Submits To Slaying Of Negro Man

Wilmington, Jan. 18.—(AP)—Francis Young Lagree, Jr., 21, member of old Charleston, S. C., family, was sentenced to 20 to 25 years in State's Prison by Judge J. Paul Frizelle in New Hanover Superior Court today after he had entered a plea to second degree murder in the killing of C. W. Mason, Wilmington Negro druggist.

Wilmington, Jan. 18.—(AP)—Francis Young Lagree, Jr., scion of an old North Charleston, S. C., family, on trial here for his life for the murder of C. W. Mason, Negro druggist, during an attempted hold-up on October 27, 1934, entered a plea of second degree murder this morning and the plea was accepted by the State.

Lagree yesterday heard a battery of State witnesses take the stand and quote him as having said he killed the Negro. These included persons reaching the scene soon after Mason's body had been pumped full of bullets, and police officers who questioned the defendant after the shooting.

This morning the State resumed the same line of testimony it developed against the Charlestonian yesterday and the defense, after a brief conference, announced Lagree would enter a plea of second degree murder if the State would accept. Sentence was delayed while State and defense attorneys conferred with the court about the case, the character of the youth and other details bearing upon his case.

Johnson Has Good Cause for Fighting Slot Machine Evil

Daily Dispatch Bureau, In the St. Walter Hotel, Raleigh, Jan. 18.—When Senator Rivers D. Johnson, of Duplin county, gives his children money for movie tickets he means for them to go to the movies. He does not intend for them to drop the said movie fares in slot machines.

A short time before the 1935 General Assembly convened, he gave his children money for movie tickets. On their way to the picture show the children stopped in a store, reputedly owned by the mayor of Warsaw, Johnson's home town, and tried their luck at playing a slot machine. It was awful. After dropping all their money in the machine they returned home for more money. They explained to the senator that they still wanted to see the show.

So Senator Johnson has taken steps to insure that his children will see a movie when he starts them on their way. One of the first things he did, upon the convening of the present session, was to introduce a bill to abolish slot machines. It is a stringent measure and would also prohibit their sale or manufacture. The bill went to the committee on propositions and grievances. Senator Rivers Johnson thinks slot machines fall in both categories.

Would Place Tax On Walkathons as Well as Marathons

Daily Dispatch Bureau, In the St. Walter Hotel, Raleigh, Jan. 18.—Walkathons are just marathons to Harris Newman, of New Hanover, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee. "I think we ought to tax these marathons—is that what you call them?—and I offer my suggestion in the form of a resolution to request Revenue Commissioner A. J. Maxwell to draw up a provision for insertion in the revenue bill which would tax them," he told a joint meeting of the Senate-House Finance Committees. His suggestion followed a query by Ben Cone, House member from Guilford county, as to whether or not walkathons paid the amusement park tax. Maxwell replied that they did not fall in that category. Newman's resolution was adopted.

FORSYTH ASSEMBLY MEMBER JOURNALIST

Daily Dispatch Bureau, In the St. Walter Hotel, Raleigh, Jan. 18.—At least one member of the 1935 General Assembly has gone journalist. He is Dr. Ralph McDonald, ex-college professor, U. S. House member from Forsyth county, who is doing a daily column of legislative gossip for a Winston-Salem paper. Furthermore, it appears on page one.

His arrest took place last night, as did that of the McKeever woman, who was visiting the patient. Fay, who is head of the intelligence division of the Department of Justice here, said "the arrest of these five eradicates so far as we know, the HISTORY UP-TO-DATE Jan. 18, 1486—The marriage of 29-year-old Henry Tudor ended a war that began before he was born. He wed Elizabeth of York and insured the possession of the English throne and termination of the War of the Roses. He became founder of the royal house of Tudor, the father of notorious Henry VIII, the grandfather of great Elizabeth.

Jan. 18, 1770—First skirmish of the American Revolution was fought, in New York. "Sons of Liberty" clashed with British soldiers after the latter had destroyed the "liberty pole" set up in the "Field," in the outskirts of the city located at what is now Park Row and Broadway.

A committee of 51 merchants and property owners denounced the Sons of Liberty as irresponsible and unrepresentative radicals, and doubtless added, "If you don't like this country why don't you go back where you came from?"

Jan. 18, 1784—Daniel Webster was born in Franklin, N. H., destined to become the greatest orator of his day.

He couldn't recite as a child because of poor memory; he couldn't make a speech at college because of "stage fright!" Humiliated by the poor impression he made, he deliberately set out to make himself eloquent.

Jan. 18, 1854—The Republic of Sonora was proclaimed. "Gen." William Walker, aged 30, Tennessee doctor, lawyer, and newspaperman, landed with 45 followers at La Paz, declared this Mexican province a republic and himself as president.

