Had To Go To Hopewell on Account of Baby's Illness; Identifies Thumb Guard And Grows Defiant in Denial That She Dropped the Trinket

Flemington, N. J., Jan. 7.—(AP)—Betty Gow, nursemaid, to the slain baby Charles Augustus Lindbergh, Jr. today identified the garments worn by the baby on its last night in the Lindbergh home and admitted under cross-examination that she "probably" told others of the Lindberghs' movements.

The little Scotch nurse took the stand as a star State witness when court opened for the second week of the trial of Bruno Richard Hauptmann, Bronx carpenter accused of the murder and was still under cross-examination when the luncheon recess was taken from 12:30 to 1:45 p. m.

Her direct questioning brought out the finding by her 100 yards from the Lindbergh home of a thumb guard worn by the baby, a point to which the State hopes to prove the baby was taken in Hunterdon county.

Edward J. Reilly, chief of Hauptmann's defense, added significance to the thumb guard when he held it up and boomed at the nurse:

"Are you sure you didn't drop this yourself?"

Miss Gow rose into defiance as she ducked back the words:

"I did not."

She acknowledged to Reilly a probability that she had told "Red" Johnson the Lindberghs planned not to return from Hopewell to Englewood

Troopers Arrest 31 At Strike

Rossville, Ga., Jan. 7.—(AP)—In two rushes National Guardsmen patrolling the Richmond Hosier Mill, where a strike is in progress, today rounded up 33 persons, including five women, and placed them under military arrest.

The 33 persons, including a crowd estimated to number 1000 and took the 33 into custody before they had time to beat a hasty retreat across the State line into Tennessee, 100 feet away.

Colonel L. C. Pope, in command of the troops, said the prisoners would be transported by truck to Atlanta this afternoon and placed in a detention camp.

The taunting, jeering crowd hurled complimentary remarks at the guardsmen once they were safely across the State line and the troops were bombarded with vegetables, oranges and sticks as they rushed the troops on the Georgia side.

No shots were fired and Mayor O'Keefe said the citizens, at least 150 of them, were unarmed.

O'Keefe was elected to succeed Chin with the change in administration today, but his qualifications had been challenged by Chin on the claim that O'Keefe had not paid his taxes within the limit prescribed by law.

Roosevelt stating that they had learned that Postmaster James A. Farley was distributing to certain persons entire sheets of recent commemorative stamps not available to the public, which as a result, "have assumed speculative value ten thousand times greater than their actual value."

State Work Likely To Benefit from Emphasis Laid By Roosevelt

Raleigh, Jan. 7.—One State department which, according to all indications, will receive more favorable consideration from the forthcoming General Assembly than from its predecessor, is the Department of Conservation and Development.

Reasons to substantiate this general belief are ample to the prognosticators. The personnel of the department has undergone substantial changes which have worked out to the satisfaction of the public and

It Will Be Contended, Moreover, That Changes Now Would Be Unconstitutional, Since Session Is Not Next Following Decennial Census

Daily Dispatch Bureau, In the Sir Walter Hotel, By J. C. Baskerville.

Raleigh, Jan. 7.—Only loud guffaws from eastern members of the General Assembly greet the suggestion that this assembly may pass a bill to redistrict the State so as to give some three or four western counties larger representation in the General Assembly. In fact, no one here has the slightest idea that any redistricting bill will be enacted, regardless of how many may be introduced, or how hard the piedmont and western counties that might gain in representation from such a bill may try to get

HOUSE SURRENDERS TO THE PRESIDENT

Senate Remains Independent Bulwark of Free Expression Now

By CHARLES P. STEWART Central Press Staff Writer

Washington, Jan. 7.—The generally accepted idea (outside Washington) undoubtedly is that a bill, once introduced in Congress, is voted on, first one house, then by the other; that ordinary folk are informed thus as to the respective sides that their various representatives have taken on each succeeding measure—permitting constituencies, here, there and everywhere throughout the country, to rebuke those lawmakers who have voted unpopularity, by defeating them for re-election.

This supposition is largely correct as to the Senate.

It by no means is correct as to the lower congressional chamber.

The Democratic majority in the House has adopted a gag rule under which 218 signatures are needed to ob-

COMMISSION SAYS SCHOOL COSTS CUT, EFFICIENCY KEPT

State Board Makes Biennial Report and Points to Its Own Reforms Set Up

SCHOOL DISTRICTS GREATLY REDUCED

Economies Forced By Lack of Funds Have Resulted in Big Savings in Many Departments of Operations of State System, It Is Maintained

Daily Dispatch Bureau, In the Sir Walter Hotel, By J. C. Baskerville.

Raleigh, Jan. 7.—Compelled by the limited appropriations made for the operation of the schools to economize at every possible angle, many economies have been made in the operation of the public schools, but without seriously injuring their efficiency, the State School Commission points out in its biennial report, which was made public today. It points out that the National Educational Association, at its last meeting a few months ago, went on record as favoring the reorganization of the units of school administration, a step which the State School Commission completed a year and a half ago, under authorization from the 1933 General Assembly, and that this step alone had already saved several millions of dollars in the cost of operating the schools.

The State School Commission, fol-

FISCAL YEAR WILL SHOW DEFICIT FOR OVER 4 1-2 BILLION

Total Receipts During Period Are Estimated At $3,991,904,639, Report Indicates

TO FINANCE DEFICIT BY BIG BORROWING

Nearly Four Billions Would Be Acquired In That Way, Though Working Balance In Treasury Would Care For Some; Figures Current Year Given

Washington, Jan. 7.—(AP)—President Roosevelt submitted to Congress today a budget calling for total expenditures of $8,520,413,609 for the fiscal year beginning next July 1, offset by estimated total receipts of $3,991,904,639.

This would mean a deficit of $4,528,508,970 for the period and push the public debt to an alltime high of $34,239,000,000 on June 30, 1936.

The message said the new deficit would be financed by using the $739,835,188 out of the working balance in the Treasury and borrowing $7,788,623,782.

Estimated expenditures for the present fiscal period would total $8,581,069,026, with receipts of $3,711,650,688, resulting in a deficit of $4,869,418,338 for the year ending June 30, and a public debt on that day of $31,000,000,000.

Mr. Roosevelt said the tax estimates were contingent upon continuation of the three-cent postal rate for non-local first class mail.

The document, read separately to Senate and House, was wound up by him as follows:

"It is my belief that substantial adherence to the general recommendations and to all figures presented in this budget will accomplish three major objectives:

"1. The normal functions of the

Demand Reaches Congress That Daniels Be Retired

Washington, Jan. 7.—(AP)—The controversy over religion and education in Mexico registered a new rebuff here today with Representative Higgins, Democrat, Massachusetts, asserting he would offer Congress a resolution demanding that the United States withdraw recognition from Mexico and remove Ambassador Joseph Daniels from the diplomatic corps.

Previously Representative Higgins had written President Roosevelt asking that a protest be sent to Mexico against the closing of Catholic schools and expulsion of priests.

Ambassador Daniels, the legislator contended today, should be removed because "he was cognizant of what was happening, yet made no protest."

Daniels has been criticized by several Catholic groups for a speech some months ago in which he quoted General Calles on the subject of education. Catholic periodicals asserted Daniels gave "comfort to the enemies of religion in Mexico" by publicly endorsing a campaign of socialistic education.
