STATE SENATE, 41-2 ASKS CONGRESS FOR PAYMENT OF BONUS

House Resolution Amended To Request Settlement "As Soon As It Is Practicable"

TEACHER PENSIONS WOULD BE PROVIDED

Liquor Referendum Next July Also Sought In House Bill; Another To Restore Hangings in Counties For Electrocutions in State Prison

Raleigh, Jan. 18.—(AP)—Amended so as to ask Congress to pay the soldiers bonus "as soon as it is practicable for the United States government to make the payment," the Senate today suspended its rules and passed a joint resolution which yesterday was approved in the House. The resolution must be returned to the House for concurrence in the Senate changes.

Six senators on the military affairs committee gave the House draft of the resolution unanimously favorable report this morning and it was considered under a suspension of the rules.

As amended it passed 41 to 2, with only Senators Smith, of Stanly and Shute, of Union, voting against it. Shute explained he would vote against any measure memorializing Congress to take action one way or another on proposals before it. Smith said he was against the proposal until everything which should be done for them had been done for disabled veterans.

"I may vote for a general distribution of benefits to others when every disabled veteran has been taken care of," Smith said.

The soldiers' bonus, capital punishment, pensions for school teachers and the legal sale of liquor were among

10 Lobbyists Register At Legislature

Law Requires It and Woods Is Full Of Them, But Few Have Complied

Raleigh, Jan. 18.—Only ten lobbyists have registered so far in the "lobbyists book" in the office of Secretary of State Stacy W. Wade, as they are required to do by the 1923 anti-lobbying law, despite the fact that there are at least 50 well-known lobbyists already here and actively at work and have been since the sessions opened last week. In fact, many of these lobbyists arrived here and set up their headquarters before any of

Roosevelt's Work Relief Program Pushed Forward

"Go Ahead" Signal Given Bonus Members in House To Circulate Signature for Consideration of Payment Now; Plans Made for Spending $40,000,000

Washington, Jan. 18.—(AP)—Both the administration and Congress today sped forward President Roosevelt's immense work relief and social security programs.

First House hearings on the omnibus social aid bill, with its old age pensions, unemployment insurance, and other plans for bettering national living conditions were set for Monday, with an outlook of two or three weeks of testimony.

Fred Barker

One of a gang who was killed in a machine gun battle with 15 federal agents at Oklawaha, Fla., was reported identified as Fred Barker, above, hunted since Jan. 1934, as one of the kidnapers of Edward G. Bremer, St. Paul brewer, for whose ransom $200,000 was reported paid. Barker's mother, described as "Ma" Barker, was reported slain as she operated a machine gun against the federal men.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY IS MOVING FASTER THAN ANY LATELY

Finance and Appropriations Committees Far Ahead of Recent Previous Sessions

BUDGET FIGURE TO BE BASIS OF ACTS

Looks Now Like Legislature Will Adopt Appropriation and Finance Bills Virtually Same as Governor Recommended in Message To Assembly

Raleigh, Jan. 18.—This General Assembly is in a hurry and does not intend to stay here a day longer than 60 days unless it is absolutely necessary. The manner in which the assembly has gotten down to work, especially on the finance and appropriations bills, and the comparatively small number of local and Statewide bills that have been introduced so far, is regarded as an indication of this. It is agreed that both the finance and appropriations committees are already at least a month ahead of previous sessions.

Both the finance and appropriations

Hauptmann Smiles For First Time Since Trial Started

Spectators wondered what Bruno Hauptmann was smiling about as these pictures of the Lindbergh case defendant were snapped in Flemington courthouse. It was the first time the enigmatic prisoner showed signs of cheerfulness since his trial got under way.

State Claims Evidence Now Enough To Get Hauptmann

Flemington, N. J., Jan. 18.—(AP)—As trial of Bruno Richard Hauptmann went into its thirteenth day today, the prosecution announced it felt it had built up sufficient case to send him to the electric chair for the kidnaping and murder of Baby Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr.

