Dwindling Cash Slowing Up Federal Aid To The Jobless

SENATOR GLASS IS

Administration Explanations

Will Go; Hopkins Says He Has Money Up To February

Washington, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Dwindling cash resources put Federal aid for the jobless on a "day to day" basis today and focused capital attention anxiously on a Senate committee behind whose doors were locked $4,880,000,000 money bill.

This lump sum measure, with its $500,000,000 to taper off direct relief and four billion dollars to put $3,000,000,000 on work relief depended for its future largely on Senator Carter Glass, Democrat, Virginia, chairman of the appropriations committee. Glass still was unsatisfied at administration explanations as to just where the money would go.

At Federal relief headquarters, Harry L. Hopkins said his administration was limited to $500,000,000, and was making no commitments beyond February 10. He estimated the months' relief needs at $150,000,000.

An expression of dissatisfaction was directed at the bi lump sum relief measure by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor. He said the proposal to pass a maximum of $500 a month on public works projects would "take down the wage structure of private industry."

The administration's social security program struck a slow congressional pace. Chairman Harrison, of the Senate Finance Committee, said it could not be enacted by mid-February, as urged by Secretary Perkins.

Apparently to accelerate the bill, a White House conference mapped changes for presentation to committee Tuesday.

Raleigh, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Liquor and toll bridges held the attention of the legislature today.

Members of the General Assembly were given copies of a "model" bill to create a State alcoholic authority to set up and operate a system of liquor stores if the voters approved the control act.

The measure was not formally introduced, and may be amended before it is offered.

Senator John Sprunt Hill said the measure was drafted by a group of men.

Dr. C. R. Zickler, of Alexander county, was formally seated by the House as it decided against the contest made by J. F. Woodfin, a former Democratic representative, who ran Raleigh, Feb. 1.—The revenue bill is expected to be reported to the House by not later than next Wednesday, February 6, Senator Harris Newman, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, and Representative R. All of the scheduled public hearings were completed yesterday afternoon and the joint committees are now working in executive session to re-write those sections of the budget revenue bill which it has decided to change.

ANTI-SALES TAXERS PLAY SMART GAME

Good Politics To Withhold
Strategy Until Revenue
Bill Comes Out

Raleigh, Feb. 1.—The anti-sales tax forces are playing a smart game by refusing to reveal the nature of the bill, bills or plans which they intend to offer as a substitute for the sales tax when the revenue bill gets onto the floor of the House, according to most experienced political observers here. They have also used excellent strategy in refusing to make any effort to substitute their plans for the sales tax in the finance committee, which are conceded to have a good chance of passing. The minimum estimate of such profits is placed at Raleigh, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Groundwork was laid today for a major legislative fight over legalization of liquor immediately in North Carolina when copies for a "model" bill to set up liquor stores were distributed to members of the General Assembly.

Senator John Sprunt Hill, of Durham, one of the leaders behind the measure, said it might be changed before it was formally introduced.

"The measure will be signed by a number of members when it is introduced," Hill said.

Raleigh, Feb. 1.—Mimeographed copies of what has already become known as "the Hill liquor bill" were on the desks of all members of the House and Senate today so they could read the bill and "decide what they think about it," Senator John Sprunt Hill, of Durham, the author of the bill, said.

Senator Hill would not say when he intends to introduce the bill, however, nor would he say definitely that

PWA PROBE ONE OF GREAT IMPORTANCE

May Throw Light on Recent Demand for Discharge of Investigators

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

Washington, Feb. 1.—The recent calling of a special District of Columbia grand jury for Feb. 6, to investigate PWA contracts, is a development in the New Deal program of great importance.

Apparently the call was for an inquiry relative to Texas canal contracts, involving a mere bagatelle of $4,000,000 in expenditures.

However, no less authority than Secretary of the Interior, Harold I. Ickes, who likewise is PWA director, agrees that the investigation may ramify indefinitely, up to the 3-billion-dollar limit of the public works act.

Pension Plan Favored, But No Finances

Raleigh, Feb. 1.—Legislative sentiment apparently is overwhelmingly in favor of some plan for old-age pensions but, ask legislators, "Where are we to get the money?"

