CHURCH SOCIETIES
ANNOUNCEMENTS

SWANS.

I order my thoughts to keep pace with the morning;
I order my thoughts till they move at command.

I have been long in a world of star quiet.
The sun! The sun is flooding the land!

My self is not eager to leave the sweet quiet.
But I am awake and the day has begun.

White swans in a silent procession are moving Across a round lake, a round lake in the sun.

Carving green shore is a circle that holds them White swans move on till they reach a green arc.
Slowly then turning, they make a new crossing—Dark unto daylight and daylight to dark.

Mrs. Crowder Has
The Sorosis Club

Mrs. T. H. Crowder was hostess to the Sorosis Club at its regular meeting Thursday afternoon. Mrs. H.
Bass presided over the meeting due to the absence of the president and announced the program for the afternoon. "Southern Cities of Yesterday and Today," continuing our study for the year, "The South." Mrs. Paul Cummings gave a most interesting paper on Charleston one of our most historic cities, and told of her visit there and to the famous gardens in that vicinity. Mrs. J.
C. Gardner's paper was on Savannah and told of the many points of interest in that city. At the close of her talk she handed out pamphlets to each member on "What To See When Visiting Savannah," illustrated with pictures.
Roll call followed in which each member told of a point of interest of some southern city. Those mentioned were Raleigh, Winston-Salem, Richmond, Baltimore, Fort Worth and Dallas Texas Baton Rouge, La., and many others.
Mrs. Crowder assisted by Mrs.
Crews and little Harold Crowder, served meat and salad plates to the club members.

Organization Of
M. E. Young People

The annual reorganization of the Young People's Department of the First Methodist Episcopal church took place last Sunday morning at the assembly period. The following officers were elected to serve until October, 1936: President, Lillian Kearney; Vice-President, Sadie B. Parham; Secretary, Elizabeth Jenkins; Treasurer, Bessie Mae Johnson and Publicity Agent, George Culbreth.
Thursday evening, October 10, the executive committee, composed of the above officers met and appointed the department chairmen as follows: Worship, Alice Mabry; Citizenship and Community Service, Elsie Powell; Recreation and Personal Development, Ruth Allen; Missions and World Friendship, Elizabeth Branch.
According to the decision of the young people Sunday morning, to have a unionized program, the executive committee plans to emphasize short devotionals at the morning hour, with the classes taking most of the time, and thoroughly prepared and interesting worship services in the evening at 8:45 o'clock.
The unionized plans has not been tried in this church before and its success depends upon the support the members give their officers in all of their projects for progress.

Memorial Held For
Mrs. W. T. Rowland

During the exercises of the D. A. R.
District Meeting held yesterday at the West End Country Club, memorial exercises were held at twelve o'clock for a beloved member, Mrs. Ida Beardsley Rowland, whose tragic death occurred the day previous.
At the noon hour, all business ceased and amidst an intense silence, Mrs. J. M. Peace entered from the front, bearing a beautiful floral design, and marched slowly down the center aisle to the rostrum, then turning, faced the audience, where she stood holding the emblem throughout the exercises. Rev. I. W. Hughes read a Scripture lesson and made a short talk about Mrs. Rowland, her loyalty and helpfulness at all times to the D. A. R. Society, her wonderful ability combined with so much sweetness of character, her home life and her church work.
After the benediction, nearly a hundred Daughters remained standing paying a silent tribute to their deceased sister, while Scout Billy Powell sounded Taps.
The Old Bute Chapter attended the funeral in a body and the Regent placed the emblem on the grave.

Dredges Start At Once At Morehead

that Colonel Hackett advised General Markham that "if you desire, you may now safely proceed with the dredging work."
This letter, authorizing the U. S.
Army engineers to go ahead with the dredging of the channel whenever they see fit, undoubtedly means that we are just about at the end of the red tape through which we have been struggling for two years in an effort to make the Morehead City port a reality." Governor Ehrnighaus said today. "I do not possibly see how any thing more can now develop to delay either the construction of the port terminal itself or the dredging of the channel."

Coincident with the instructions to the Army engineers to proceed with the dredging of the Morehead City channel, the PWA released to them the allotment of approximately $1, 500,000 which was set aside for this work.