"The State's case is definitely in now," Attorney General David T. Wilentz said. "Any time now, I may turn to the judge and say, 'Your honor, the State rests its case!'"

At the same time he said he had 60 more witnesses ready to testify should he find them necessary. Hauptmann was visibly annoyed as he began the thirteenth day of his ordeal, hearing Henry Elckin, Bronx engineer, complete testimony on the terrain of the Bronx, where he lived, and where the ransom for the Lindbergh baby was paid, and Sergeant John Wallace, of the State police, relate again to the jury the story of his arrest last September 19.

Big Strike In Textiles Is Planned

Gorman and His Aides Anticipate Even More Serious Trouble In Spring

Washington, Jan. 18.—Textile union leaders, an authoritative source disclosed today, are setting up a far-flung organization in preparation for another general strike call this spring.

Although no statements are made about it publicly yet, labor leaders privately voiced the prediction that the walkout will be more serious than the widespread strike last September.

Comment from government officials or spokesmen for the industry was not immediately forthcoming.

The organization is being directed by Francis J. Gorman, first vice-president of the United Textile Workers. Gorman, an advocate of long range planning, has followed the same course he pursued before the paralyzing strike of last fall by setting up in advance regional strike committees, charting a course of action in localities, and launching a quiet drive for a "war chest."

STABILIZATION FOR MONEY MUST WAIT

But Wall Street Sees World Court Vote as Move In That Direction

By LESLIE EICHEL, Central Press Staff Writer

New York, Jan. 18.—Of course financial New York is pleased that President Roosevelt (presumably) sent word down the line that the resolution to adhere to the World Court ought to be passed by the Senate.

The Democratic majority then made up its mind to "finish" this long-standing issue.

Financial New York believes that any international agreement or adherence (except one for warring pur-

Propose To Cut Auto Licenses By A Third of Cost

Raleigh, Jan. 18.—A bill to reduce the cost of automobile licenses about one-third by changing the licensing basis from 55 cents per 100 pounds to 35 cents per 100 pounds, has been introduced in the House by Representative Sentelle, of Brunswick county. It was referred to the committee on roads.

Although some four or five bills have already been introduced to reduce the automobile license fee on passenger cars to $5, it is not expected that any of those bills will pass, since they would cause a loss in highway revenue of about $3,500,000 a year and most opinion here is that the highway fund cannot stand that large a loss in revenue.

It is expected that those who think the motorists should be given some reduction in motor taxes will make a drive for the enactment of this bill.

Washington, Jan. 18.—(AP)—The Justice Department will provide the United States Supreme Court with the slightest excuse for upholding President Roosevelt's dollar devaluation policy in its entirety, the consensus in Washington is that the Supreme Court will uphold it.

COURT ANXIOUS FOR EXCUSE FOR ACTION

Attorney General Seemed Not To Take Hint From The Justices

By CHARLES P. STEWART, Central Press Staff Writer

Washington, Jan. 18.—If the Justice Department will provide the United States Supreme Court with the slightest excuse for upholding President Roosevelt's dollar devaluation policy in its entirety, the consensus in Washington is that the Supreme Court will uphold it.

To understand the controversy it is necessary to understand what the President did—what some folk do not, apparently.

Going back a little: At the Roosevelt administration's beginning many authorities considered that money (that is to say, gold, since the United States money is supposed to be gold, basically) had become, for various reasons, too costly:

PLAN HEAVIER TAX ON RESORT HOTELS

Tourist Homes Levy Remains Same; Hoist Tax on Certain Dealers

Raleigh, Jan. 18.—North Carolina's resort hotels will have to pay a heavier tax if the legislature adopts the recommendation its joint finance committee, as it today kept up its fast and furious march through the revenue bill.

