

TWO YOUTHS HELD IN STORE BREAKING

Part of Heavy Docket Tried By Recorder, With Many Cases

Two young white men giving the names of Charlie Edwards and William Shaw, and their home as Brooklyn, N. Y., were bound over to superior court under bonds of $500 each Monday by Recorder R. E. Clements in county court when the pair came before him on a charge of breaking into the J. F. White store on the national highway at Gill's Siding and stealing cigarettes.

The alleged robbery occurred Sunday about mid-morning, while S. F. White, a son was asleep upstairs at the store. Some on in the neighborhood noticed the boys loitering around the store, and when the robbery was discovered a chase was started and the two boys, walking southward was overtaken and brought back here and jailed by Sheriff J. E. Hamlett. A nolle prosequi with leave was taken in the case of Perry Davis colored charged with breaking and entering a store and larceny of goods. The evidence was insufficient.

T. M. Bobbitt white man, was charged with non-support, and prayer for judgment was continued on condition that he provide for the support of his family.

Dick Moseley, white man, was charged with driving a car while under the influence of liquor, but further judgment was suspended on payment of a fine of $30 and costs, on condition that he does not drive a car again in six months.

H. A. Odem, white, drew a suspended judgment on payment of a fine of $1 and the costs when charged with giving a worthless check for $7.14 to Teiser's Department Store, it appearing that the check had been made good.

John K. Brown, white, was fined $2.50 and costs for being drunk, further judgment being suspended.

Stella Baker, white, and a man despite the feminine name, was sent to the roads for 30 days for being drunk.

J. A. Day, white man, was charged with driving a car while under the influence of liquor. The recorder ruled that, in view of the fact that the man was under 20 days sentence in police court on a charge of driving while under the influence of liquor, and had taken an appeal, he would let him off in this case provided he paid a $50 fine and costs and $10.14 damage to Roy Pegram's automobile, and not drive a car again in North Carolina in six months, and provided further that he withdraw his appeal in the mayor's court and accept the 30-day road sentence, which the defendant agreed to do.

No session of recorder's court was held today.

New Body Lines and More Power For The New Plymouth

The 1935 Plymouth makes its debut in Henderson at Motor Sales Co., Declared to be the most beautiful car that Plymouth ever built, the new model is also the largest of all Plymouths. It is three inches wider than the 1934 deluxe car and measures 38 inches from bumper to bumper, also an increase of three inches. The floor is lower than that of former models designed to allow more head room and riding comfort.

With an engine that produces 82 horsepower, without change of bore or stroke Plymouth's latest creation is the most powerful yet placed on the roads. Again the machine is equipped with a safety-steel body, floating power, hydraulic brakes and the other distinctive characteristics of earlier models.

In the 1935 Plymouth, front and rear springs carry approximately the same weight and have the same frequency, causing all parts of the chassis to ride alike. The front end bounce is controlled by double-acting shock absorbers, and definite improvement has been made in back seat riding.

Since free action of soft front springs makes for sideway slipping of an automobile, independent spring action of the 1935 Plymouth is taken care of by a torsion bar called a sway-eliminator.

Popularity of Plymouth has continued to increase during past years, and today the car is represented by were in 1929. The first million automobiles have been sent from the factory, 10 times as many owners as there and now, with the new models out, "On to the Second Million" is the slogan of Plymouth's manufacturers and dealers.

BOUND OVER FROM FORGERY CHARGES

Clyde Abbott Tried Before Mayor; Drunk Charges Also Aired Out

Clyde Abbott, white man, had bond fixed at $250 by Mayor Irvine B. Watkins when the latter bound the defendant over to superior court in police court Monday on charges of forgery. He was alleged to have signed the name of J. B. Abbott to a check for $8 at the Citizens Bank and Trust Company.

It was one of the number of cases tried by the mayor at the first session for the new week. There was no session of his court today.

Ralph Henderson, colored, was fined $5 and costs for being drunk. Louis B. Sterfield and George W. Johnson, both also colored, were given hearings on similar warrants and drew the same judgments.

Ben Davis, colored, was fined $2.50 and costs for being disorderly on the streets and cursing.

Clyde Short, a white man, was fined $1 and costs for exploding fireworks on a city street. He threw a lighted cracker the other night at George Aycock, a policeman, not knowing he was an officer, whereupon the officer did his duty and made an arrest.

Willie Bullock, white man, was sent to the roads for 30 days for being drunk.

