 The most dangerous of all aspects per cent of people in the general of the situation is that food handlers, population harbor amebae in their cooks and waiters, may be carriers, intestines, and are constantly dis- and with the amount of infestation charging them. This figure seems present, efforts should be redoubled surprisingly high, but it is confirmed to be certain that all such persons in a recent survey of new arrivals are carefully examined before they

EDITOR'S NOTE: Six pamphlets by Dr. Clendening can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin, for where cases with acute symptoms to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of carriers, the people whom I have just ducing and Gaining," "Infant Feedmentioned who have amebae in the ing," "Instructions for the Treatment

George M. Cohan in "GAMBLING" the STEVENSON Friday only.

Start Fight Save Greens From Chair

Daily Dispatch Bureau, In the Sir Walter Hotel, By J C. Baskerville,

Raleigh, Nov. 22.-Affirmance in the lower court's judgment of death against Bascom and Lester Green, father and son, who were found guilty with Mike Stefanoff and R. E. Black of murdering T. C. Barnes, Taylorville banker, n July, 1933, will end that case and Governor Ehringhaus alone will determine whether there is to be any mitigation of punishment automatically inflicted.

Stefanoff has been electrocuted. Black was convicted with him and the Greens were later tried and sentenced to death. Black was reprieved following the Stefanoff statement implicating others in this conspiracy to fob the bank. While the appeal of the Greens was being prepared by Leland Stanford, their attorney, he died. The case recently was docketed in the Supreme Court and argued. Counsel hoped for a new trial and new evidence. There were promises of something diverting if not actually startling. The men participated in the same crime, though the Greens hoped for a lesser degree of punishment on their representation that they did not shoot the cashier and did not try to do so. The Black reprieve was given awaiting Supreme Court action on the appeal. Had a new trial been awarded, it is quite probable that Blcak would have been used as a witness. There is an automatic setting of a new date. The time now fixed for the death of the two Greens would be December 7. It is not likely that Goxernor Ehringhaus would of his own option fix another tripre execution. date. There will be a very determined effort to save Lester Green, whose youth is pleaded in his behalf. Both men had been shown previous to this killing and robbery to have been of good character.

Flains, Tex., 34 years ago.

Howard Brockway of New York, composer, born there, 64 years ago.

New Trial Sought In Supreme Court For 2 Benson Men

Daily Dispatch Bureau. In the Str Walter Hotel, Br J. U. Baskerville.

Raleigh, Nov. 22.-Attorneys who vere here yesterday arguing the Mc-Lamb and Raynor cases before the Supreme Court in the effort to get a new trial for the Benson merchant, I. B. McLamb, and the Benson law-Wiley Post, aviator, born at Grand yer, James Raynor, went away believing their chances to be good. McLamb was convicted on two counts charging conspiracy and bribery for which he drew sentences of to that trial, Attorney E. M. Gibson were used as witnesses against the for Raynor and McLamb told the court that Judge Hoyle Sink had sentenced these defendants on the original charge of conspiracy and brib- ty Republican, has served in the Senery, the defendants had given notice ate and in the House as member from of appeal and sent the papers up, Johnson and was county attorney of that Judge Hoyle Sink had dismissed this appeal and put the defendants viction in the State court disbarred on trial again giving them more pun-

Giant Powder

The lawyer pleaded former jeopardy in this second judgment and that was overruled, At the instance of Chief Justice Stacy, Mr. Gibson renewed the original motion for a writ of certiorari, made in the first trial, and the court now has two cases before it. The lawyer hopes to have the case heard de novo.

The charge of bribery alleges that L. A. Hodges and Derwood Hicks specttively. Raynor, his attorney, was conspiracy and that Raynor delivered convicted similarly and given five to the money to them. These defendants seven and three to four years. Prior | are now in the state's prison and merchant and the lawyer.

There is Statewide interest in the case, Raynor, leading Johnson coun-Johnson. He has been since his conby the North Carolina Bar, Incorporated, and has appealed to the Supreme Court from that decision, alleging an ex post facto defense.

Governor Thinks State Improving

(Continued from Page One.)

growers. When the East makes money six to 10 and three to four years re- were paid $500 on their part of the and when there is a loss it counts. Governor Ehringhaus and Federal Judge I. M. Meekins have been big growers in their day and have shared of these planters.

> The suggestions which Governor Ehringhaus made to the department have not been given to the public by him. Work in behalf of the potato people was only incidental. While the executive was in Washington he talked relief programs to Harry L. Hopkins, head of the national organi zation. The national director was moved to declare following that meeting that North Carolina is meeting its imemployment situation well. Governor Ehringhaus means to recommend as one of the big items of North Carolina's budget for 1935 and 1936, a State appropriation to that purpose.

