Nobel, Ltd., Munitions Firm in London, Winked at Violation Of Treaty

ALLIES ASSENT TO GET REPARATIONS

Raised No Objection Because They Were Obtaining German Payments Thereby; Nobel Could Have Halted Procedure; Sensation In Hearings

Washington, Dec. 5.—(AP)—A statement that Nobel, Limited, British munitions firm, founded by the donor of the international peace prize, was guilty of "winking" at the re-arming of Germany in violation of the Versailles treaty, were presented today to the Senate Munitions Committee.

The committee also received evidence that the State Department in 1925 recognized the Allies were complying with Germany in violation of the Versailles treaty, because permitting the illegal manufacture of explosives in Germany "swelled the reparations funds."

Correspondence between the Du Pont company and its foreign department drew the charge of "winking" from Senator Vandenberg, Republican, Michigan who was conducting the hearing.

Parker Declines Motion To Quash Grice Charges

Goldboro, Dec. 5.—(AP)—A crowd estimated by officers at 1,500 milled about the court house here today as attorneys began the process of selecting a jury to try Mrs. Ruby Grice, 36-year-old widow and her brother, Donald Sasser, for complicity in the slaying of her husband. The court house seats only 450, and all spectators were barred until the 350 veniremen and the principals and their relatives had been admitted and found seats. Immediately after court was convened, the defense moved to quash the indictment, to dismiss it and to continue the trial until another term of court. Judge R. Hunt Parker overruled all the motions. Hugh Dortch and N. W. Outlaw, attorneys for Mrs. Grice and Sasser, gave no reason in asking that the indictments be quashed. In arguing for dismissal of this they contended the defendants were placed in double jeopardy since they had been indicted separately, arraigned and the charges later nolle prossed.

Daily Dispatch Bureau, In the Sir Walter Hotel, By J. C. Bankerville.

Raleigh, Dec. 5.—Selection of Capus M. Waynick, editor of the High Point Enterprise as assistant chairman of the State Highway and Public Works Commission, with the full authority of the chairman as long as Chairman E. B. Jeffress remains incapacitated by illness is being heartily commended on every hand here today. In fact it is generally agreed that the appointment as assistant chairman is in fact equal to the appointment as chairman, since Waynick will have as much authority as if he were chairman, and since few believe Mr. Jeffress will ever be able to again return to active duty as chairman, even though his condition improves materially over what it is at the present time.

The appointment of Waynick as acting head of the highway department did not come as a very great surprise in informed circles here, since many have felt for a number of weeks that he was among those Much remains to be accomplished." Reviewing the past year in the industry, Sloan discussed the efforts of and the recent textile strike. The code, he said, had relieved the pressure toward minimum wages, equalized conditions of competition and enabled the industry to re-absorb its unemployed.