J. A. Day, who last week was given 30 days on the roads for driving a car while under the influence of liquor, and gave notice of an appeal, came in later and withdrew the appeal and accepted the road sentence.

Ann Cannon May Not Get Huge Estate

of no issue, the trust would go to Smith Reynolds' brothers and sisters.

IF CANNON CONTENTION IS TO STAND, SHE WINS MUCH

Winston-Salem, Dec. 11.—(AP)—If the contention of Anne Cannon Reynolds Smith are upheld by the court, she and her daughter, Anne Cannon Reynolds II, will have their already huge patrimony—the Cannon towel fortunes—enhanced by the $25,000,000 tobacco fortune of Smith Reynolds.

This was disclosed by an examination of this State's intestate laws. The opinion is predicated, however, not only upon the court's findings that Libby Holman Reynolds was not the legal wife of Smith Reynolds, but also upon the invalidity of a will made by Smith Reynolds August 21, 1931, and filed in Forsyth county, Mrs. Smith asked the court to divide the estate, but makes no suggestion as to the terms of a division. If she is established as the legal widow, and it is ruled that her husband died intestate, Mrs. Smith would receive one-third of the estate and her child two-thirds. The wife is supported by the estate one year before debts are deducted. Real estate goes to the child, subject to the widow's dower, which allows her the income of one-third of the real estate for her life.

The intestate laws provide that if there is more than one child, the estate is divided equally among the children and the widow, the widow getting a child's part.

The application of this law could not be made, of course, unless Libby Holman and her child, Christopher Smith Reynolds, are declared ineligible to share. This phase in itself would involve a lengthy court battle.

Referendum For Tobacco Starts

county will be kept open for at least 10 consecutive days.

The referendum will be on whether the growers wish to continue the Kerr-Smith act in 1935, with its provision for controlling production by taxing the excess sales of growers who have not signed adjustment contracts.

If the act is continued, the Agricultural Adjustment Administration will study the market and make allotments to non-contract signers in accordance with the probable needs of the market. Sales in excess of the allotment by non-signers will be subject to tax.

The value of crop control is shown by comparing the 410,000,000 value of the 1934 crop in North Carolina with the $33,607,000 received for a bigger crop in 1932, when production was not controlled Floyd Stated.

Floyd pointed out that growers who signed contracts will not be able to control production by themselves if the Kerr-Smith act is revoked and non-signers are permitted to increase their output without restriction.

FORTUNE TELLER IS WANTED IN TEXAS

Woman Who Has Disappeared Here Hunted by Officers from There

An officer from the far away State of Texas was here Monday, it was learned today, inquiring as to the whereabouts of "Madam Virginia," fortune teller who spent some weeks here and only in the past few days departed mysteriously, allegedly taking with her $420 from one woman and various other amounts from others. A warrant for her has been issued, but nothing has been learned as to her whereabouts.

Officers here said today that the woman was wanted in Texas for making away with $2,040, an aggregate sum said to have been obtained from two persons. It was also reported that she had flim-flammed a number of people here of amounts ranging up to $50 or thereabouts, especially colored people, in addition to the $420 taken from a Mrs. May.

Madam Virginia also bought a bill of furniture from the Henderson Furniture Company, made a down payment on it and then the first monthly payment. Thereupon she came in and bought a radio and soon afterwards absconded, taking the radio but leaving the furniture, which was later recovered.

It was said today that she had left her State of North Carolina license and that issued by Vance county for $100, indicating officers think that she has left the State.

First Meeting In New Grange Hall

The members of Middleburg Grange are looking forward to their meeting tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock in the new community house that has just been completed.

Work has been in progress for the past year or more on the structure, and this will be the first meeting ever held in the structure.

Here's Sample of Court Sentence of Just Century Ago

Speaking of court sentences and their severity, the following will be of interest, as it appeared in last week's "The State," written by T. O. Rodwell, of Warrenton:

For the benefit of those who may think that some of our judges are at times rather hard-boiled I am quoting below a sentence passed upon Thomas H. Christmas, a Warren County citizen, at the April term Warren County court, 1827. Hon. Thomas Ruffin acted as judge.

"And the said Thomas H. Christmas being brought to the Bar in the custody of the Sheriff of Warren County; the Court doth adjudge and award that the said Thomas H. Christmas be imprisoned in the common jail of Warren County without bail or mainprize for twelve calendar months, and that on the first Tuesday after the fourth Monday in May