This and the continuing good prices for tobacco and cotton, the hope of a much better return on potatoes, moves the governor to believe that the State goes into its winter and spring work with much more hope than it had six months ago. The improvement in State revenues seems to guarantee a large participation of the State in the relief work in which Washington has had the lead. Governor Ehringhaus sees prospect of improvement everywhere.

Shivering with Chills Burning with Fever

Sure Relief for Malaria!

Don't try homemade treatments or newfangled remedies! Take that good old Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic. Soon you will be yourself again, for Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic not only relieves the symptoms of Malaria, but destroys the infection itself.

The tasteless quinine in Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic kills the Malaria infection in the blood while the iron it contains builds up the blood to overcome the effects of the disease and fortify against further attack. The twofold effect is absolutely necessary to the overcoming of Malaria. Besides being a dependable remedy for Malaria, Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic is also an excellent tonic of general use Pleasant to take and absolutely harmless. Sale to give children. Get a bottle today at any drug store. Now two sizes-50c and $1. The $1 size contains 2 1-2 times as much as the 50c size and gives you 25 per cent more for your money.

> Coal and Wood CITY FUEL CO. Ransom Duke, Prop. -Phone 180-

The Blande Countess - by Herbert O. Yardley CROSS WORD PUZZLE

GREENLEAF got up briskly and went to his bookease, returning with a gazetteer which he opened at a large map of Virginia and Maryland "Let's see if you can indicate pretty well the location of this gas station," he said. Sarab indicated a spot in the zeneral direction of Leesburg.

"It wasn't that far and it was more to the north I think. Up here somewhere, I should say." With a pencil she drew a smail

"It was uninhabited country. Very few houses and plenty of woods. We were getting into the hills when we

Greenleaf nodded. Thanks, Sarah, you've been very

She looked at him searchingly. "You've reason to think there was omething suspicious about that stop and the gas and all? I must be honest and say it looked perfectly open and above board. I was rather on the watch, too."

"And you may be quite right, Sarah," Greenleaf said. "Only don't talk about this to anyone. And if the Countess should speak of the trip, don't be unduly interested, just natural. Also, if you should go quiry for her to follow." again, watch every detail without seeming to. Probably you won't go again though.'

"Why?" Sarah asked. "Ah," Greenleaf said enigmatically, "that would be overdoing it. They wouldn't do that."

Sarah was sent home in a cah, whereupon Jake turned his speculative gaze on Greenleaf. "You think that gas station may be a link in the chain, is that it? And the receipt had a message, in avisible ink, no doubt, as it seemed blank but for the printing and the few written words. I can see all that as possible but I don't see why the Countess would have taken her secretary there if it was so. Isn't t a blind, a trick to keep you from looking elsewhere? I get your point about the rough road. The chauffeur has been instructed to go to a cortain place only to be reached by that road. Good. The Countess expects it and doesn't complain. Therefore the whole thing is planned. If she'd not wanted it to seem so, wouldn't she have complained to the chauffeur? I'm assuming, of course, Greenleaf nodded. "She does. She guesses I put Sarah on the job. She all but invited me to do so."

"She invited you!" sacialmed Jake.

that she's regarding her secretary as

Greenleaf threw bimself into a stroke but perhaps inconvenient all chair and lighted a cigaret, then east times." humorous glance at Jake.

"I see I'll have to begin at the beginning. You must understand the difficult job. Perhaps a spy as sec-psychology of this problem if you retary is less inconvenient than some are to help me. Well, then. Some unknown spy snooping around, as cars ago, before the Countess was the second housemaid or somemarried and had become a great thing." ady, she and I were engaged in some secret service work together. 1 formed a high opinion of her abilhusband is appointed Scandinavian ambassador, his sympathies being, i may say between us, pro-German. say this is all planned?" The German espionage becomes increasingly efficient, and I have word that a peculiarly dangerous spy is now in this country."

"Is the spy known?" Jake asked "Only by number, J-37. That, and the fact she is a woman. She may be anywhere and in any class of society. I do not know. Now. at the time I am worrying about this. the Countess comes and offers her services to me-quite frankly for lt's a sheer professional matter with her, or so she says. Naturally I'd be glad to get her, provided she is playing straight with Her husband's pro-German me. sympathies make me a little skeptical, but still she may be on the level. So I tentatively engage her and we agree on certain lines of in-

"And." Jake asked. "with what result?" "None, as yet," Greenleaf replied. But, to do her justice, she has had only a few days. I've nothing there to check her by. But observe. She suggests a method whereby this J-37 may be got into her employ. She advertises for a secretary with certain qualifications I agree, but I send a picked candidate in my pay, whom she hires. I have thus a spy upon her, to see if she is playing straight." "My God," sald Jake in awed tones, "how you people trust each other!"

