Baron Muzzi Falconi, consul at Dire Dawa, who has been in the Italian hospital here from bullet wounds he is said to have suffered accidentally on his way to that post, will leave for Italy September 15.

Italy and Ethiopia were asked by the League of Nations Council committee today not to resort to force in their dispute pending efforts of a five

Roosevelt Starts His Rest Period

President Relaxes With Breathing Spell After Job Is Finished

Hyde Park, N. Y., Sept. 7.—(AP)—President Roosevelt turned to real vacation today, with congressional work ended and a "breathing spell" declared for the nation. He will be engaged for the next few weeks in just what he suggested to the nation in his letter yesterday to Roy W. Howard, publisher of the Scripps-Howard newspapers. That is, standing upon the "basic program of the New Deal," which he regards as enacted. He is planning upon a motor trip late this afternoon to the farm home of Henry Morgenthau, secretary of the treasury, in Dutchess county. A clam bake has been planned there for the President and Mrs. Roosevelt, friends and newspaper men accompanying the party here. Mr. Roosevelt's concern at this time is putting into operation the one-year $1,000,000,000 works-relief program. Harry L. Hopkins, administrator of the works program is with him.

ADDED TEACHERS TO BE NECESSARY

Change in First Grade Entrance Requirements To Increase Rolls

Raleigh, Sept. 7.—Many additional teachers will be necessary to take care of the increased number of children expected to be in the first grade this fall as a result of the action by the State School Commission in changing the entrance requirements so that any children who become six years of age by January 15, 1936, may enter the first grade this fall, according to LeRoy Martin, who will serve his last day as secretary of the commission Monday. The old regulations were that only those children who become six years of age prior to November 15 may enter the first grade. "We will have no way of knowing how many additional first grade teachers will be required as a result of this change in the entrance requirements for first graders, but as a conservative estimate I would say we will have to employ at least 100 more teachers than we have been planning to," Martin said. "The superintendent in Durham told me this

The governor said he had directed the State highway patrol to turn back any fruit which does not have maturity test stamps. "If the commissioner of agriculture does not see fit to enforce the inspection law, and protect the citrus industry, I will do so myself," the governor said. Baton Rouge, La., Sept. 7.—(AP)—Louisiana legislators were flocking into the capital today for an extraordinary session of the State legislature, which reliable reports said would be formally called during the day for 10 o'clock tonight. Senator Huey P. Long, who has taken the floor and directed a series of past whirlwind sessions in person, arrived in Baton Rouge this morning and went to work completing his bills for submission. The legislators were told informally today to assemble for the special session tonight. The session is the fourth this year, and the tenth in the past 18 months, most of which passed Long-requested legislation in the minimum time of five days and then went home. The law-makers will meet, barring a last-minute change in Long's plans, to enact legislation designed to help the city of New Orleans in its tangled financial condition, according to reports current about the State House

MANY PLEAS FOR NEW ROADS MADE

Highway Commission's Time Largely Devoted to Hearing Delegations

Raleigh, Sept. 7.—Virtually the entire time of the State Highway and Public Works Commission, in session here Thursday and Friday, was taken up in hearing numerous delegations from many different sections of the State in the now well-known "Oliver Twist act" of "Please sir, we want some more." These delegations asked for only some $15,000,000 worth of new roads. Within the past two years, various delegations have requested the highway commission to build more than $300,000,000 worth of new roads. Yet the maximum available for new highway construction this year and next, including the Federal grants which have to be expended under Federal regulations, is only $15,000,000 a year. Of this amount, approximately $6,000,000 a year must be spent on the Federal Aid system and about $9,000,000 on WPA-Relief projects, half of which must be grade crossing elimination projects. "We are still trying to spread what money is available as thinly as possible and thus take in as much territory and as many projects as possible," Chairman Capus M. Wayne, said today. "But when almost every dollar has to be spent in conformance

NEWMAN NOT OUT OF LT.-GOV. RACE

Wilmington Solon Reticent About Specific Plans for Next Year

Raleigh, Sept. 7.—State Senator Harris Newman, of Wilmington, New Hanover county, is by no means out of the contest for the nomination for Lieutenant Governor in spite of the efforts of a good many people to count him out of it and make it appear he is running for something else, many of his friends here are convinced following his visit here yesterday. In fact, if Newman runs for any office at all he will run for Lieutenant Governor or nothing, a number of those who talked with him are convinced. For while Newman was directly whether he would or is understood to have declined to answer would not run for Lieutenant Governor, he did state definitely that he would not seek the speakership of the 1937 house under any circumstances, even if he should be a candidate for the 1937 house. While Newman declined to discuss the possibility of his candidacy for lieutenant governor with news correspondents here, there are very definite indications that unusually strong pressure is coming from every direction of the state and from many with very substantial influence, his friends maintain. One reason for the renewed insistence that Newman become a candidate, according to observers here, is the increasing likelihood that Representative W. J. Lumpkin, of Louisville, anti-sales tax leader in the Brodsky in New York City yesterday when he dismissed charges against five men arrested in the Bremen incident. State Department officials had no immediate comment. Berlin, Sept. 7.—(AP)—The propaganda minister disclosed today that Da. Hans Luther, German ambassador to Washington, has been instructed to protest the dismissal at New York yesterday of charges of

ALBERTA'S SOCIAL PLAN IS WATCHED

Nobody Here Understands $25 Monthly Scheme; Originator May Not

Washington, Sept. 7.—Treasury officials are not a little afraid of the Canadian province of Alberta's experiment with the "credit bonus" plan. What they fear is that the "credit bonus" idea will spread into the United States, maybe. It sounds to them like an idea that should have a strong appeal to a certain type of mentality. In fact, they know that it does, in Alberta; at the recent election there the Social Credit party, which advocates the plan, won 57 out of 63 seats in the provincial legislature. The treasury's economists sense the peril that the germs will be waited across the line—which is only an imaginary one, between Alberta and Montana. These experts don't understand the plan at all. All they are sure of is that it is expected to pay a "basic dividend" of $25 monthly to each adult citizen of the province, and, to young folk under 21, of $5 to $20, ranging upward according to age. WHO RAISES MONEY? But this does not explain the sys-

POLICE JUDGE MAY BALK OVER PATROL

Farmer Hears One Court Won't Convict Drivers Nabbed by Patrol

Raleigh, Sept. 7.—A police court judge in a certain city in the State is understood to have announced that he will not convict any drivers brought into his court by highway patrolmen for violation of State highway and motor vehicle laws unless the testimony of the highway patrol officer is substantiated by the city patrolman. The reason for the statement by this judge, it is understood, was that he had the impression the highway patrol was going to make wholesale arrests for traffic violations all over the State. But this is not the case, according to Captain Charles D. Farmer, commander of the patrol. "We are very sorry that any judge in the State has an attitude of this kind towards the patrol, since our patrolmen cannot do anything to reduce accidents and law violations unless they have the complete support of the judges and courts over the State," Captain Farmer said. "For it is useless for a patrolman to arrest drivers if the courts will not convict them. We might as well not

With the James river at 22-foot stage at 8 a. m. today, Richmond's $90,000 pumping station and a 55-acre sewage system was sandbagged against the rising water.
