One of Suspects Held Burned $4,000 of Money When "Things Became Too Hot", Hoover Announces; Mahan, Still Hunted, May Have Rest of Loot

Washington, June 11.—(AP)—Recovery of an additional $90,700 of the $200,000 ransom paid for return of the kidnaped George Weyerhaeuser was announced today by the Justice Department.

There were simultaneous indications the department believes the abduction was a two-man job, aided by a woman.

J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the Bureau of Investigation, said the money found buried near Salt Lake City, brought the total recovered to $116,000. He did not account for this amount, however.

The $90,700 was located as a result of the confession of Harmon M. Waley, under arrest at Salt Lake City since Saturday, Hoover said.

In addition, he said that between $15,000 and $18,000 was left behind in a car by William Mahan, sought in the kidnaping, when he fled officers at Butte, Montana.

Waley burned $4,000 of the ransom money because "things became too hot," he added, and Mr. and Mrs. Waley—she is under arrest also—spent $300.

Hoover said Mahan "probably has the balance, either on his person or buried."

These two men, he added, collected all the ransom paid to release little George Weyerhaeuser, son of a wealthy Tacoma, Wash., lumber family. Evidently Mahan "short-changed his partner about $5,000," Hoover said. The $90,700 was buried in the historic Immigration Pass, five miles south of Salt Lake City, Hoover said.

Legal Tangle May Halt Smoky Mountain Parkway As Morehead Port Funds

Appeal May Be Taken to Supreme Court Testing State's Right To Acquire Land by Eminent Domain; But State To Continue Getting Rights of Way

Washington, June 11.—(AP)—Legal difficulties which have delayed two large public works projects in the Carolinas today threatened to hold up a third—and the largest—the $18,000,000 park-to-park scenic highway.

The parkway appeared likely to join the proposed $2,000,000 port development at Morehead City, N. C., and the proposed public-owned power development at Greenwood, S. C. both delayed by "legal difficulties."

All are public works projects—the three largest proposed in the Carolinas.

Concern has been expressed that an appeal to the Supreme Court testing the right of a state to exercise eminent domain to acquire land later to be transferred to the Federal government for park purposes may retard progress on the parkway, which Tokyo, Japan, June 11.—(AP)—The slaying of a Soviet sentry on the disputed Manchukuan-Siberian frontier was disclosed today as the cause of diplomatic controversy between Russia and Japan.

Moscow and Tokyo, exchanging notes over the incident, each charged the armed forces of the other with invasion of its territory.

The skirmish occurred June 3 southwest of Mishan. The Soviets charged two red army cavalrymen patrolling the frontier were fired on by the Japanese troops. One of the sentries fell, according to the Russian version, and the other ran for help.

Moscow asserted that when reinforcements reached the spot, described as 1,700 meters on the Soviet side of the border, they found only blood-stained and empty cartridges. The Japanese made the first diplomatic move, protesting June 5 to the Soviet consul at Harbin against what they termed a Soviet invasion of Manchukuan territory. The Soviets count-

Commencement Speaker At U. N. C.

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, wife of the President, will deliver the commencement address late this afternoon at the final exercises of the 1935 closing at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

She passed through Henderson early this afternoon by motor on her way to Raleigh to be the guest of Ambassador and Mrs. Josephus Daniels both before and after going to Chapel Hill.

Hundreds of persons lined Garnett street to see the First Lady pass through the city. Her automobile, bearing a District of Columbia license, was piloted through the city by two State highway patrolmen, including W. F. Bailey, of Henderson. She was riding in a four-door sedan of a moderately-priced automobile, and occupied the rear seat with a woman companion. Mrs. Roosevelt sat on the right. A chauffeur drove the car.

The patrolmen met Mrs. Roosevelt's car near the State line and accompanied her southward. The car had to detour from the national highway at North Henderson, down Chestnut street to Church, thence east to Garnett, and on southward over Route one. The sirens of the patrolmen could be heard blocks away, giving advance notice that the presidential car was approaching.

As she passed through the streets, Mrs. Roosevelt beamed a happy smile to the crowds on both sides of her car.

NRA Measure To Be Pressed Again Following Decision On That Issue; Shriners Capture Downtown Wash- ington; Anti-Smuggling Bill Is Debated

Washington, June 11.—(AP)—Efforts of administration leaders to push through a measure modifying NRA was blocked today temporarily in the Senate.

Only a half hour of debate was available. Senator Gore, Democrat, Oklahoma, prevented a vote by seeking to amend the revised legislation so as to require confirmation of all government officials receiving more than $4,000 a year.

Leaders planned to try to get the bill through later in the day after a vote on the administration measure to abolish utility holding companies.

On the other side of the Capitol, the House debated an anti-smuggling bill.

Striving to force higher silver prices the Senate silver bloc selected a committee of five, headed by Senator McCarran, Democrat, Nevada, to ask Secretary Morgenthau for a full explanation of his silver purchase program.

At the same time, the Senate Banking Committee approved a joint resolution extending for an additional three years from June 15 the time in which officers of Federal Reserve member banks must pay off personal
