Control Board Already Elected and Has Taken Office and Begun Mapping Plans

EDGECOMBE MOVING TO OPEN UP STORES

Will Be Located In Tarboro and Rocky Mount; Cale Burgess, of Drys, Says Efforts Will Be Made To Prevent Opening of Stores In Voting Counties

Raleigh, June 24 (AP)—Wilson and Edgecombe county authorities today pushed ahead with plans to open county liquor stores as soon as possible, while organized drys considered legal moves to block them.

As soon as Saturday's overwhelming victory for advocates of county liquor control in the local option referendum was evident, Thomas H. Woodard, chairman of the Wilson county board of commissioners, said a liquor store possibly would be opened Thursday. He disclosed that in anticipation of the outcome of the referendum, the board had already lined up a board of liquor control.

Formal ratification of the board took place at a special meeting this morning. Those named were D. J. Williams, chairman, of Wilson; F. W. Anderson, of Wilson and Leslie D. Tomlinson, of Blaine Creek. The new board met immediately to organize and lay plans to raise.

Warning To Strikers By Gov. Johnson

Says Incident of "No Importance At All," Heavy Guard Placed at Embassy

Greenville, S. C., June 24 (AP)—Representatives of organized labor received a direct warning by Governor Olin D. Johnston today that strikers would "have a hard time" getting Federal aid in the future.

The executive, himself a former textile worker, advised against strikes except as a last resort, and told the State Federation of Labor, in connection here, that "those who voluntarily quit their jobs will be unable

Ehringhaus Vacationing On Mt. Mitchell's Refuge

Governor, Resting for First Time Since Siege of General Assembly, Has Time to Inspect This Great Wild Life Preserve Maintained by the State at J. C. BASKERVILLE, Staff Correspondent.

Mt. Mitchell State Game Refuge, June 24.—Governor and Mrs. J. C. B. Ehringhaus are relaxing here today in the cool breezes that sweep down from Mt. Mitchell, which overlooks the Mt. Mitchell State Game Refuge, on the first vacation period Governor Ehringhaus has had since the recent session of the General Assembly. He found the coolness of the higher altitudes unusually refreshing after temperatures in Raleigh which had run up as high as 90 degrees today.

MILLS START UP AGAIN FOLLOWING DOUBLE SLAYING

Monarch Plant at Union, S. C., Resumes Under Agreement for Arbitration of Dispute

GASTONIA FACTORY STARTS UP AGAIN

Old 40-Hour-Week Schedule Applicable Only For Day, Pending Some Other Agreement Hoped For; Full Force at Work In South Carolina Mill

Union, S. C., June 24 (AP)—The Monarch Mills, scene of a double slaying during strike riotings last week, reopened this morning with practically a full force and no untoward incident.

The reopening was affected under an agreement secured by Governor Olin D. Johnston, who rushed here on receipt of word that W. B. Franklin and A. L. Stutts had been killed in a riot which grew out of a fight in picket lines.

The mill was closed June 19 after weavers went on strike in protest against the employment of a non-union worker.

Governor Johnston secured an agreement between management and workers which was designed to at-

St. Paul, Minn., June 24 (AP)—Sensational charges were made in connection with dismissals to day of police officials of this city, which was branded a "crime spot" by Attorney General Cummings about a year ago.

JOHNSON WILL AID IN LOCAL FINANCES

Treasurer to Give Time to Helping Cities and Counties in Trouble

In the Sir Walter Hotel, Daily Dispatch Bureau,

Raleigh, June 24.—State Treasurer Charles M. Johnson, following the best bond sale in North Carolina history, announces his purpose to give more time to refinancing those local governmental units which are now in difficulties.

Mr. Johnson says his State financing has been completed for the time and that no more will be necessary soon. The balanced budget, with a rising revenue tide, means that there will be no borrowings necessary. The Friday bond sale achieved at the lowest rate on records, lower by $1 a hundred than the former lowest, means that the State's credit cannot be improved. State supervision of local units promises to do something for them.

