TODAY'S HOROSCOPE

Today gives an impulsive disposition, disposed to run into affairs and too often, soon falling out of them. The nature is affectionate and probably demonstrative, but inclined to wail over troubles that are really too small to notice. In many cases, good fortune may follow, through enthusiasm for a certain variety of work

Aug. 9, 1593-An infant was born in Stafford, England, destined to befamous as Izaak Walton. Names of his parents are unknown. London linen-draper who yearned for years for green fields and quiet streams, he retired at 50 to live on the country and, exultant in his resultant satisfaction, was moved to write his reflections. He penned a book about fishing that made him an immortal: The Compleat Angler, or Contemplative Man's Recreation, one of the most popular books of all time. First edition of this classic was pubished when he was 60.

Aug. 9, 1718-A human being free from personal vanity revealed herself. In a letter of this date, the second Duchesse d'Orleans, Charlotte Elizabeth of Bavaria, said:

"I must certainly be monstrously ugly. I never had a good feature. My eyes are small, my nose short and thick, my lips broad and thin. These their paper changed, please state in are not materials to form a beauti-their communication both the OLD ful face. Then I have flaggy, lank cheeks, and long features, which suit ill with my low stature. My waist and legs are equally clumsy. Undoubtedly I must appear to be an odius little wretch; and had I not a tolerably good character, no creature could endure me. I am sure that a person must be conquror to judge by my eyes that I have a grain of wit. Such ingenuous disclaimers from the Duchesse were frequent, and brought her attention in all the gossipy courts of Europe. They caused admirers to come from far and near

Aug. 9, 1642—The country acquir ed its first "Old Grads." Harvard College, first institution of higher earning in the 13 colonies, had its first commencement, and a class of nine received degrees from President Henry Dunster, who was subsequent ly forced to resign because he neglected the baptism of one of his children. Aug. 9, 1859-The first passenger elevator was patented by Otis Tufts of Boston, who called it a "vertical crew railway" and sold it to a hotel It was operated by steam, and did not carry passengers down.

THE WORLD WAR 20 YEARS AGO TODAY

Aug. 9, 1915-The western front ewakened. The Germans had delivered a violent attack near Hooge, sap ped up close to the line, and launched a torrent of liquid fire pumped from machines and ignited in its pas The combination of artillery bombardment, liquid fire, trenchmortars, and bombs naturally was irresistible and a British battalion lwas wiped out. Germans carried use of ether as anesthetic, whose life Thereupon the Germans began to was embittered and improverished by shell the region and turned the Zou-

In 1822 Peter barbed wire-entanglements and the bodies of unburied dead, British infantry swept forward. The range of their own artillery gradually lengthened, the men poured into the German trenches, and with bayonet and bomb cleared them. Throughout the day the strenggle continued. By night fall, the British had restored the Hooge part of the front, and more than 2.000 of their men had joined

For days thereafter the recently quiescent western front rumbled with activity.

WRITING WRONGS

You're in error if you believe-That snakes charm birds. They don't, J. P. Ewing, Pasadena, Calif., observes.

In 1919, a Moroccan chieftain, Abdel-Krim, had a quarrel with General Silvestre of Spain. The result of that quarrel was war, which brought the Arab great success and it was not until the combined forces of Spain and France fought against him that he was forced to surrender. This stamp shows Reunion Island, a sun-blistered French outpost, which was chosen for life exile for this spectacular chieftain of Morocco.

RAIN BLOCKS GAME AT LA CROSSE, VA.

Tourists Go to Hillsboro Saturday, Play Bulls Two Games Here Sunday

A last minute cancellation on account of rain kept the Henderson Tourists idle yesterday when they were scheduled to make a trip to La don, Haynes and various others; but Crosse, Va., for a retun engargement Gottlieb Daimler of Germany is given with that baseball club.

The week end schedule calls for the team's appearance at Hillsbord She does! Team Stronger Manager Ed Powell stated yesterday that he has a team that is just as good as any team that has been here this season. He has bolstered his pitching staff with two new hurlers, Charles Breedlove and Ellington, who pitched for Middleburg, as well as land some more talent from the now defunct Middleburg team. The boys joined the club Wednesday afternoon but rain kept them out of action.

Charles Breedlove is a portsider the first on the roster this season. He has worked out some fine games for Middleburg in the Bright Belt League and can be counted on by the locals. Perry Ellington is an old standby having been pitching for several He loves to work, and can be counted on to give his share of vic-

AMELIA ASKS INREGULATED FLYING

Senator McCarran

Amelia Earhart Putnam

Appealing to a senate committee in Washington to withhold stern regulatory measures for aviation, Amelia Earhart Putnam, world's greatest woman flyer, is shown looking over proposed legislation with Senator Pat McCarran of Nevada. Amelia urged aviation be given five more years "to carry on laboratory experimentation" before passing strict regulatory laws. While Amelia was urging "open competition" the senate, however, was passing a measure giving the government strong authority over airmail operators,