Resort hotels are, under present tax laws, permitted to buy a six-month license. These, said Revenue Commissioner A. J. Maxwell, are hotels which do not ordinarily stay open more than three months during the year. Other hotels are required to buy an annual license. The provision exempting resort hotels from Washington, Jan. 18.—(AP)—The President and Mrs. Roosevelt today announced the marriage of their daughter, Anna Roosevelt Dall, to John Boettiger, former Chicago newspaper man.

The ceremony took place this morning about 9 o'clock at the President's home in New York City, on East 65th Street. It was performed by Judge J. Frederick Kermoach, of New York, intimate friend of the family.

Ernest J. Bourgeois

President of the Square Deal association of Louisiana, Ernest J. Bourgeois heads a non-political organization fighting the dictatorship of Senator Huey Long, by holding protest meetings in various cities. The organization was formed when jobs of thousands of employees of Standard Oil were threatened by the five-cent tax on each barrel of oil refined in the state. The company announced it might have to withdraw from Louisiana.

Legenza And Mais Taken In New York

Pair Shot Way Out of Richmond Jail While Awaiting Electrocutation There

New York, Jan. 18.—(AP)—Robert Mais, 29, and Walter Legenza, 41 who shot their way out of a Richmond, Va., prison, and three other members of the "tri-State gang" were arrested in New York, the Department of Justice announced today.

The other three under arrest, Frank Fay, of the Department of Justice, said, were Mary McKeever, 34; Martin Farrell, 28, and Edwin Gale, 23.

Mais was surprised in an apartment at 8 Manhattan Avenue at 3:30 a. m., and was captured in bed. Federal operatives in Philadelphia and New York police had surrounded the apartment house and entered the apartment door so unexpectedly that Mais had not time to reach for a 38-caliber automatic pistol that was at his side.

The first taken into custody were Farrell and Gale, seized in a mid-

She Later Apologizes To Court and Promises To Try Not To Interrupt Further

HAUPTMANN TENSE BUT MOTIONLESS

Woman Shouts at Bronx Neighbor, Who Testifies Mrs. Hauptmann Came to Her Two Days After Kidnaping and Tells of Long Trip Just Ended

Flemington, N. J., Jan. 18.—(AP)—Anna Hauptmann's nerve broke today at the trial of her husband for his life.

"It's a lie," she shouted at a witness Mrs. Ella Auchenbach, a Hauptmann neighbor in the Bronx, as the witness testified Mrs. Hauptmann came to her two days after the kidnaping of Baby Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr., and said she and her husband had just returned from a trip.

"You lie, Mrs. Auchenbach; you lie," Mrs. Hauptmann flared.

Counsel on both sides leaped to their feet.

So did spectators.

Hauptmann's face, usually pale and placid, was livid.

"I want that in the record," Attorney General David T. Wilentz demanded with heat.

"This is not the second, but the third time the Hauptmanns have interrupted."

"I want to know whether they or the court are trying this case. I know the court is."

"The defendant and his wife are under high tension," Edward J. Reilly, chief of the defense staff, pleaded in their behalf.

"I want that in the record," Attorney General David T. Wilentz demanded with heat.

"This woman who made this outburst is his wife?" the court asked.

Reilly nodded.

"Madam," Justice Trenchard said to Mrs. Hauptmann, "don't you see the impropriety of this outburst. I am asking you, don't you see?"

Mrs. Hauptmann stood silent.

"Will you promise you won't do it

LIBBY'S SON HITS BACK AT CANNONS

Good Faith of Anne Cannon Scathingly Attacked in Forsyth Court

Winston-Salem, Jan. 18.—(AP)—Little Christopher Smith Reynolds struck back today at his little half sister, Anne Cannon Reynolds Smith II and all others who would come between him and his right to legitimacy and his father's estate.

His "next friend," R. C. Vaughn and his attorneys today filed a voluminous reply, setting forth the child's claims to the huge tobacco fortune of Smith Reynolds, defending the validity of his mother's marriage, and scathingly attacking the good faith of Anne Cannon Smith's questioning of her own divorce. The paper also gave an exhaustive outline of Mrs. Smith's marital experiences.