The treasurer does not think it possible that all of the distressed counties and cities can pay their complete bonded debt and he is entering into negotiations with the bondholders. If there can be an accommodation of debt differences the treasurer thinks their business can be made "current" and the tax-payers will be greatly relieved.

Bondholders are known to be willing to such an arrangement. They let the borrowers have money when it

Great Crowd for McLean's Funeral Sunday Afternoon

Lumberton, June 24 (AP)—One of the largest crowds ever to attend a funeral in North Carolina was present here yesterday for the last rites for Angus W. McLean, 65-year-old former governor, who died Friday in Washington.

Several thousand, including many from out of the State, attended the services, which were conducted at the First Presbyterian church. Burial was in Mountain Brook cemetery here.

TOBACCO GRADING BILL VIGOROUSLY UPHELD, ATTACKED

Called Another Case of Bureaucracy and Government Effort To Gain Control

Might as Well Be on Chain-gang for He Has Nothing To Say About Price He Will Receive; Flammagan Says Only Six of Member Growers Oppose It

Washington, June 24.—(AP)—Vehement denunciations and vigorous praises of the Flammagan tobacco grading bill were heard today by the House Rules Committee.

Representative Chapman, Democrat, Kentucky, expressed belief that the idea of establishing a service to grade tobacco before it was offered on sale at auction originated with Department of Agriculture officials "whose final objective is to bring about government control of the whole industry."

"It's just another instance of bureaucracy," Chapman said.

An opposing view was expressed by Representative Fulmer, South Carolina, who remarked:

"The tobacco farmer had just as well be on a chain-gang, for at present he has nothing to say about the price he gets for his products. It is a most disgraceful thing for an intelligent government to permit."

The major contention of backers of the plan is that there is at present no standard grading system, and that tobacco producers have, therefore, no advance reliable knowledge of what

Mrs. Waley To Go On Trial On July 5th

Tacoma, Wash., June 24 (AP)—Trial of Mrs. Margaret Waley on charges of kidnaping and conspiracy in the $200,000 abduction of nine-year-old George Weyerhaeuser was set by Judge E. E. Cushman in Federal court here today for July 5.

Mrs. Waley, whose husband already is in McNeil island Federal prison serving a sentence of 45 years for the kidnaping, was not in the courtroom. She spent the week-end in the Thurston county jail.

Upon the request of Stephen J. O'Brien, Tacoma attorney appointed by the court to represent Mrs. Waley, Judge Cushman said actual taking of testimony would not begin until July 7.

Empanelling of a jury and other preliminaries will occupy the court until that date, the judge indicated.

Report 11 New Cases Paralysis

Raleigh, June 24.—(AP)—The State Board of Health today reported eleven new cases of infantile paralysis over the week-end, raising to 205 the sufferers from the disease this year in North Carolina, with 146 having been stricken in June.

As has been the case since the disease flared up in May, nearly all of the cases came from the east central section of the State, but Burke and Richmond counties each reported its first case.

Other counties reporting additional cases were Wake, two, and one each Lenoir, Granville, Franklin, Edgecombe, Duplin, Durham and Bladen.

"There were only eleven cases reported in our Sunday and Monday mail, which is a little better than it has been," Dr. Carl V. Reynolds, State health officer, said.

The prevalence of the disease appears to continue to center in the most central part of the State.

Becomes Historic Document

TO THE CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES: As the fiscal year draws to its close it becomes our duty to consider the broad question of tax methods and policies. I wish to acknowledge the timely efforts of the Congress to lay the basis through its committees for administrative improvements, by careful study of the revenue systems of our own and of other countries. These studies have made it very clear that we need to simplify and clarify our revenue laws. The Joint Legislative Committee, established by the Revenue Act of 1926, has been particularly helpful to the Treasury Department. The members of that Committee have generously consulted with administrative officials, not only on broad questions of important and difficult tax cases. On the basis of the information furnished to me by officials of the Treasury Department, I am convinced that the present law, under the present law, would be reduced. I am convinced that I considered such taxes necessary to the financing of the budget for 1936. I am gratified that the Congress is taking action on this recommendation.

