Number Games Carded By Pahlman For This Week

Team to Take Two Day Tour Thursday to Goldsboro and New Bern.

Otto Pahlman's Tourists have a full week ahead of them. This afternoon, they tangle with the one they whipped Tarboro team, the George Whitted's Tarboro team, the one they whipped Tarboro 5 to 4 at Tarboro in a thrilling encounter. Wednesday finds them tangled in a doubleheader with Jalong here in Central State League encounter. Thursday and Friday finds the team on a two days' tour, New Bern Goldsboro Thursday and New Bern Friday. They will return home Saturday for a game in their League with the Oxford celebrities. Sunday, they will be at home to a semi-pro club of Durham.

With the weather becoming more and more like baseball weather, Pahlman is expecting the attendance to pick up at again. Park as his team is in dire need of funds to carry on through their season. The brand of baseball displayed by the group is of very high type, judging from the performances they have turned in recently. Their victory over Tarboro stamped them as an outstanding team. The skipper of the local outfit has lined up some of the outstanding teams in this section for games, here and away from home, giving the fans here a fine brand of baseball as well as keeping the town in some kind of a league.

Burns Up Course

C. O. Seifert

Clem O. Seifert set West End Country Club course on fire yesterday in the first round eliminations of the first flight as he defeated Turner Wortham 6 and 5, shooting a 71, one above par for the course.

Seifert Turns In 71 To Eliminate T. Wortham

Brilliant Performance Talk of Club As Championship Play Gets Underway; All First Round Matches Must Be Played By Close of Day

Clem Seifert set West End Country Club golf course ablaze yesterday with a scorching 18 holes, turning in a 71 for the par 70 course as he whipped Turner Wortham, 6 and 5, in the first round eliminations of the first flight of the annual championship tournament of the club. In the other matches in this flight, Tommy Jenkins fought E. G. Glenn through 18 holes and beat him 1 up on an extra hole, while E. F. Shaw had little trouble in whipping W. K. Phillips 7 and 6.

No matches were played in the second or third flights but in the fourth flight, Sam Alford and Marshal Polston fought through 21 holes to a deadlock. All of the first round matches in the four flights must be played this afternoon or be forfeited, and consolation play for the losers in the first round will get underway shortly with a prize for the winners of consolation. Much interest is being shown with the competition being as keen as any seen on the local course. All the talk in golf circles today was the brilliant performance of Seifert yesterday in subduing such a golfer as Wortham so decisively. His performance stamps him as a leading contender for the championship title of the club.

Tobacco Payments Sent Into State

cept for the delay on a few contracts in which certain irregularities were found. Payments on these contracts will be made as soon as the difficulties are straightened out, Floyd added. He also announced that blank forms to be used in checking the individual farmers' compliance with his tobacco contract have been received here and will be distributed over the State this week.

The measurements for compliance will be made soon, and when the forms have been filled out they will be sent to Washington for approval. After they have been accepted there, Floyd stated, the rental payments for 1935 will be issued. In North Carolina the rentals will amount to possibly $1,500,000, he estimated.

This year the growers who fail to produce the full amount of their allotments will not be allowed to let other growers sell tobacco on the unused part of their marketing cards, Floyd pointed out. However, by agreeing to reduce the amount of the adjustment payment on his 1935-36 crop, Floyd went on, a grower can sell up to 12 1-2 percent more than his regular 85 percent production allotment for this crop.

The R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company announced it would not revert to pre-code practices, and similar sentiments were expressed in other lines.

Furniture leaders at High Point declined to comment upon the probable effect in their industry, other than that they would be governed largely by a decision of the manufacturers association, of which a majority of the manufacturers there are members.

U. S. Produces Half Of Cotton Supply

India has been upward for 35 years, he said, and India may continue to increase her production somewhat, but there is a limit to this expansion as at least 85 to 90 percent of the land is required to grow food for the tremendous population.

Cotton production has been increasing in Egypt, the dean added, but the amount of land is limited and the population dense. Although increasing rapidly up to 1930, Russia's cotton acreage has expanded but little during the past five years. In Brazil the government has put restrictions on coffee planting in order to stimulate the production of more cotton. Estimated foreign cotton production for slightly under last year's figure and under the 1925-26 season's production, the dean pointed out.

A Ripening Romance

Fay Wray and Victor Jory in "Mills of the Gods" A Columbia Picture.

It's love at first sight for Fay Wray, as the pampered darling of society, and Victor Jory, fiery labor leader, in Columbia's "Mills of the Gods", which opens Wednesday at the Stevenson Theatre. And its romance as fascinating as the turbulent background which serves as a setting for this dramatic film. May Robson is starred.

president and spokesman of the United Textile Workers, who said organized labor was prepared to strike immediately against any mill that lowered wages or hours below code requirements. Meanwhile, members of Congress from textile communities saw in the Supreme Court decision indications that the cotton processing tax, of which the manufacturers have complained bitterly, also might be held illegal. "Certainly the delegation of taxation power," commented Representative Martin, Republican, Massachusetts, is a delegation of power specifically held by Congress; moreover, it is extremely doubtful that taxation of one group for the benefit of another group is unconstitutional." Meanwhile, it appeared that cabinet committee discussions of the problems confronting textile industry might be abandoned. The industry recently appealed for elimination of the processing tax, production control, protection from Japanese imports, and, in the case of the northern mill men, wage equalization between North and South.

in the near future," State Treasurer Johnson said today. "For the governor and I were assured that we could probably sell all the bonds we are authorized to sell at this time at an interest rate of about three per cent. This is considerably better than the rate of 3.75 per cent at which we sold some $12,000,000 worth of bonds about a year ago, and which was the lowest