When he, a California gold-seeker, asked the Mexican government for a concession for establishment of an American colony on Sonora and was refused, he sent out to take the whole territory by force. Thus began in Sonora the extraordinary career of the greatest of American soldiers of fortune, a crusader rivaling Richard the Lion-Hearted.

Jan. 18, 1871—The German Empire was formed. It has been erroneously as Germany ever since. (James W. Gerard, appointed U. S. ambassador to Germany, found that he had been made the envoy to a place that did not exist; there was no such political entity as Germany.)

The empire was a confederation of kingdoms, grand duchies and principalities. It remained for Hitler to tri-State gang." Mais and Legenza shot their way out of a Richmond, Va., prison September 29, 1934, killing one prison guard and seriously wounding two others. They were under sentence of death for the slaying of the custodian of a United States mail truck.

They said that after their escape they robbed government armories in Baltimore and Norristown, Pa., to obtain weapons.

The two also had been sought for questioning in connection with the kidnaping of William Weiss, in Philadelphia, last November. Ransom of $8,000 was paid for his return, but Weiss is still missing.

MAIS AND LEGENZA TO BE GIVEN OVER TO VIRGINIA

Washington, Jan. 18.—(AP)—The Department of Justice plans to turn Robert Mais and Walter Legenza, tri-State gang leaders captured today in New York, over to the State of Virginia for execution.

The two broke jail in that State while awaiting fulfillment of the death sentence for murder.

The tri-State gang has been accused of various murders and robberies through Pennsylvania, Maryland and Virginia, and is believed to have carried on operations in North Carolina.

That Brazil nuts were named from Brazil.

Plan Heavier Tax On Resort Hotels

the annual license payment was stricken out following a motion by Representative Thomas O'Berry, of Wayne county.

The section of the revenue bill designed to license tourist homes was left intact after Dr. J. T. Burrus, senator from High Point, had raised the question as to whether or not the section intended protecting small boarding houses. After Commissioner Maxwell explained that full protection was assured Dr. Burrus withdrew his objection.

A proposal by Representative John Norwood county, to exact a license fee from surveyors was voted down. He also suggested the taxing of insurance agents under the professional section of the revenue bill, but withdrew the motion when it was pointed out that they were already taxed under another section.

The committee doubled the license tax imposed upon dealers in cash registers, typewriters, adding machines, refrigerating machines, washing machines and similar devices by raising the fee to ten dollars for each place of business. The 1933 law assessed only five dollars in such cases.

Several sections, over which there was no divergence of opinion, were passed rapidly. These concerned amusements, barber shops, cafes, coal dealers, building and loan associations and bicycle dealers.

Other sections were left open for future consideration. At Representative Laurie McEachern's request, the committee deferred action on license fees for horse and muled ealers. Slot machine licenses were likewise held open by common consent in anticipation of legislation affecting them.

Several bills designed to abolish them have been introduced in the legislature. At the suggestion of Commissioner Maxwell, the section dealing with dealers in installment paper, notes, bonds, or other such paper constituting evidence of debt was left open. "While the revenue from this section amounted to $62,000 during the last fiscal year," said Mr. Maxwell, "our receipts for this year indicate that such dealers have found a way to avoid payment of the tax. I suggest that you wait until we have more information before we approve a remedy."

The joint finance committee has thus far moved along at an almost unprecedented rapid rate. It has, of course, left open for consideration several sections of the revenue bill, but, in them, ain, they are provisions which are not of vital importance.

Committee Plans Drivers' License

ber of individual bills that have already been introduced, it was decided at the first meeting of these committees. It is expected that Chairman Spence, of the Senate Roads Committee, and Chairman Taorm, of the House Roads Committee, will announce the personnel of the subcommittee within the next day or two.

The only bill reported favorably by the two committees was that introduced several days ago by Senator A. Hall Johnson, of Asheville, Buncombe county, to empower the State Highway and Public Works Commission to acquire the right of way for the new park-to-park highway in the same manner it now acquires rights of way for State highways. The bill has been some doubt as to whether the highway commission could proceed under the present State law to acquire the right of way for the parkway in the same manner it has obtained rights of way for State highways, and this bill by Senator Johnson will clear up this doubt. It is expected that the bill will be passed at once, since it received a unanimously favorable report from both committees. The State Highway Commission can then proceed at once to obtain the right of way needed for the parkway. The State must obtain this right of way and deed it to the government before the government will start construction of the highway.

Chairman C. M. Waynick, of the highway commission, appeared before the committees and briefly outlined the needs of the highway department for the next two years. He pointed out that while they were asking $10,000,000 a year for new construction, that it was proposed to use most of this in reconstructing old roads rather than for building new ones, also for widening and resurfacing existing roads.
