Even Looking to Summer With Great Hope; Betting for Inflation

By LESLIE EICHEL, Central Press Staff Writer. New York, Jan. 2.—Wall Street actually is looking for the New Year to begin with a spurt. Wall Street even is looking ahead to next summer with great hope. The chief reason for this is the heavy winter precipitation over much of the chief agricultural areas.

STOCKS Stocks are likely to be motivated largely by inflationist or non-inflationist tendencies until Congress adjourns. The betting is for inflation. But the Roosevelt administration may be able to top it.

Land and labor—these are the two primary factors that, by their union, produce all wealth and bring about all material satisfactions. Given labor—that is to say, the ability to work and the willingness to work—and there never has and never can be any scarcity of employment so long as labor can obtain access to land. That the monopoly of land—the exclusion of labor from land by the high price de-

The delegation voted unanimously for abolishing the House discharge rule whereby a bill may be brought to the floor by a vote of 145 representatives.

WIFE OF ACCUSED SITS IN AUDIENCE

Three Women Already Accepted for Service; Flemington Takes on Boomtown Atmosphere; 700 Reporters, Wiremen and Others On Hand for the Trial

Flemington, N. J., Jan. 2.—(AP)—Selection of a complete panel before the end of the day to try Bruno Richard Hauptmann for the kidnaping and murder of Baby Lindbergh looked possible shortly after the opening of the first afternoon session of his trial. Six jurors had been sworn.

Hauptmann, back in his chair between uniformed State troopers, resumed his steady, dull staring straight ahead. Lindbergh head resting on his arms, studied the prospective jurors with obvious interest. Colonel Schwarzkopf, seated beside him, frequently whispered to him as the examination proceeded. A fifth juror was selected and sworn immediately after the opening of the afternoon session. She was Ethel Stockton, wife of another veniman. Four jurors were selected from 22 persons questioned before lunch. They are Charles F. Nieder, a farmer; Mrs. Rosie Hill, a widow; Mrs. Yerna Snyder, housewife; and Charles Walter, Sr., a machinist.

The opening of the far noted trial today presented boomtown scenes as 700 reporters wiremen and others descended upon the busily engaged, but calm, 2,700 inhabitants of the village.

SAYS AMERICA IS REALLY IN LEAGUE

Tinkham Charges Political Trickery To Do It At Last Session

By CHARLES P. STEWART, Central Press Staff Writer. Washington, Jan. 2.—If Americans did not know it, says Congressman George Holden Tinkham of Massachusetts, the United States today is as much on League of Nations premises as if it had joined the World Court.

There is only this difference, according to the Boston lawmaker: Efforts to get Uncle Sam to join the World Court have been described as an attempt to slip him into the league through the back door.

This scheme having failed, due to the opposition of Americans who understood its purpose and disapproved of it, the pro-league element adopted the plan of introducing Uncle Samuel into the international set-up by way of a cellar window.

That is, they succeeded in affiliat-

Over 100 Dead In New Year Period

(By the Associated Press.) More than 100 deaths were attributed today to the observance of New Year's and the cold wave that swept across the northern half of the nation from the Rockies to New England. Automobile accidents alone account for more than 60 of the fatalities, while fires, gun play and other mishaps swelled the total to at least 115. Among the dead was the three-month-old daughter of a Waukesha, Wis., whow as suffocated, the coroner said when her mother left the child in blankets in a parked car during a New Year's celebration.

At least eleven of the deaths were attributed to the weather. Four perished in El Paso, Texas. When smoke from an elevator shaft seeped into the room of a Buffalo, N. Y., hotel, Robert Patton went to the ledge outside the window and toppled six floors to his death. He had apparently attempted to leap to an adjoining ledge.