In addition to the dredging of the channel to a minimum depth of 30 feet at low tide, announcement was made several weeks ago by Senator J. W. Bailey that the U. S. engineers had decided to flank the channel with 3,000 feet of granite jetties where it will cross the bar opposite Fort Macon and the other points across the inlet. The channel will have a minimum width of 100 feet. When completed it will make it possible for all the larger ocean-going ships, both coastwise and foreign, to enter the Morehead City port without the need of a pilot. It is only three miles from the open sea to the port terminal site.

Sixth District Meeting
D. A. R. Held Yesterday

The Old Bute Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, entertained the Sixth District, at the West End Country Club, yesterday. The meeting opened at ten-thirty with the assembly call by Scout Billy Powell, after which the processional entered by the pages and color bearers.
Mrs. D. Boyd Kimball, Jr., and Mrs.
T. S. Kittrell carrying "Old Glory" and the North Carolina flag. Then followed Mrs. Maurice O'Neil, Regent of Old Bute and Mrs. John D. Cooper, past Regent of Old Bute; Mrs. C.
H. Stevens, State treasurer; Mrs.
Eugene Davis, State recording secretary; Mrs. Benjamin Wyche, State corresponding secretary; Mrs. C. M.
Brewer, district chairman; Rev. I. W.
Hughes, Mrs. Sydney Perry Cooper, honorary State Regent; Mrs. Isaac Manning, vice Regent; and Mrs. William Belk, State Regent.
The meeting was called to order by Mrs. S. P. Cooper, Honorary Chapter Regent, who led the D. A. R. Ritual.
Rev. I. W. Hughes made the invitation, which was followed by the American Creed and flag salute, led by the District Chairman. The assembly then sang "The Star Spangled Banner;" Mrs. I. W. Hughes, pianist.
Mrs. Cooper then made a very graceful and interesting address to the Sixth District, as their past Regent, announcing that at twelve o'clock, there would be a pause in the exercises, at which time a memorial service would be held for Mrs. W. T.
Rowland, whose tragic death occur-

Wesley Class Has Delightful Party

On last Tuesday evening the Whitmore Wesley Class of the First M. E. church had a most delightful Poly-anna party; meeting with Mrs. Mary F. Green at the home of Mrs. R. S.
Johnson on William street.
Mrs. Charlton Durant and Mrs. W.
J. Parham registered each member as she entered, and about seventy-five or eighty members and friends were present. The devotionals consisted of a song and prayer by all, after which Miss Grace Galbreth took charge of the program, which was carried out in the form of a broadcast. The song, "Let Me Call You Sweetheart," was dedicated to the class teachers, Mrs.
J. C. Cooper, Mrs. J. Y. Paris, and Mrs. Sam Peace.
The following program was enjoyed by all: Solo, "Juanita" by Mrs. T.
H. King; violin solo, "My Old Kentucky Home," by Miss Ruth Allen; reading by Mrs. C. E. Ellis; double quartet, "Old Black Joe," Mrs. T. H.
King, Mrs. D. Hocutt, Mrs. M. S.
Fowler, Mrs. J. C. Mann, Mrs. Henry Stallings, Miss Ruth Allen, Miss Lil-

RECREATION AREA
PURCHASE OKEYED

Government To Buy 6,000 Acres Between Raleigh and Durham

Daily Dispatch Bureau,
In the Sir Walter Hotel,
BY J. C. BASKERVILLE,

Raleigh, Oct. 12.—Purchase of 6, 000 acres of land in the Wake county between Raleigh and Durham, to be developed as a recreational area has been authorized, it was announced today by James M. Gray, regional director of the division of land utilization, Resettlement Administration.
An allocation of $84,000 has been made for this project and the acreage selected for purchase. All land being acquired has been voluntarily offered for sale to the government by its owners, who will be paid for their land when the titles are approved by the office of the U. S. Attorney General.

The project, known as the Crabtree Creek Industrial Recreational area, is being undertaken by the Resettlement Administration as part of its program demonstrating better uses for land. Most of the land selected for the Crabtree project consists of farms which have been reduced to an unprofitable condition by severe erosion. The co-operation of the National Park Service will be enlisted in the development of the recreational features of the project.
"Crabtree Creek provides an excellent example of how poor land can be utilized for benefit of the community," Gray said. Farmers now living on land selected for purchase are glad to sell out and move to more productive lands. Needless to say, the people of Raleigh and Durham will appreciate this addition to their recreational facilities which are now so inadequate.