Message of President Roosevelt to Congress, asking for laws to distribute wealth more widely, is already taking its place as one of the most historic of American state papers. Here are reproductions of the beginning and end of the original manuscript.

Third Death From Feud In Kentucky

Manchester, Ky., June 24.—(AP)—Earl Porter was reported shot to death early today, marking the third fatal shooting in a week in feud-ridden Clay county.

A week ago James Cupp was slain in the mountains of this county, and on Saturday Bobby Baker was shot to death on main street here.

Porter was reported slain along a creek near Portersburg. Meanwhile, officials demanded today a special term of Clay Circuit Court to investigate violence in the community. The officials, however, condemned statements in a report emanating outside the county which they said gave an unfair picture of the conditions.

NRA HEADQUARTERS CHEERY AS MORGUE

Problem of Ousting 3,500 Jobholders Gives Congressmen the Creeps

By CHARLES F. STEWART Washington, June 24.—A morgue is as cheery a place as NRA's offices and corridors in the commerce department building these days.

However, like many an undertaker, James L. O'Neill, in charge of the job of burying the blue eagle's remains by degrees, is a smiling individual. His smile is sympathetic, to be sure. Nevertheless he smiles as he proceeds with his task of preparing 3,500 or so of blue eagle functionaries for the tomb—the official tomb that is to say.

It not only is a monumental piece of undertaking; it is record breaking in another respect. Since the dawn of American history no government

HAUPTMANN CASE SHARPLY ATTACKED

English Barrister Says Such Procedure Forbidden in Great Britain

By LESLIE RICHEL New York, June 24.—Now that the evidence in the trial last January of Bruno Richard Hauptmann is sifted by a higher court, an interesting analysis of the case is called for.

This analysis appeared last Feb. 21, in The Daily Express of London. It was entitled, "Was Hauptmann Innocent?" and it was signed "by an eminent barrister."

"I have just been weighing up the evidence in the trial of Richard Hauptmann for the murder of the infant Charles Lindbergh," said the writer.

Senator Robinson Wants Measure Gotten Out Of Way To Remove Uncertainties

Head of That Body Talks Boldly at White House; Wagner Labor Bill Still Held Up for Want of Agreement in Conference; Coal Bill Also Held Up

Washington, June 24.—(AP)—Democratic leaders announced today they would confer with President Roosevelt at 5 p. m. on whether the executive wanted his new wealth tax program put through at this session.

The conference will be attended by Senator Robinson, the Democratic leader; Speaker Byrnes, Chairman Harrison, of the Senate Finance Committee, and Chairman Doughton, of the House Ways and Means Committee.

Robinson expressed the individual opinion that Congress should enact the proposal for higher levies on corporation and individual incomes at this session to avoid leading the country in a state of uncertainty. If this policy is adhered to, Robinson thought it would take another month before Congress could adjourn, or about the middle of August.

The Senate continued debate on the $1,000,000,000 farm tenant aid bill and the House devoted itself to minor legislation.

Other developments: Administration opposition to the amended Tennessee Valley Authority extension bill, as approved by the House Military Committee, was voiced at the White House by Dr. Arthur Morgan, chairman of the Authority.

Mussolini Won't Discuss Ethiopia Row With Britain

Rome, June 24 (AP)—Well informed sources said today that Premier Mussolini, in conference with Captain Anthony Eden of Great Britain is prepared to demand exclusion of Ethiopia from the League of Nations if the British government raises the subject of the Italo-Ethiopian conflict and its affect upon the League.

Officials said they hoped the subject would not be brought up between the two statesmen.

The two foregathered at Venezia palace this morning and conversed for two hours on the Anglo-German naval pact and the proposed western European aviation agreement.

Italian sources said II Duce turned a deaf ear to Eden's explanations of Great Britain's naval accord with Germany.