Several see in Senator Hill's proposed liquor control bill the means to finance the undertaking. The Hill bill would allocate to counties and municipalities for "relief, unemployment and old-age insurance" the profits derived by the State from the sale of legal whisky. The minimum estimate of such profits is placed at

Shoots Girl At Dance And Kills Himself

Gaffney, S. C., Feb. 1.—(AP)—Suddenly interrupting a dance of Gaffney young people, Amzi Bridges, 21, shot and wounded Mary Sue Harrell, 17-year-old high school girl, and committed suicide last night.

Bridges snatched a pistol from his pocket, and, while 20 horrified couples looked on, fired pointblank at Miss Harrell and wounded her in the side and then fired a bullet into his own chest.

Investigating officers said this morning they had not determined the motive for the shooting.

New Orleans, La., Feb. 1.—"Business in the South is the best since 1930." Thus during the past few days have the majority of businessmen, farmers, and bankers answered my question: "How's your business?" So far the New Deal has been kind to the South. Cotton is selling at thirteen cents a pound, and cotton is still "King" down here. Textile mills, tobacco factories, steel plants, and resort hotels are all well ahead of 1934. In fact, the only big industry which is running below a year ago is lumber.

AUTO MAKERS HOPE TO DEFER STRIKES

Huge Production Will Be Over by April 1, Goal of Manufacturers

By LESLIE EICHEL,
Central Press Staff Writer

New York, Feb. 1.—Auto manufacturers are very much interested in averting strikes in the auto and subsidiary industries. (But they will hold out to the last against the American Federation of Labor.)

The manufacturers are interested for a potent reason. If they can have uninterrupted production from now till April 1, the auto output for the first quarter of 1935 may total as high as 1,100,000 units. There were only 150,000 units in the like period last year.

Production of 1,100,000 units would exceed the first quarter production of any year since 1930—when the total was approximately that.

A glass strike already has lowered glass supplies.

Production is not expected to continue at such a high rate all year. The present spurt is to stock dealers

Flemington, N. J., Feb. 1.—(AP)—The combined opinion of eight State experts that Bruno Richard Hauptmann wrote the Lindbergh ransom notes was disputed today by the first defense expert, and Hauptmann's attorneys formally disclaimed part of the so-called "Fisch myth."

Formal intimation that the dead Isador Fisch might have written the note or kidnaped and slain Baby Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr., were wiped away by the defense chief, Edward J. Reilly, during a recess.

Reilly held, however, that Fisch, not Hauptmann, was the receiver of the fabled $50,000 Lindbergh ransom.

John M. Trendley, East St. Louis, Ill., declared it his opinion that the first ransom note, known as the nursery note, was "written by a left-handed man trying to disguise his handwriting."

Up to the noon recess, when he was still undergoing a direct examination,

Louisiana's Trouble May Spread Far

Washington, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Comparing the present regime in Louisiana to "Asiatic" dictatorships, Representative J. Y. Sanders, Jr., said today that the troubles there foreshadow "a conflict that will soon be fought through the United States."

In his maiden speech in Congress, the Louisiana Democrat and long-time political foe of Senator Huey P. Long, asked:

"Shall we discard democracy and set up a government by dictatorship?"

Democratic institutions and the orderly processes of Democratic government are rapidly disappearing in Louisiana, he asserted.

"The American ideal of a democratic government, with all power lodged in the people, with each community electing its own officials, is being displaced by this Asiatic conception of government of an all-powerful executive, who rules the whole people for the benefit of the dominant faction or class."

Labor Will Reject New Auto Codes

Extension By President
Won't Be Accepted, William
Green Announces

Washington, Feb. 1.—(AP)—William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, announced today that organized labor would not accept the automobile code extended by President Roosevelt last night until June 16.

He made the statement to a Senate judiciary sub-committee considering the Black 30-hour week bill in these words:

"We protest against this code; we will not accept it; not recognize it; not yield on it."

Green said the code had "absolutely failed" to spread work, "because under it the workers are compelled or required to work almost unlimited hours at the discretion of the automobile manufacturers."

A recent ballot conducted among automobile workers by the National Automobile Labor Board was reported to have shown 90 percent of those voting opposing A. F. of L. action.