Special efforts will be made by the National Park Service for the development of the Crabtree Creek area for families of lower income in the surrounding industrial towns. Co-operation will be sought from the various social agencies in these cities through which arrangements may be made to help families enjoy short vacation periods in the new park area.

room of the school. Miss Jean Dunn, the last to remain standing, was awarded a box of candy.

Italian Minister Fortifies Himself In Legation House

The Italian armies on the northern front.
Italian officers said they believed that with the surrender of Degiac Haile Selassie Gugsa and Degiac Kassara Araia, with 15,000 riflemen, the way was opened to Makale and the entire Tigre region would soon be in Italy's hands.
General Emilio de Bono, commander of the Italian forces in the north, and his officers hoped Degiac Gugsa's influence as a cousin of former Emperor Johannes and a relative of the present emperor would induce further defections in Ethiopian ranks.

flation, putting it altogether out of control. (There are many plans in the farm regions.)
And the Supreme Court, itself, might find itself checked by a surge of farmers and workers toward constitutional amendments curbing its power.

Thus, at present, the President is on the popular economic side. The "balanced budget" pleas of his opponents carry little weight with the mass of people, who are thinking up new schemes to unbalance the budget still further.
AN EXCELLENT REVIEW
A bird's-eye-view of the world economic situation is presented by Dr.
Melchior Palyl, guest professor at the University of Chicago and former economist for the Deutsche bank in Berlin.

We take the liberty of quoting from an interview with Dr. Palyl by Howard Wood, financial editor of the Chicago Tribune, because it is a concise review of the entire situation.

Mr. Wood's article reads:
"Every important nation, with the possible exception of Great Britain, Dr. Palyl points out, is still spending much more than it receives in revenues, borrowing to cover the deficit.
In the United States the government is borrowing from the banks, with a consequent inflation of bank deposits paralleling the rise in the national debt.

"In central European countries, including Italy, where banks are either unwilling or unable to lend to their governments, he says, the governments have hit upon the ingenious scheme of simply confiscating the hoards and bank deposits of private corporations and individuals, giving them government bonds in exchange.
Then as the governments spend the money on public works or boonodoggling and it is re-deposited in banks it is confiscated again and resented by the government. Each time, however, there is less to confiscate."

QUEEN'S CONTEST IS REPORTED AS CLOSE

Louisburg, Henderson and Wise Vying for First Place in Fair Contest

Much interest is being taken in the Queen's Contest conducted for the Golden Belt Fair which will open in Henderson one week from Monday and continue throughout the week.

Not only do all young ladies in the contest take part in the coronation ceremony on the last night of the fair, but each one receives her beautiful gift in accordance to the number of her votes.

Already invitations have gone out to the candidates to plan for their own representatives to assist the committee and the tellers in the final count, as balloting will be carried out in a dignified, quiet manner on the closing night. This form of balloting is known as "blind voting" and not the bizarre "auction voting" which is usually resorted to.

Ballets will be counted again on Tuesday and Friday next week, then daily during the week of the fair.

Due to numbers of the young ladies not having an opportunity to get their votes in yesterday, it was decided to indicate only the relatives order of standing by the following groupings: Group 1: "Miss Louisburg;" Katherine Weathers; "Miss Henderson;" Lillian Kearney; "Miss Wise;" Louise Holt Cole.
Group 2: "Miss Middleburg;" Rebecca Floyd; "the Misses Henderson," Betsy Goodrich, Elizabeth Rowland, Edna Goodrich, Edna Davis, Vivian Lowry, and Dorothy Hunt; "Miss Epsom," Vernelle Frazier.

Group 3: "Miss Creedmoor;" Mary Agnes Rogers; "Miss Franklinton;" Leah Hicks; "Miss Norlina;" Alyce Mae Burchette; "Miss Oxford;" Mary Helen Currin; "Miss Stem;" Norma Tillery; "Miss Townsville;" Mary Tucker; "Miss Warrenton;" Frances Reid; "Miss Warren Plains;" Ethel Mae King.—Reported.