"Don't we?" Greenleaf agreed. "But that's only the beginning. Now listen carefully. I, knowing the Countess to be a clever woman, naturally guess that she suspects our friend Sarah to be in my pay. She has gone into this with her eyes wants to convince you that she is. such as a really clever person might Bring on your spies, she says, I am overlook. I spot them so she the goods and cam't be hurt."

"Yes," Greenleaf said modding "Yet there's another possible slowly. answer. Suppose she is a spy in the German service and she knews I'll have her watched. Why not have my spy where she can be seen by the Countess, right under her nose, her this red herring." secretary?" "Ingenious" Jake agreed. "A bold

"Granted. But there's inconvenience in any case. It's part of a Jake sighed.

"I follow you this far, but I see it's going to be more and more inties. Now comes the war, and her volved. I'll be dizzy and fall in a fit. What's all this to do with filling stations and rough roads and all? Ton > Greenleaf held up a forefinger as though demonstrating to a class. "We assume, then, that she is trying to hoodwink me-"An unproved assumption," Jake interjected. "Yes, but I must make it and see where it leads. How will the Countess act?"

"So as not to arouse your suspicions," Jake said. "That's an easy one." "Good. But there's an alternative.

Suspicions if aroused must be in the wrong direction. Then, any move

she makes is either perfectly natural and innocent, or it's deliberately calculated. Now, then, this drive with its attendant circumstances may be a mere accident or it may be designed to make me think something. What?" "That everything is innocent in that direction, that there's no use looking into filling stations and all,"

Jake suggested. "No that's not it, not if she's got some other move up her sleeve. No, she'll want to lure you in the wrong direction. So she offers you this as a bait. you're busy working at that she'll be doing tricks elsewhere. That must

Greenleaf smiled enigmatically and said slowly, "You may be right. But that's rather obvious, don't you think? Suppose the psychology is subtler. She concedes me a certain degree of intelligence. Any crude diversion, any obvious false trail, I'd see through. She must make this false trail look so much like the real thing that I'll be almost taken inalmost but not quite She leaves one open. Why?"

almost but not quite She leaves one or two careless details, very slight, overlook. I spot them as she means me to and I am pleased with my cleverness. I say, in effect, you thought you'd pull the wool over in eyes and I'd be diverted by your gasoline pump, and shack in the hills, and receipts for gas. Not me. this red herring."

(TO BE CONTINUED!

ACROSS

1 -An infant

5--Protective garments 11 Measure of capacity

13- - Fiber for leaks (naut.) 14 -Co-ordinating conjunction

15. The king of beasts (poss.) 17 Natrium (symbol) 18 Put to practical use

20 To muddle

22-To substract

24 Writing fluid 26- To repent of

27 A sewing implement 30-One who does 31-Silver coins (U. S.) 33-A note of the diatonic scale

35-Imposing height 36-Indefinite article 37-A short poem

39-A supporting bandage 41 - Dwarfism 12- Affirmative votes

DOWN 1-A university city in Indian U.S.

2-The atmosphere 3-Baronet (abbr) 4-A dog's cries 6-Small horses

7-Leveled E-All correct (slang)

9-A woman under religious 10-Slight superficial knowledge

16-Matured 18-Solicited 19-Spanish deilars 21 -A point of the compass

12-Tear

23-A hint 25-Apportions 28-Dollar (abbr. 29-A sprite 30-In a dry manner

40-That is

32-American Temperance society (abbr.) 34-A girl's name 36-A prescription term 38-A point of the compass

Answer to previous puzzie

	-	-		4			31000		*		P
	5	P	A		P	H	A	2	T	0	M
	N	A	T	U	Q	E	W	H	1	7	E
	0	7		S	0	R	T		P	A	T
	R	A	T		W	0	0	0		L	A
	E	M	1	R		0	R	U	G	7	工
ia,i		A	L	U	N	///	E	S	A	Ü	///
	C		E	T	0	7	///	K	E	7	4
	L	B	///	H	0	0	F	///		ī	E
	A	R	C	///	D	1	A	Ĺ	///	T	A
	S	0	0	T	W	S	T		7	E	R
	5	W	0	L		E	2		B	D	S

